IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

15        This case was reassigned to the undersigned judge on November 24, 2008. (Doc.# 16 13.)<sup>1</sup> Plaintiff William Nible, who is confined in the Kern Valley State Prison (KVSP), and 17 three other inmates filed a joint complaint in Nible v. Warden, case no. CV 08-00627-LJO-18 DLB, seeking relief pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. (Doc.# 1.) The Court severed the 19 plaintiffs' claims into separate actions and ordered each of the plaintiffs to file an amended 20 complaint in their respective cases. Plaintiff has filed a First Amended Complaint. (Doc.# 21 9.) The Court will dismiss the First Amended Complaint with leave to amend.

22 || I. Statutory Screening of Prisoner Complaints

23        The Court is required to screen complaints brought by prisoners seeking relief against 24        a governmental entity or an officer or an employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C.

1       § 1915A(a). The Court must dismiss a complaint or portion thereof if a plaintiff has raised 2 claims that are legally frivolous or malicious, that fail to state a claim upon which relief may 3 be granted, or that seek monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief.
4 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(b)(1), (2). If the Court determines that a pleading could be cured by the 5 allegation of other facts, a pro se litigant is entitled to an opportunity to amend a complaint
6 before dismissal of the action. See Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127-29 (9th Cir. 2000)
7 (en banc). The Court should not, however, advise the litigant how to cure the defects. This 8 type of advice “would undermine district judges’ role as impartial decisionmakers.” Pliler 9 v. Ford, 542 U.S. 225, 231 (2004); see also Lopez, 203 F.3d at 1131 n.13 (declining to decide 10 whether the court was required to inform a litigant of deficiencies). Plaintiff’s First 11 Amended Complaint will be dismissed for failure to state a claim with leave to amend 12 because the First Amended Complaint may possibly be saved by amendment.

13 II. First Amended Complaint

14       Plaintiff alleges state and federal claims for denial of access to the courts based upon 15 an inadequate law library and failure to provide supplies at KVSP. Plaintiff sues: an 16 unnamed “Warden”; Grievance Co-ordinators B. Gracewich and C. Pfieffer; Librarian K.
17 Spray; Senior Librarians Olsen and Christensen; Corrections Officer Garza; and “Doe’s”.
18 Plaintiff seeks punitive damages and declaratory and injunctive relief.

19 III. General Deficiencies in the First Amended Complaint

20       A. Claims of Other Inmates

21       Plaintiff repeatedly refers to “all plaintiffs” and “Plaintiffs” in his First Amended 22 Complaint. A “plaintiff generally must assert his own legal rights and interests, and cannot 23 assert the legal rights or interests of third parties.” Mothershed v. Justices of the Supreme 24 Court, 410 F.3d 602, 610 (9th Cir. 2005) (quoting Warth v. Seldin, 422 U.S. 490, 499 25 (1975)). Accordingly, to the extent that Plaintiff asserts any claim on behalf of other 26 individuals, his First Amended Complaint is dismissed.

27       B. Fictitiously Named and Unnamed Defendants

28       Plaintiff names “Doe’s, Et al” and “Warden” as Defendants. Plaintiff fails to allege 1 how any particular Doe Defendant or warden allegedly violated his constitutional rights.

2 Generally, the use of anonymous appellations to identify defendants is not favored. Rule 3 10(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure requires the plaintiff to include the names of 4 the parties in the action. As a practical matter, it is impossible in most instances for the 5 United States Marshal or his or her designee to serve a summons and complaint or amended 6 complaint upon an anonymous defendant.

7 The Ninth Circuit has held that where identity is unknown prior to the filing of a 8 complaint, the plaintiff should be given an opportunity through discovery to identify the 9 unknown defendants, unless it is clear that discovery would not uncover the identities, or that 10 the complaint would be dismissed on other grounds. Wakefield v. Thompson, 177 F.3d 11 1160, 1163 (9th Cir. 1999) (citing Gillespie v. Civiletti, 629 F.2d 637, 642 (9th Cir. 1980)).
12 Plaintiff may use the discovery processes to obtain the names of the persons whom he 13 believes violated his constitutional rights. If Plaintiff discovers the identities of these 14 fictitious defendants through the discovery process, or otherwise, he may seek leave of the 15 Court to amend to name these individuals.

16 IV. Failure to State a Claim Under § 1983

17 Plaintiff in part seeks relief for violation of his federal constitutional rights. To state 18 a claim under § 1983, a plaintiff must allege facts to support that (1) the conduct about which 19 he complains was committed by a person acting under the color of state law and (2) the 20 conduct deprived him of a federal constitutional or statutory right. Wood v. Ostrander, 879
21 F.2d 583, 587 (9th Cir. 1989). In addition, to state a valid constitutional claim, a plaintiff 22 must allege that he suffered a specific injury as a result of the conduct of a particular 23 defendant and he must allege an affirmative link between the injury and the conduct of that 24 defendant. Rizzo v. Goode, 423 U.S. 362, 371-72, 377 (1976).

25 A. Failure to Affirmatively Link Defendants to any Constitutional Violation

26 Plaintiff sues several named Defendants. Although the named Defendants may 27 properly be sued for constitutional violations, Plaintiff fails to state a claim against any of 28 them. “A plaintiff must allege facts, not simply conclusions, that show that an individual was 1 personally involved in the deprivation of his civil rights.” Barren v. Harrington, 152 F.3d

2 1193, 1194 (9th Cir. 1998). For an individual to be liable in his official capacity, a plaintiff
3 must allege that the official acted as a result of a policy, practice, or custom. See Cortez v.
4 County of Los Angeles, 294 F.3d 1186, 1188 (9th Cir. 2001). Further, there is no respondeat 5 superior liability under § 1983, so a defendant’s position as the supervisor of someone who 6 allegedly violated a plaintiff’s constitutional rights does not make him liable. Monell v.
7 Dep’t of Soc. Servs., 436 U.S. 658, 691 (1978); Taylor v. List, 880 F.2d 1040, 1045 (9th Cir.
8 1989). A supervisor in his individual capacity, “is only liable for constitutional violations 9 of his subordinates if the supervisor participated in or directed the violations, or knew of the 10 violations and failed to act to prevent them.” Taylor, 880 F.2d at 1045.

11 Plaintiff fails to allege facts to support that any Defendant enacted or enforced a 12 policy, custom, or practice that resulted in the denial of Plaintiff’s constitutional rights.
13 Further, Plaintiff has not alleged facts to support that any Defendant directly violated his 14 constitutional rights or to support that any Defendant was aware that Plaintiff’s rights were 15 being violated but failed to act. Thus, Plaintiff fails to state a federal constitutional claim 16 against any Defendant in his First Amended Complaint.

17 B. Grievance Procedures

18 Plaintiff in part appears to claim denial of an adequate grievance process. An inmate 19 does not have a protected liberty interest in prison grievance procedures because there is no 20 free-standing constitutional right to a grievance process. Antonelli v. Sheahan, 81 F.3d 1422, 21 1430 (7th Cir. 1996); Adams v. Rice, 40 F.3d 72, 75 (4th Cir. 1994); Buckley v. Barlow, 997
22 F.2d 494, 493 (8th Cir. 1993) (per curiam); Mann v. Adams, 855 F.2d 639, 640 (9th Cir.
23 1988). Plaintiff therefore fails to state a claim against any Defendant based upon the failure 24 to comply with prison grievance procedures.

25 C. Access to the Courts

26 Plaintiff also asserts that his federal constitutional right of access to the courts was 27 violated based upon an inadequate law library, or access thereto, and denial of legal supplies 28 at KVSP. The right of meaningful access to the courts prohibits state officials from actively

1 interfering with an inmate's attempt to prepare or to file legal documents. Lewis v. Casey, 2 518 U.S. 343, 350 (1996). That right, however, only encompasses the right to bring a 3 petition or complaint to federal court and not to discover or even effectively litigate claims 4 once filed with a court. Id. at 354; see Cornett v. Donovan, 51 F.3d 894, 899 (9th Cir. 1995)
5 ("The right of access is designed to ensure that a habeas petition or civil rights complaint of 6 a person in state custody will reach a court for consideration.") The right "guarantees no 7 particular methodology but rather, the conferral of a capability--the capability of bringing 8 contemplated challenges to sentences or conditions of confinement before the courts."
9 Lewis, 518 U.S. at 356. Further, the denial of access to a paralegal or use of a law library 10 is not actionable if there is no claim of prejudice to an existing or future legal action. Id. at 11 351-53. That is, an inmate must establish that he suffered an "actual injury" when he alleges 12 that he was denied access to a paralegal or a law library. See Vandelft v. Moses, 31 F.3d 13 794, 797 (9th Cir. 1994). An "actual injury" is "actual prejudice with respect to 14 contemplated or existing litigation, such as the inability to meet a filing deadline or present 15 a claim." Lewis, 518 U.S. at 348. In other words, a plaintiff must allege facts to support that 16 a defendant's conduct prevented him from bringing to court a non-frivolous claim that he 17 wished to present. Id. at 351-53.

18 Plaintiff fails to allege facts regarding when, how or by whom he believes he was 19 denied access to the courts. Plaintiff also fails to allege facts to support that he was actually 20 injured as a result of any alleged denial of access to a law library and/or materials with which 21 to file a complaint or other pleading; he was clearly able to file a complaint in this action.
22 Plaintiff otherwise fails to allege facts to support that the named Defendants prevented him 23 from being able to pursue remedies in court or an actual injury in connection with other 24 litigation. Plaintiff therefore fails to state a federal constitutional claim for denial of access 25 to the courts.

26 V. State Law Claims

27 Plaintiff also in part alleges violation of state law rights. Where a federal court has 28 original jurisdiction over an action, such as a case asserting violations of 42 U.S.C. § 1983,

1 the doctrine of pendent jurisdiction allows a federal court to exercise “pendent” or 2 “supplemental” jurisdiction over closely related state law claims. Bahrampour v. Lampert, 3 356 F.3d 969, 978 (9th Cir. 2004) (citing 28 U.S.C. § 1333(a)). Because Plaintiff has failed 4 to state a federal constitutional claim in his First Amended Complaint, the Court declines to 5 exercise jurisdiction over any state law claim and dismisses such claims without prejudice.
6 28 U.S.C. § 1333(c).

7 VI. Leave to Amend

8 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff’s First Amended Complaint is dismissed for 9 failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. Within 30 days, Plaintiff may 10 submit a second amended complaint on the form provided with this Order. If Plaintiff fails 11 to use the form provided with this Order, the Court may strike the second amended complaint
12 and dismiss this action without further notice to Plaintiff.

13 Plaintiff must clearly designate on the face of the document that it is the “Second 14 Amended Complaint.” The amended complaint must be retyped or rewritten in its entirety 15 on the form provided with this Order and may not incorporate any part of the prior 16 complaints by reference.

17 Plaintiff must comply with the instructions provided with the form. Plaintiff should 18 pay close attention to the instructions provided with the form. If Plaintiff fails to comply 19 with the instructions provided with the form, the Court may strike the amended complaint 20 and dismiss this action without further notice to Plaintiff.

21 Among other requirements contained in the instructions, Plaintiff is advised that the 22 instructions require him to provide information regarding the Court’s jurisdiction and about 23 the defendants, and to divide his lawsuit into separate counts. In each count, Plaintiff must 24 identify what federal constitutional civil right was violated, identify the issue most closely 25 involved in that count, state which defendants violated that right and what those defendants 26 did to violate that right, explain how Plaintiff was injured by the alleged violation of the 27 constitutional right, and identify whether Plaintiff has exhausted any available administrative 28 remedies. Plaintiff must repeat this process for each civil right that was violated. Plaintiff

1 may allege only one claim per count.

2        A second amended complaint supersedes any prior complaint. Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963
3 F.2d 1258, 1262 (9th Cir. 1992); Hal Roach Studios v. Richard Feiner & Co., 896 F.2d 1542, 4 1546 (9th Cir. 1990). After amendment, the Court will treat any prior complaint as 5 nonexistent. Ferdik, 963 F.2d at 1262. Any cause of action that was raised in a prior 6 complaint is waived if it is not raised in a second amended complaint. King v. Atiyeh, 814 7 F.2d 565, 567 (9th Cir. 1987).

8        V.      Warnings

9            A.      Address Changes

10       Plaintiff must file and serve a notice of a change of address in accordance with Rule 11 83-182(f) and 83-183(b) of the Local Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiff must not include 12 a motion for other relief with a notice of change of address. Failure to comply may result in 13 dismissal of this action.

14            B.      Copies

15       Plaintiff must submit an additional copy of every filing for use by the Court. See 16 LRCiv 5-133(d)(2). Failure to comply may result in the filing being stricken without further 17 notice to Plaintiff.

18            C.      Possible “Strike”

19       Because the First Amended Complaint has been dismissed for failure to state a claim, 20 if Plaintiff fails to file an amended complaint correcting the deficiencies identified in this 21 Order, the dismissal will count as a “strike” under the “3-strikes” provision of 28 U.S.C.
22 § 1915(g). Under the 3-strikes provision, a prisoner may not bring a civil action or appeal 23 a civil judgment in forma pauperis under 28 U.S.C. § 1915 “if the prisoner has, on 3 or more 24 prior occasions, while incarcerated or detained in any facility, brought an action or appeal 25 in a court of the United States that was dismissed on the grounds that it is frivolous, 26 malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, unless the prisoner is 27 under imminent danger of serious physical injury.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g).

28            D.      Possible Dismissal

1        If Plaintiff fails to timely comply with every provision of this Order, including these 2 warnings, the Court may dismiss this action without further notice. See Ferdik, 963 F.2d at 3 1260-61 (a district court may dismiss an action for failure to comply with any order of the 4 Court).

5 IT IS ORDERED:

6        (1)      The First Amended Complaint (doc.# 9) is dismissed for failure to state a 7 claim. Plaintiff has 30 days from the date this Order is filed to file an amended complaint 8 in compliance with this Order.

9        (2)      If Plaintiff fails to file an amended complaint within 30 days, the Clerk of 10 Court must, without further notice, enter a judgment of dismissal of this action with prejudice 11 that states that the dismissal counts as a “strike” under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g).

12        (3)      The Clerk of Court must include with this Order a copy of this judge’s required 13 form for filing a civil rights complaint by a prisoner.

14        DATED this 14th day of April, 2009.
