Plaintiff,	)	ORDER REQUIRING PLAINTIFF EITHER TO
	)	FILE AMENDED COMPLAINT OR TO NOTIFY
v.	)	COURT OF WILLINGNESS TO PROCEED ONLY
	)	ON CLAIMS IDENTIFIED HEREIN, SEVERING
KELLY HARRINGTON, et al.,	)	CONDITIONS OF CONFINEMENT CLAIM, AND
	)	DIRECTING CLERK OF COURT TO OPEN NEW
Defendants.	)	CASE
	)
	)	[ECF No. 30]

Plaintiff Robert Bishop is appearing pro se and in forma pauperis in this civil rights action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(c), Plaintiff consented to the jurisdiction of the United States Magistrate Judge on January 26, 2011. Local Rule 302.

I.
PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Plaintiff filed the instant action on January 10, 2011, and a first amended complaint on March 15, 2013. On May 10, 2013, the Court screened and dismissed Plaintiff’s amended complaint with leave to amend. (ECF No. 23.)

On June 14, 2013, Plaintiff filed a second amended complaint. On September 11, 2013, the second amended complaint was stricken from the record for failure to comply with a court order,

1 namely, the failure to provide a short and plain statement of his claims and failure to comply with the 2 joinder requirements. (ECF No. 27.)

3 Plaintiff filed a subsequent second amended complaint on November 14, 2013. (ECF No. 30.)
4 On January 8, 2014, the Court dismissed the action for Plaintiff's failure to comply with a court order.
5 (ECF No. 31.)

6 On December 4, 2014, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit reversed and 7 remanded the action finding the action was improperly dismissed for misjoinder of parties. (ECF No.
8 39.) Thus, the operative complaint before the Court is Plaintiff's second amended complaint filed
9 November 14, 2013. (ECF No. 30.)

10 II.

11 SCREENING REQUIREMENT

12 The Court is required to screen complaints brought by prisoners seeking relief against a 13 governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). The 14 Court must dismiss a complaint or portion thereof if the prisoner has raised claims that are legally 15 "frivolous or malicious," that "fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted," or that "seeks 16 monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief." 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B).

17 A complaint must contain "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is 18 entitled to relief. . . ." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). Detailed factual allegations are not required, but 19 "[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, 20 do not suffice." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 21 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)). Plaintiff must demonstrate that each named defendant personally
22 participated in the deprivation of his rights. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 676-677; Simmons v. Navajo County, 23 Ariz., 609 F.3d 1011, 1020-1021 (9th Cir. 2010).

24 Prisoners proceeding pro se in civil rights actions are still entitled to have their pleadings
25 liberally construed and to have any doubt resolved in their favor, but the pleading standard is now
26 higher, Wilhelm v. Rotman, 680 F.3d 1113, 1121 (9th Cir. 2012) (citations omitted), and to survive
27 screening, Plaintiff's claims must be facially plausible, which requires sufficient factual detail to allow 28 the Court to reasonably infer that each named defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged. Iqbal,

1 556 U.S. at 678-79; Moss v. U.S. Secret Serv., 572 F.3d 962, 969 (9th Cir. 2009). The “sheer 2 possibility that a defendant has acted unlawfully” is not sufficient, and “facts that are ‘merely 3 consistent with’ a defendant’s liability” falls short of satisfying the plausibility standard. Iqbal, 556
4 U.S. at 678; Moss, 572 F.3d at 969.

5 III.

6 COMPLAINT ALLEGATIONS

7 Plaintiff brings this action against several difference defendants at two different correctional 8 institutions alleging retaliation in violation of the First Amendment, denial of due process in violation
9 of the Fourteenth Amendment, deliberate indifference in violation of the Eighth Amendment, and 10 violations of the California Constitution.

11 Plaintiff contends that he was wrongfully removed from the general population by retaliation
12 for his active role in the prisons Inmate Advisory Council for filing inmate grievances and staff
13 complaints that had an adverse effect on Plaintiff’s welfare.

14 Upon removal from the general population, Plaintiff was housed in the administrative 15 segregation unit for over six months pending false allegations and denied his earned privileges and 16 program.

17 Plaintiff was wrongfully found guilty of false disciplinary charges without supporting 18 evidence, all of which was evident at the disciplinary hearing. Plaintiff appealed the guilty 19 disciplinary finding, and was granted a reissue/rehear for due process violations.

20 Plaintiff was again retaliated against six days after the appeal was granted by being illegally
21 transferred from Kern Valley State Prison administrative segregation unit to Corcoran State Prison 22 security housing unit.

23 Once housed at Corcoran, Plaintiff suffered adverse effects and significant hardship. Corcoran
24 staff refused to acknowledge Plaintiff’s granted appeal, thereby wrongfully removing Plaintiff’s 25 personal property and forced to mail said property home.

26 On April 9, 2010, Plaintiff was moved to a dilapidated cell within the security housing unit at 27 Corcoran with unsanitary and health and safety issues that was cruel and unusual punishment. The 28 plumbing within the cell was in such disrepair that it caused murky foul smelling sewer water to leak

1 into and form puddles on the cell floor as well as to fill a deep hole in the cell floor where there was 2 exposed rusty rebar, causing further atypical and significant hardship for Plaintiff. Plaintiff
3 complained to staff verbally and through inmate appeals and all complaints were ignored or denied.
4 Plaintiff suffered severe stomach cramps, diarrhea, mosquito bites, and fell and hit his head on the cell
5 door-splitting his scalp, injuring his neck, and left arm.

6 Plaintiff requests an award of compensatory damages, punitive damages, special damages for 7 infliction of psychological and emotional injuries, costs of the suit, and any other relief as deemed just 8 and proper.

9 IV. 10 DISCUSSION

11 A. Retaliation

12 “Prisoners have a First Amendment right to file grievances against prison officials and to be 13 free from retaliation for doing so.” Watison v. Carter, 668 F.3d 1108, 1114 (9th Cir. 2012) (citing 14 Brodheim v. Cry, 584 F.3d 1262, 1269 (9th Cir. 2009)). Also protected by the First Amendment is the 15 right to pursue civil rights litigation in federal court without retaliation. Silva v. Di Vittorio, 658 F.3d
16 1090, 1104 (9th Cir. 2011). “Within the prison context, a viable claim of First Amendment retaliation
17 entails five basic elements: (1) An assertion that a state actor took some adverse action against an 18 inmate (2) because of (3) that prisoner’s protected conduct, and that such action (4) chilled the 19 inmate’s exercise of his First Amendment rights, and (5) the action did not reasonably advance a 20 legitimate correctional goal.” Rhodes v. Robinson, 408 F.3d 559, 567-68 (9th Cir. 2005).

21 Based on Plaintiff’s allegations in the second amended complaint, he states a cognizable claim
22 for retaliation in violation of the First Amendment against Defendants Castro, Horton, Sclafani,
23 Hudson, Tyson, Soto, Harrington, Tarnoff, and Biter related to his claim of false disciplinary reports 24 and placement in administrative segregation because he filed inmate grievances.

25 B. Due Process

26 The Due Process Clause protects Plaintiff against the deprivation of liberty without the 27 procedural protections to which he is entitled under the law. Wilkinson v. Austin, 545 U.S. 209, 221
28 (2005). To state a claim, Plaintiff must first identify the interest at stake. Wilkinson, 545 U.S. at 221.

1 Liberty interests may arise from the Due Process Clause itself or from state law. Id. The Due Process
2 Clause does not confer on inmates a liberty interest in avoiding more adverse conditions of 3 confinement, and under state law, the existence of a liberty interest created by prison regulations is 4 determined by focusing on the nature of the condition of confinement at issue. Id. at 221-23 (citing
5 Sandin v. Conner, 515 U.S. 472, 481-84 (1995)) (quotation marks omitted). Liberty interests created 6 by prison regulations are generally limited to freedom from restraint which imposes atypical and 7 significant hardship on the inmate in relation to the ordinary incidents of prison life. Wilkinson, 545
8 U.S. at 221 (citing Sandin, 515 U.S. at 484) (quotation marks omitted); Myron v. Terhune, 476 F.3d
9 716, 718 (9th Cir. 2007).

10 1. Kern Valley State Prison

11 Plaintiff initially argues that his due process rights were violated by Defendants who 12 transferred him to administrative segregation based on false and unfounded allegations which were 13 later unsubstantiated. First, an “inmate has no constitutionally guaranteed immunity from being 14 falsely or wrongly accused of conduct which may result in the deprivation of a protected liberty
15 interest. The plaintiff, as all other prison inmates, has the right not to be deprived of a protected 16 liberty interest without due process of law.” Freeman v. Rideout, 808 F.2d 949, 952 (2d Cir. 1986).
17 An inmate who has been falsely accused can state a constitutional claim if the filing of the false report
18 was done in retaliation for the exercise of a constitutional right, see Hones v. Gomez, 108 F.3d 265, 19 267 (9th Cir. 1997), or the inmate is not afforded the procedural due process safeguards required by 20 Wolff,<sup>1</sup> Hanrahan v. Lane, 747 F.2d 1137, 1141 (7th Cir. 1984). Plaintiff makes no such assertion
21 and, in fact, asserts that the due process violations were resolved in his favor. Thus, Plaintiff does not 22 state a claim for Defendants’ filing of false charges against him which resulted in his placement and 23 retention in segregated housing.

24 Furthermore, the fact that Plaintiff was transferred to Corcoran State Prison does not give rise
25 to a due process violation. There is no substantive liberty interest in being housed in a particular 26 prison and an inmate has no right to incarceration in the prison of his choice. Olim v. Wakinekona,

27
28 <sup>1</sup> Wolff v. McDonnell, 418 U.S. 539 (1974).

1 461 U.S. 238, 245 (1983); White v. Lambert, 370 F.3d 1002, 1013 (9th Cir. 2004) (overruled on other
2 grounds by Hayward v. Marshall, 603 F.3d 546 (9th Cir. 2010). Neither an initial decision assigning
3 the inmate to a particular prison nor a subsequent transfer to a different prison implicates the Due 4 Process Clause. Olim, 461 U.S. at 244-245; Meachum v. Fano, 427 U.S. 215, 224 (1976); see also 5 Moody v. Daggett, 429 U.S. 78, 88 n.9 (1976).

6 1. Corcoran State Prison

7 Plaintiff proceeds to argue that once the false charges were resolved in his favor, Defendants 8 failed to acknowledge the favorable administrative grievance finding and instead transferred him to 9 Corcoran State Prison where he was subjected to further detention in the security housing unit. To the 10 extent Plaintiff seeks to state a claim based on claims arising from an alleged due process violation
11 after his appeal was granted, Plaintiff fails to set forth sufficient factual allegations. First, Plaintiff
12 does not indicate retaliation or a specific due process violation. Further, this claim involves factual
13 allegations that took place at Corcoran State Prison that are not sufficiently related to events at Kern
14 Valley State Prison, so as to raise the claim in the same action. Fed. R. Civ. P. 18(a), 20(a)(2) 15 (unrelated claims against unrelated parties may not be brought in a single action). In an abundance of 16 caution, the Court will grant Plaintiff an opportunity to amend his complaint to cure this deficiency, if 17 he feels he can do so in good faith.

18 C. Cruel and Unusual Punishment Based on Conditions in Cell

19 The Eighth Amendment's prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment protects prisoners 20 not only from inhumane methods of punishment but also from inhumane conditions of confinement.
21 Morgan v. Morgensen, 465 F.3d 1041, 1045 (9th Cir. 2006) (citing Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 22 847 (1994) and Rhodes v. Chapman, 452 U.S. 337, 347 (1981)) (quotation marks omitted). While 23 conditions of confinement may be, and often are, restrictive and harsh, they must not involve the 24 wanton and unnecessary infliction of pain. Morgan, 465 F.3d at 1045 (citing Rhodes, 452 U.S. at 347)
25 (quotation marks omitted). Thus, conditions which are devoid of legitimate penological purpose or 26 contrary to evolving standards of decency that mark the progress of a maturing society violate the 27 Eighth Amendment. Morgan, 465 F.3d at 1045 (quotation marks and citations omitted); Hope v.
28 Pelzer, 536 U.S. 730, 737 (2002); Rhodes, 452 U.S. at 346.

1 Prison officials have a duty to ensure that prisoners are provided adequate shelter, food,
2 clothing, sanitation, medical care, and personal safety, Johnson v. Lewis, 217 F.3d 726, 731 (9th Cir.
3 2000) (quotation marks and citations omitted), but not every injury that a prisoner sustains while in 4 prison represents a constitutional violation, Morgan, 465 F.3d at 1045 (quotation marks omitted). To 5 maintain an Eighth Amendment claim, a prisoner must show that prison officials were deliberately
6 indifferent to a substantial risk of harm to his health or safety. Farmer, 511 U.S. at 847; Thomas v.
7 Ponder, 611 F.3d 1144, 1150-51 (9th Cir. 2010); Foster v. Runnels, 554 F.3d 807, 812-14 (9th Cir.
8 2009); Morgan, 465 F.3d at 1045; Johnson, 217 F.3d at 731; Frost v. Agnos, 152 F.3d 1124, 1128 (9th 9 Cir. 1998).

10 Based on Plaintiff's allegations in the second amended complaint, Plaintiff states a cognizable
11 claim for relief under the Eighth Amendment against Defendants Lopez, Germond, Rodriguez, Vogel, 12 Jones, Cano, Marshall, Cruz, Tucker, Mauldin, Maita, and Dynsinki for remaining in a "dilapidated"
13 cell for eighth months with sewage leakage leading to physical injury to Plaintiff. Plaintiff alleges 14 these Defendants knew of and disregarded a substantial risk of serious harm to Plaintiff's health.
15 However, this claim may not be properly joined with his unrelated claim of retaliation against 16 Defendants Castro, Horton, Sclafani, Hudson, Tyson, Soto, Harrington, Tarnoff, and Biter, for actions
17 which took place at Kern Valley State Prison. Fed. R. Civ. P. 18(a); George v. Smith, 507 F.3d 605, 18 607 (7th Cir. 2007); see also Owens v. Hinsley, 635 F.3d 950, 952 (7th Cir. 2011) (unrelated claims 19 against different defendants belong in separate suits and complaints violating that principle should be 20 rejected). Therefore, the Court will sever the Eighth Amendment claim relating to Plaintiff's
21 conditions of confinement and direct the Clerk of Court to open a new action for Plaintiff's claim 22 against the above named Defendants.

23 D. Violation of California Constitution

24 As stated in the Court's May 10, 2013, screening order, Plaintiff is not entitled to damages for 25 a violation of the due process clause or the cruel and unusual punishment clause of the state 26 constitution. Carlsbad Aquafarm, Inc. v. State Dep't of Health Services, 83 Cal.App.4th 809, 823 (Ct.
27 App. 2000) (due process); Giraldo v. California Dep't Corrections and Rehabilitation, 168
28 Cal.App.4th 231, 256-257 (Ct. App. 2008) (cruel and unusual punishment). Accordingly, Plaintiff's

1 claims under the California Constitution were dismissed from the action, without leave to amend,
2 pursuant to the May 10, 2013, screening order. (ECF No. 23.)

3 V.

4 CONCLUSION AND ORDER

5 Plaintiff's second amended complaint states a cognizable claim for retaliation in violation of 6 the First Amendment against Defendants Castro, Horton, Sclafani, Hudson, Tyson, Soto, Harrington,
7 Tarnoff, and Biter, and a cognizable claim for conditions of confinement in violation of the Eighth
8 Amendment against Defendants Lopez, Germond, Rodriguez, Vogel, Jones, Cano, Marshall, Cruz,
9 Tucker, Mauldin, Maita, and Dynsinki. However, Plaintiff fails to state a cognizable due process
10 violation. The Court will grant Plaintiff one final opportunity to file a third amended complaint, if he 11 believes he can do so in good faith, to state a cognizable due process violation. However, Plaintiff 12 may not change the nature of this suit by adding new, unrelated claims in his amended complaint.
13 George v. Smith, 507 F.3d 605, 607 (7th Cir. 2007) (no "buckshot" complaints).

14 If Plaintiff does not wish to file an amended complaint and is agreeable to proceeding in this 15 action on the claim for retaliation against Defendants Castro, Horton, Sclafani, Hudson, Tyson, Soto,
16 Harrington, Tarnoff, and Biter, Plaintiff may so notify the Court in writing, and the Court will dismiss
17 the due process claim, and will forward Plaintiff the necessary summons and USM-285 forms for 18 completion and return. Upon receipt of the forms, the Court will direct the United States Marshal to 19 initiate service of process.

20 If Plaintiff opts to amend, his amended complaint should be brief. Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a).
21 Plaintiff must identify how each individual defendant caused the deprivation of Plaintiff's 22 constitutional or other federal rights: "The inquiry into causation must be individualized and focus on 23 the duties and responsibilities of each individual defendant whose acts or omissions are alleged to 24 have caused a constitutional deprivation." Leer v. Murphy, 844 F.2d 628, 633 (9th Cir. 1988). With 25 respect to exhibits, while they are permissible if incorporated by reference, Fed. R. Civ. P. 10(c), they 26 are not necessary in the federal system of notice pleading, Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a). In other words, it is 27 not necessary at this stage to submit evidence to prove the allegations in Plaintiff's complaint because 28 at this stage Plaintiff's factual allegations will be accepted as true.

1 Although Plaintiff’s factual allegations will be accepted as true and “the pleading standard
2 Rule 8 announces does not require ‘detailed factual allegations,’” “a complaint must contain sufficient
3 factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v.
4 Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).
5 “A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw
6 the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id. (citing Twombly, 7 550 U.S. at 556).

8 Plaintiff is advised that an amended complaint supersedes the original complaint. Forsyth v.
9 Humana, Inc., 114 F.3d 1467, 1474 (9th Cir. 1997); King v. Atiyeh, 814 F.2d 565, 567 (9th Cir. 1987).
10 The amended complaint must be “complete in itself without reference to the prior or superseded
11 pleading.” Local Rule 220. Plaintiff is warned that “[a]ll causes of action alleged in an original 12 complaint which are not alleged in an amended complaint are waived.” King, 814 F.2d at 567 (citing 13 London v. Coopers & Lybrand, 644 F.2d 811, 814 (9th Cir. 1981)); accord Forsyth, 114 F.3d at 1474.
14 In other words, even the claims that were properly stated in the original complaint must be completely
15 stated again in the amended complaint. Finally, Plaintiff is advised that, should he choose to amend, 16 he may not bring unrelated claims in the same action.

17 Based on the foregoing, it is HEREBY ORDERED that:

- 18 1. The Clerk’s Office shall send Plaintiff an amended civil rights complaint form;
- 19 2. Within thirty (30) days from the date of service of this order, Plaintiff must either:
  - 20 a. File an amended complaint curing the deficiencies identified by the Court in this 21 order, or
  - 22 b. Notify the Court in writing that he does not wish to file an amended complaint 23 and wishes to proceed in this action on his claim of retaliation against 24 Defendants Castro, Horton, Sclafani, Hudson, Tyson, Soto, Harrington, Tarnoff, 25 and Biter; and
- 26 3. Plaintiff’s Eighth Amendment claim relating to the conditions of confinement against 27 Defendants Lopez, Germond, Rodriguez, Vogel, Jones, Cano, Marshall, Cruz, Tucker, 28 Mauldin, Maita, and Dynsinki is severed from this action and the Clerk of the Court is
