Plaintiff Thomas Goolsby ("Plaintiff") is a prisoner in the custody of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation ("CDCR"). Plaintiff is proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis in this civil rights action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Plaintiff filed this action on October 25, 2011.

On January 18, 2013, the Court screened his complaint and found a cognizable First Amendment retaliation claim against Defendants Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Tyree, Medrano, Holland and Steadman. The Court ordered Plaintiff to either file a first amended complaint or notify the Court of willingness to proceed on the cognizable claim.

1 On February 6, 2013, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint (“FAC”). He names
2 CDCR Director Matthew Cate, CCI Warden M. Stainer, CCI Chief Deputy Wardens K. Holland
3 T. Steadman, Captain J. Gutierrez, CCI Lieutenants E. Noyce and J. Tyree, CCI Investigators C.
4 A. Eubanks and B. Medrano, Reviewers Jakabosky and Buechner and Counselor Holman as 5 Defendants.¹

6 A. LEGAL STANDARD

7 The Court is required to screen complaints brought by prisoners seeking relief against a
8 governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a).

9 The Court must dismiss a complaint or portion thereof if the prisoner has raised claims that are 10 legally “frivolous or malicious,” that fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or 11 that seek monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C.

12 § 1915A(b)(1),(2). “Notwithstanding any filing fee, or any portion thereof, that may have been 13 paid, the court shall dismiss the case at any time if the court determines that . . . the action or 14 appeal . . . fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.” 28 U.S.C.

15 § 1915(e)(2)(B)(ii).

16 A complaint must contain “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the 17 pleader is entitled to relief . . .” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). Detailed factual allegations are not 18 required, but “[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere 19 conclusory statements, do not suffice.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (citing Bell 20 Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550.S. 544, 555 (2007)). Plaintiff must set forth “sufficient factual
21 matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Id. (quoting 22 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570). While factual allegations are accepted as true, legal conclusions are 23 not. Id.

28 ¹ Plaintiff consented to the jurisdiction of the United States Magistrate Judge on December 5, 2011.

1 B. SUMMARY OF COMPLAINT

2 Plaintiff is currently housed at Pelican Bay State Prison. The events he complains of 3 occurred while he was incarcerated at CCI in Tehachapi, California.

4 Plaintiff alleges that Defendants Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Tyree and Medrano initiated a
5 validation packet against him on the orders of Defendants Holland and Steadmon. Plaintiff
6 alleges that this was done in retaliation for filing appeals and lawsuits against them.

7
8 He explains that in June 2010, he was placed in Ad-Seg pending conclusion of an 9 investigation into his gang activities. On August 27, 2010, Defendant Noyce concluded the 10 investigation and found insufficient evidence to validate Plaintiff as an associate of a prison
11 gang. On September 10, 2010, he was released back into the general population.

12 In December 2010, Plaintiff met with Defendant Holman in preparation for his inmate
13 classification hearing. Defendant Holman told Plaintiff that Defendant Holland “told me to tell 14 you to drop your lawsuits on her or . . . else your [sic] going back to the hole permanently
15 validated.” Complaint, at 6. Plaintiff did not reply and did not drop his lawsuits.

16 On February 11, 2011, he was placed in Ad-Seg pending validation as an associate of the 17 Nazi Low Rider prison gang. Defendant Eubanks gave him his validation packet and Defendant 18 Tyree had signed his lock-up order. Plaintiff alleges that upon reviewing his packet, the 19 documents in his validation packet were the same as those used by Defendant Noyce to find 20 insufficient evidence six months prior.

21
22 On April 11, 2011, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Eubanks admitted that the only reason
23 that Plaintiff was validated was because of his lawsuits and appeals. He alleges that his 24 placement in segregated housing has made it more difficult to conduct legal work, prosecute 25 litigation and get use of the law library.

26 Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant Eubanks used an illegal “filter list” as evidence to 27 support validation. On January 26, 2010, Defendant Eubanks authored a confidential
28

1 memorandum indicating that he found a filter list in the property of two other inmates.
2 Plaintiff's name appeared on this list and Defendant Eubanks assumed that it was reliable
3 evidence of gang association. Plaintiff appealed this issue. The appeal was answered by 4 Defendants Holland and Gutierrez, who were aware of the use of the illegal filter list but 5 continued to allow its use.

6 Plaintiff further contends that in response to the validation packet, he wrote a detailed
7 rebuttal to the allegations. He handed his rebuttal to Defendant Eubanks, yet the packet stated
8 that the investigation was already complete. Defendant Eubanks did nothing with the rebuttal
9 and failed to investigate his contentions. Plaintiff contends that this violated his right to due
10 process because it denied him an opportunity to be heard in a meaningful way. Plaintiff 11 appealed this issue. The appeal was answered by Defendants Holland and Gutierrez, who were 12 aware of the issue but did nothing to allow Plaintiff to be heard in a meaningful way.

14 Next, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Medrano reviewed Plaintiff's address book, which 15 was confiscated by Defendant Tyree on May 15, 2009. He contends that this address book 16 included names of prisoners, some of which were friends or were witnesses to planned litigation.
17 Defendant Medrano reviewed the names and came up with two inmates who were validated.
18 Plaintiff had no idea that these inmates were validated at the time he received their information,
19 and had he known, he would not have possessed their information. The two inmates in question
20 were both witnesses in a legal action that Plaintiff was prosecuting, and neither was contacted for 21 personal or gang-related reasons. He contends that Defendants Medrano and Tyree had no
22 evidence that Plaintiff possessed their information for any reasons other than legitimate ones.
23 Plaintiff brought this issue to the attention of Defendants Holland and Gutierrez, but they called 24 to review the issue in any meaningful manner.

26 Plaintiff alleges that once he was validated, Defendants could severely limit his jailhouse
27 lawyer activities. He cannot contact any inmates for evidence because Defendants view any 28

1 contact between a validated inmate and another inmate as gang-related. Plaintiff is therefore
2 forced to choose between prosecuting his actions or being used to falsely validate fellow
3 inmates. He contends that this policy of viewing all communication as gang-related by 4 Defendants Holland, Gutierrez, Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Steadman, Tyree and Medrano
5 constitutes active interference with his ability to access the courts.

6 Next, Plaintiff alleges that he was not given “fair warning” or “prior notice” as to which 7 inmates were validated. He alleges that Defendants Cate, Gonzales² and Stainer did not warn
8 him as to which inmates were validated as prior gang members/associates. As a result, Plaintiff
9 had no idea that he was writing notes and letters to inmates who were validated. He contends
10 that this violates due process because they prohibit gang activity, yet they fail to provide prior 11 notice as to which inmates are validated. Plaintiff further alleges that California Penal Code 12 section 5054 and various sections of the California Code of Regulations are vague and fail to 13 warn Plaintiff which inmates are, or are not, validated. Without a way of knowing, he contends 14 that the rules were applied in an arbitrary and capricious manner because it leaves Plaintiff to 15 speculate as to which inmates may be validated.

16 Plaintiff further alleges that he was denied procedural due process. He explains that prior 17 to January 2010, validated inmates were not sanctioned with the loss of good time credits and the 18 validation process was considered “administrative” in nature. However, on January 25, 2010,
19 California Penal Code section 2933.6 was amended to require Defendant Cate to take all good 20 time credit from validated inmates. At a minimum, this lengthens sentences by six years, since 21 all validated inmates spend a minimum of six years in segregated housing.

22 Therefore, Plaintiff argues that gang validation proceedings should be given the same due
23 process protection as disciplinary proceedings. Here, Plaintiff alleges that he was denied
24 witnesses, an Investigative Employee, a Staff Assistant, a hearing, a meeting with a hearing
25
26
27

28 ² Defendant Gonzales is not in the caption of the FAC or the list of Defendants on the following pages.

1 officer and a written finding by a hearing officer. In February 2011, Plaintiff asked Defendant
2 Eubanks for an Investigative Employee, a Staff Assistant and witnesses, but Defendant Eubanks
3 told Plaintiff he was not entitled to these. He was also denied a meaningful opportunity to be 4 heard because the validation packet given to him by Defendant Eubanks indicated that the 5 investigation was completed.

6 Plaintiff contends that his case was reviewed by Defendants Jakabosky and Buechner.
7 Plaintiff was denied a hearing with these Defendants and was not allowed to verbally defend 8 himself. They also did not produce a written finding or outline the evidence relied upon.
9 Plaintiff alleges that Defendants Stainer and Cate are responsible for inmate discipline and 10 ensuring that inmates receive proper due process.

11
12 Based on these allegations, Plaintiff alleges (1) First Amendment Retaliation; (2) denial
13 of due process for various reasons; and (3) denial of access to the courts.

14 C. ANALYSIS

15 1. *Retaliation

16 Allegations of retaliation against a prisoner's First Amendment rights to speech or to 17 petition the government may support a section 1983 claim. Rizzo v. Dawson, 778 F.2d 527, 532
18 (9th Cir. 1985); see also Valandingham v. Bojorquez, 866 F.2d 1135 (9th Cir. 1989); Pratt v.
19 Rowland, 65 F.3d 802, 807 (9th Cir. 1995). "Within the prison context, a viable claim of First 20 Amendment retaliation entails five basic elements: (1) An assertion that a state actor took some 21 adverse action against an inmate (2) because of (3) that prisoner's protected conduct, and that 22 such action (4) chilled the inmate's exercise of his First Amendment rights, and (5) the action did 23 not reasonably advance a legitimate correctional goal." Rhodes v. Robinson, 408 F.3d 559, 567-
24 68 (9th Cir. 2005); accord Watison v. Carter, 668 F.3d 1108, 1114-15 (9th Cir. 2012); Brodheim
25 v. Cry, 584 F.3d 1262, 1269 (9th Cir. 2009).

1 Here, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Tyree and Medrano, all
2 of whom are involved in the Institutional Gang Investigations (“IGI”) process, retaliated against 3 him by issuing a validation packet against him on the orders of Defendants Chief Deputy 4 Warden Holland and Chief Deputy Warden Steadman. He also alleges that Defendant Holman
5 passed on Defendant Holland’s instructions to drop his lawsuits, or else he’d go back to the hole
6 permanently validated. Plaintiff alleges that he was retaliated against for filing appeals and 7 lawsuits. Plaintiff contends that his segregated housing has made it significantly harder for him
8 to perform legal work, and therefore his First Amendment activities have been chilled.
9

10 As found in the prior screening order, Plaintiff states a First Amendment retaliation claim
11 against Defendants Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Tyree, Medrano, Holman, Holland and Steadmon.

12 2. Access to Courts

13 Plaintiff has a constitutional right of access to the courts and prison officials may not 14 actively interfere with his right to litigate. Silva v. Di Vittorio, 658 F.3d 1090, 1101-02 (9th Cir.
15 2011). This means that the state is prohibited from “erect[ing] barriers that impede the right of 16 access of incarcerated persons.” Id. at 1102 (citations omitted). However, to state a viable claim
17 for relief, Plaintiff must allege he suffered an actual injury, which is actual prejudice with respect
18 to contemplated or existing litigation. Nevada Dep’t of Corr. v. Greene, 648 F.3d 1014, 1018
19 (9th Cir. 2011) (citing Lewis v. Casey, 518 U.S. 343, 348, 116 S.Ct. 2174 (1996)) (quotation 20 marks omitted), cert. denied, 132 S.Ct. 1823 (2012).

21
22 Claims for denial of access to the courts may arise from the frustration or hindrance of “a 23 litigating opportunity yet to be gained” (forward-looking access claim) or from the loss of a 24 meritorious suit that cannot now be tried (backward-looking claim). Christopher v. Harbury, 536
25 U.S. 403, 412-415 (2002). The plaintiff must show (1) the loss of a ‘nonfrivolous’ or ‘arguable’
26 underlying claim; (2) the official acts frustrating the litigation; and, in the case of a backward-
27
28

1 looking claim, (3) a remedy that may be awarded as recompense but that is not otherwise
2 available in a future suit. Id. at 414-15.

3 Plaintiff's access to courts claim is based on his contention that by validating him,
4 Defendants Holland, Steadman, Gutierrez, Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Tyree and Medrano are 5 forcing him to choose between litigating his actions or exposing other inmates to validation. He 6 points to their policy of viewing all communications by validated inmates as gang-related
7 activity. Plaintiff alleges that this can "severely cripple Plaintiff's jail house lawyer activities"
8 and has injured Plaintiff by denying him the ability to correspond with co-plaintiffs or inmate
9 witnesses, or obtain inmate declarations. FAC 10.

11 He fails to state a claim, however, because he has not alleged an actual injury. An "actual 12 injury" is defined as "actual prejudice with respect to contemplated or existing litigation, such as 13 the inability to meet a filing deadline or to present a claim." Lewis, 518 U.S. at 348. Here, 14 Plaintiff's allegations are general in nature and somewhat speculative. Plaintiff does not allege 15 that the policy has frustrated contemplated or existing litigation or that he has, in fact, suffered an 16 "actual injury" in any way. Harbury, 536 U.S. at 415-16; Nevada Dep't. of Corr., 648 F.3d at 17 1018.

18 3. Procedural Due Process

19 a. Applicable Legal Standard

20 Prior to determining whether Plaintiff has stated a claim for his various allegations of 21 denial of due process, the Court must address Plaintiff's argument relating to California Penal 22 Code section 2933.6. Section 2933.6(a) was amended in 2010 to prohibit inmates who are 23 validated as prison gang members from earning work or good time credits during the time the 24 inmate is in the SHU or Ad-Seg. He contends this ineligibility turns the gang validation process 25 from an administrative procedure into a disciplinary action, which would entitle him to 26 additional due process protections.
27
28

1 Plaintiff's argument, however, misstates the law and ignores a critical difference between 2 the treatment of good time credit in disciplinary hearings and in gang validations. In disciplinary 3 hearings, earned good time credits are taken away, resulting in increased procedural due process
4 protections because an otherwise earlier release date may be invalidated. Under 2933.6(a),
5 however, an inmate who has been validated in a gang does not lose earned credit, but rather 6 becomes ineligible to earn additional credits while in segregated housing. Plaintiff's inability to 7 earn additional credits does not alter a previously earned release date. Accordingly, the Court
8 will not expand procedural due process protections in gang validations beyond what is currently 9 required by the Ninth Circuit.
10

11 The assignment of validated gang members and associates to the SHU is an 12 administrative measure rather than a disciplinary measure, and is "essentially a matter of 13 administrative discretion." Bruce v. Ylst, 351 F.3d 1283, 1287 (9th Cir. 2003) (quoting Munoz 14 v. Rowland, 104 F.3d 1096, 1098 (9th Cir. 1997)). As a result, prisoners are entitled to the 15 minimal procedural protections of adequate notice, an opportunity to be heard, and periodic 16 review. Bruce, 351 F.3d at 1287 (citing Toussaint v. McCarthy, 801 F.2d 1080, 1100-01 (9th 17 Cir. 1986), abrogated in part on other grounds by Sandin v. Connor, 515 U.S. 472 (1995)).
18

19 In addition to these minimal protections, there must be "some evidence" supporting the 20 decision. Id. (citing Superintendent v. Hill, 472 U.S. 445, 454 (1985)). Although discussed in 21 the context of a disciplinary hearing, the Ninth Circuit has stated that under the Hill standard, the 22 evidence should have some indicia of reliability. Cato v. Rushen, 824 F.2d 703, 705 (9th Cir.
23 1987).
24

25 b. Use of Filter List

26 Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Eubanks used an illegal "filter list" as evidence of gang
27 affiliation. He contends that this list is not reliable evidence and that Defendant Eubanks
28

1 admitted as much when he left the boxes under “reliability of source” blank. The Court finds
2 that this states a due process claim against Defendant Eubanks.

3 As to Defendants Holland and Gutierrez, Plaintiff alleges that he appealed the issue to 4 them and despite their knowledge, they did not correct the situation. In most situations, a claim
5 does not exist against officials involved in appeals because they generally do not cause or 6 contribute to the underlying violation. George v. Smith, 507 F.3d 605, 609 (7th Cir. 2007).
7 However, given Plaintiff’s allegation that Defendant Holland instructed other Defendants to 8 validate Plaintiff, and the fact that Defendant Gutierrez is an Institutional Gang Investigator
9 captain, sufficient facts have been alleged to suggest that these Defendants turned a blind eye to 10 constitutional violations being committed by subordinates. Jett v. Penner, 439 F.3d 1091, 1098
11 (9th Cir. 2006). Accordingly, Plaintiff also states a due process claim against Defendants
12 Holland and Gutierrez.
13

14 c. Failure to Investigate Rebuttal

15 Plaintiff’s allegations that Defendant Eubanks did not investigate his rebuttal is sufficient
16 to state a claim for violation of due process insofar as he denied Plaintiff a meaningful
17 opportunity to be heard. Plaintiff also states a claim against Defendants Holland and Gutierrez 18 for the reasons described above.
19

20 d. Use of Inmate Addresses

21 Plaintiff alleges that Defendants Medrano and Tyree reviewed Plaintiff’s address book
22 and found two inmates that were validated gang members. Plaintiff denies that he contacted 23 these two inmates for gang-related reasons and argues that Defendants have no such evidence.
24 This states a claim against Defendants Medrano and Tyree. It also states a claim against 25 Defendants Holland and Gutierrez for the reasons discussed above.
26
27
28

1 e. Fair Warning and Prior Notice

2 Plaintiff attempted to raise this issue in his original complaint. The Court explained that 3 due process does not require advance notice of the consequences of one's actions, regardless of 4 the severity of those actions. This remains the law and Plaintiff has not stated a claim against 5 Defendants Cate, Stainer and Gonzales based on their failure to provide Plaintiff with advance
6 notice of which inmates were validated members.

7
8 Insofar as Plaintiff suggests that the regulations governing prison discipline are vague, his 9 argument fails. The Ninth Circuit recently rejected a similar void for vagueness claim relating to 10 California Code of Regulations, title 15, section 3378(c)(4) and its definition of "associate." The 11 Ninth Circuit found in part that section 3378(c)(4) and associated regulations were sufficiently 12 definite to notify the plaintiff that his conduct could be used as evidence of his gang
13 involvement. Castro v. Terhune, --F.3d--, 2013 WL 1364134, *7 (9th Cir. 2013).

14 This claim cannot be cured by amendment.

15 f. Additional Due Process Protections

16 The Court has rejected Plaintiff's contention that his gang validation is akin to a 17 disciplinary hearing. Therefore, his contentions that he was entitled to an impartial hearing
18 officer, Investigative Employee, Staff Assistant and a written decision fail to state a claim.

19 This claim cannot be cured by amendment.

20 D. CONCLUSION AND ORDER

21 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

22
23 1. Plaintiff's FAC states a First Amendment retaliation claim against Defendants
24 Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Tyree, Medrano, Holman, Holland and Steadman, and violation of due 25 process claims against Defendants Eubanks, Tyree, Medrano, Holland and Gutierrez;

26 2. It does not state a claim for violation of due process based on failure to give fair
27 notice, or for failure to give protections associated with disciplinary hearings. These claims
28

1 cannot be amended and must be DISMISSED WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND. Defendants
2 Cate, Stainer, Gonzales, Jakabosky or Buechner and these Defendants are also DISMISSED
3 WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND;

4 3. Plaintiff's access to the courts claim against Defendants Holland, Gutierrez,
5 Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, Steadman, Tyree and Medrano is DISMISSED WITH LEAVE TO 6 AMEND; however

7 4. Plaintiff MUST NOTIFY the Court WITHIN 30 DAYS whether he will file an 8 amended complaint in an attempt to cure the access of the courts claim, or proceed on the 9 cognizable due process and retaliation claims. Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1130 (9th Cir.
10 2000); Noll v. Carlson, 809 F.2d 1446, 1448-49 (9th Cir. 1987).

11 If Plaintiff files an amended complaint, he may not change the nature of this suit by 12 adding new, unrelated claims in his amended complaint. George v. Smith, 507 F.3d 605, 607
13 (7th Cir. 2007) (no "buckshot" complaints). Further, Plaintiff is notified that his amended
14 complaint supersedes the original complaint, Lacey v. Maricopa County, 693 F.3d 896, 907 n.1
15 (9th Cir. 2012) (en banc), and it must be "complete in itself without reference to the prior or 16 superseded pleading," Local Rule 220.

17 If Plaintiff is willing to proceed on his FAC against Defendants Gentry, Noyce, Eubanks, 18 Tyree, Medrano, Holman, Holland, Steadman and Gutierrez, Plaintiff may notify the Court in 19 writing. The Court will then dismiss the access to the courts claim and provide Plaintiff with 20 further instructions regarding service of a summons and the FAC; and 21 5. The Clerk's Office SHALL send Plaintiff a civil rights complaint form.

22 If Plaintiff fails to comply with this order, this action will be dismissed for failure to obey 23 a court order.

24 IT IS SO ORDERED.
