UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ALBERT LEE HOOD,
Plaintiff,
v.
MARGARET MIMS, et al.,
Defendants.

1:13-cv-00108 LJO GSA (PC)

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF COUNSEL

(Document# 7)

On April 21, 2014, plaintiff filed a motion seeking the appointment of counsel. Plaintiff does not have a constitutional right to appointed counsel in this action, Rand v. Rowland, 113 F.3d 1520, 1525 (9th Cir. 1997), and the court cannot require an attorney to represent plaintiff pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(1). Mallard v. United States District Court for the Southern District of Iowa, 490 U.S. 296, 298, 109 S.Ct. 1814, 1816 (1989). However, in certain exceptional circumstances the court may request the voluntary assistance of counsel pursuant to section 1915(e)(1). Rand, 113 F.3d at 1525.

Without a reasonable method of securing and compensating counsel, the court will seek volunteer counsel only in the most serious and exceptional cases. In determining whether “exceptional circumstances exist, the district court must evaluate both the likelihood of success of the merits [and] the ability of the [plaintiff] to articulate his claims pro se in light of the complexity of the legal issues involved.” Id. (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).

1 In the present case, the court does not find the required exceptional circumstances. At this
2 early stage in the proceedings, the court cannot make a determination that plaintiff is likely to
3 succeed on the merits. Plaintiff's complaint awaits the Court's formal screening required under
4 28 U.S.C. 1915. Thus, to date the Court has not found any cognizable claims in plaintiff's
5 complaint for which to initiate service of process, and no other parties have yet appeared. The 6 legal issue in this case – whether defendants failed to provide medical treatment to Plaintiff – is
7 not complex, and this court is faced with similar cases almost daily. Moreover, based on a review
8 of the record in this case, the Court does not find that plaintiff cannot adequately articulate his
9 claims. Therefore, plaintiff's motion shall be denied without prejudice to renewal of the motion
10 at a later stage of the proceedings.

11 For the foregoing reasons, plaintiff's motion for the appointment of counsel is HEREBY
12 DENIED, without prejudice.

13
14 IT IS SO ORDERED.

15 Dated: May 1, 2014
