CASE NO. 1:16-CV-0817 AWI MJS

ORDER ON DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS AND ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

(Doc. No. 15)

17 This case arises from the shooting death of Miguel Moreno Torrez (“Torrez”) by two 18 officers of the City of Fresno Police Department. Plaintiffs are the relatives of Torrez. Currently 19 before the Court is Defendants’ motion to dismiss. For the reasons that follow, the motion will be 20 granted and this case will be closed.

21 Procedural History

22 On May 7, 2015, the case of P.Y.M.T. v. City of Fresno, 1:15-cv-0710 JAM BAM
23 (“PYMT I”) was filed in the Eastern District of California – Fresno Division. The PYMT I
24 complaint was based on the shooting death of Torrez by members of the City of Fresno Police 25 Department. See PYMT I Doc. No. 1. The plaintiffs were identified as Torrez’s minor daughter 26 PYMT, Torrez’s wife Deibi Ontiveros (and guardian ad litem of PYMT), and Torrez’s mother 27 Maria Carrillo. See id. The defendants were the City of Fresno, the City of Fresno Police 28 Department, and Doe police officers. See id. The complaint alleged that Ontiveros and Carrillo

1 were successors in interest under California Code of Civil Procedure § 377.30. See id. The 2 complaint included nine causes of action: excessive force in violation of 42 U.S.C. §§ 1983 and 3 1985, negligence, intentional infliction of emotional distress, negligent infliction of emotional 4 distress, assault, battery, California Government Code § 845.6, California Civil Code § 52.1, and 5 wrongful death. See id.

6 On July 17, 2015, Judge Mendez approved a stipulation between the parties. See Doc.
7 Nos. 17, 18. The parties stipulated to the dismissal with prejudice of the negligence, negligent 8 infliction of emotional distress, § 845.6, and § 52.1 claims, and to the dismissal with prejudice of 9 the remaining claims by plaintiffs Deibi Ontiveros and Maria Carrillo. See id. The parties also 10 stipulated that the complaint would be deemed to be amended to include two claims under § 1983, 11 a claim for deprivation of familial association and a claim of denial of adequate medical care. See 12 id. The medical care claim was brought by PYMT on behalf of Torrez, and the familial 13 association claim was brought by PYMT, Maria Carrillo, and Torrez's father Antonio Moreno 14 individually. See id. By necessary implication, the complaint also was amended to include 15 Antonio Moreno as a plaintiff. See id.

16 On June 11, 2016, this lawsuit was filed. See Doc. No. 1. The Complaint is based on the 17 shooting death of Torrez by two Fresno police officers. See id. The Plaintiffs in this case are 18 Torrez's minor daughter PYMT, Torrez's wife Deibi Ontiveros (and guardian ad litem of PYMT), 19 Torrez's mother Maria Carrillo, and Torrez's father Antonio Moreno. See id. The Defendants are 20 identified as the City of Fresno, the City of Fresno Police Department and police officers Colin 21 Lewis and Jordan Wamhoff. See id. The Complaint alleges that Ontiveros, Carrillo, and Moreno 22 are successors in interest under California Code of Civil Procedure § 377.30. See id. The 23 Complaint alleges seven causes of action: excessive force in violation of 42 U.S.C. §§ 1983 and 24 1985, intentional infliction of emotional distress, assault, battery, wrongful death, deprivation of 25 familial relations under § 1983, and denial of adequate medical care under § 1983. See id.

26 On July 15, 2016, the defendants in PYMT I filed a motion to dismiss for failure to obey a 27 court order and failure to participate in discovery. See Doc. No. 38. The defendants sought 28 dismissal pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 37(b)(2) and 41(b). See id.

1 On September 19, 2016, Judge Mendez granted the motion to dismiss in PYMT 1. See 2 Doc. No. 46. The dismissal relied on the court’s inherent and statutory authority, including the 3 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. See id. Judge Mendez dismissed all claims “with prejudice and 4 without leave to amend.” Id. Judgment was entered in favor of defendants on the same day and 5 the case was closed. See Doc. No. 47. No appeals were taken in PYMT 1.

6 On April 25, 2017, Defendants filed their motion to dismiss in this case. See Doc. No. 15.

7 Defendants’ Motion

8 Defendants argue that this case should be dismissed because it is duplicative of PYMT 1.
9 Defendants argue that Judge Mendez dismissed PYMT 1 with prejudice and without leave to 10 amend on September 19, 2016, and Plaintiffs do not have the right to maintain two separate 11 actions involving the same subject at the same time in the same court.

12 Plaintiffs filed no opposition or response of any kind to Defendants’ motion.

13 Discussion

14 The Ninth Circuit has held that plaintiffs “generally have no right to maintain two separate 15 actions involving the same subject matter at the same time in the same court against the same 16 defendant.” Adams v. California Dept. of Health Servs., 487 F.3d 684, 688 (9th Cir. 2007). In 17 Adams, a plaintiff was denied leave to file an amended complaint that would have added four new 18 causes of action. See id. at 687. Amendment was denied because the deadline for filing an 19 amended complaint had lapsed and the plaintiff was not able to show “good cause” for the delay.
20 See id. To avoid the consequences of her delay and the district court’s denial of leave to amend, 21 the plaintiff filed a second lawsuit in the same court that included the four causes of action that she 22 had attempted to include in the amended complaint. See id. The district court dismissed the 23 second filed lawsuit as duplicative and proceeded to trial on the first filed lawsuit. See id.

24 It is not clear to the Court that Adams is applicable. As discussed above, at the time of the 25 dismissal in Adams, there were actually two cases that were on-going and actively being 26 prosecuted. That is, the plaintiff in Adams was attempting to maintain two separate lawsuits. In 27 this case, by the time Defendants filed their motion dismiss, PYMT 1 had long ended. PYMT 1 28 was dismissed and closed on September 19, 2016 and no appeal was taken. See PYMT 1 Doc.

1 Nos. 46 & 47. Thus, at the time Defendants filed this motion, Plaintiffs were not attempting to 2 maintain two separate actions. Defendants cite no cases that have applied Adams when multiple 3 cases were not actually being maintained at the time a dismissal motion was filed. By its express
4 terms, Adams does not seem to apply. Nevertheless, it is unnecessary to decide Adams's 5 applicability because Defendants' briefing shows that claim preclusion applies.

6 "Claim preclusion, often referred to as res judicata, bars any subsequent suit on claims 7 that were raised or could have been raised in a prior action." Cell Therapeutics, Inc. v. Lash Grp., 8 Inc., 586 F.3d 1204, 1212 (9th Cir. 2010); see Stewart v. United States Bancorp., 297 F.3d 953, 9 956 (9th Cir. 2002). Claim preclusion will apply when three elements are met: (1) an identity of 10 claims; (2) a final judgment on the merits; and (3) identity or privity between the parties.¹ Garity 11 v. APWU Nat'l Labor Org., 828 F.3d 848, 855 (9th Cir. 2016); Cell Therapeutics, 586 F.3d at 12 1212; Stewart, 297 F.3d at 956.

13 With respect to the first element, both PYMT I and this case allege claims based on the 14 shooting death of Torrez during an encounter with members of the City of Fresno Police 15 Department. Cf. Doc. No. 1 with PYMT I Doc. No. 1. Further, as explained above, the same 16 causes of action were alleged in this case and PYMT I. Following the stipulation of the parties, 17 the claims pursued in PYMT I were § 1983 excessive force, § 1983 familial association, § 1983 18 denial of medical care, intentional infliction of emotional distress, assault, battery, and wrongful 19 death. See PYMT I Doc. Nos. 17, 18. Those are the same claims alleged in the Complaint of this 20 case. See Doc. No. 1. Since this case and PYMT I are based on the shooting death of Torrez, and 21 each cause of action alleged in this case was also alleged in PYMT I, there is clearly an identity of 22 claims. See Owens v. Kaiser Found. Health Plan, Inc., 244 F.3d 708, 714 (9th Cir. 2001).

23 As to the second element, PYMT I was closed pursuant to court order and judgment was 24 entered. See Doc. Nos. 46, 47. All claims in PYMT I were dismissed with prejudice under the 25 court's inherent and statutory authority for failure to comply with a court order and failure to 26 participate in discovery. See id. at Doc. No. 46. Further, all claims by Maria Carrillo and Deibi 27

28 ¹ The Court notes that the first and third elements of claim preclusion are examined in order to determine whether a case may be dismissed as "duplicative." See Adams, 487 F.3d at 688-92.

1 Ontiveros, except for the § 1983 familial association claim, were voluntarily dismissed with 2 prejudice prior to September 2016. See Doc. Nos. 17, 18. Voluntary dismissals with prejudice 3 under Rule 41(a)(1), see Concha v. London, 62 F.3d 1493, 1507 (9th Cir. 1995); Golden v.
4 Barenborg, 53 F.3d 866, 871 (7th Cir. 1995); Burns v. Fincke, 197 F.2d 165, 166 (D.C. Cir. 1952), 5 and involuntary dismissals with prejudice, including dismissals under Rules 37(b)(2) and 41(b), 6 see Owens, 244 F.3d at 714; Wyle v. R.J. Reynolds Indus., Inc., 709 F.2d 585, 592 (9th Cir.
7 1983); Syufy Enterprises v. American Multicinema, Inc., 575 F.Supp. 431, 435 (N.D. Cal. 1983); 8 Carter v. McGowan, 524 F.Supp. 1119, 1121 (D. Nev. 1981), are adjudications “on the merits” for 9 purposes of claim preclusion.² Therefore, there is a final judgment on the merits.

10 Finally, with respect to the third element, there were three plaintiffs in PYMT I who were 11 named in the complaint, PYMT, Deibi Ontiveros (as guardian ad litem, as an individual, and as 12 successor in interest to Torrez), and Maria Carrillo (as an individual and as successor in interest to 13 Torrez). See PYMT I Doc. No. 1. Antonio Moreno was added as a plaintiff in PYMT I through 14 stipulation and pursued a § 1983 familial association claim. See PYMT I Doc. Nos. 17, 18. In 15 this case, the same four individuals are the Plaintiffs in this case. See Doc. No. 1. Because the 16 four Plaintiffs in this case were the same four plaintiffs in PYMT I, there is an identity of parties.³

18 ² In addressing Rule 41(b), the Ninth Circuit has found that dismissals based on a lack of jurisdiction, improper venue, 19 or failure to join a party under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 19 are not dismissals “on the merits” for purposes of 20 claim preclusion. See Stewart v. United States Bancorp., 297 F.3d 953, 956 (9th Cir. 2002); see also Ruiz v.
Snohomish Cnty. Pub. Util. Dist. No. 1, 824 F.3d 1161, 1168 (9th Cir. 2016). These exceptions are inapplicable. The dismissal in PYMT I was based on a failure to obey court orders and failure to participate in discovery. See Doc. Nos.
38, 46.

21 ³ The Court notes that in this case, Antonio Moreno is pursuing claims “as an individual and as a successor in interest” 22 pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 377.30, whereas in PYMT I, he only pursued a claim as an individual. Cf. Doc. No. 1 with PYMT I Doc. Nos. 17, 18. Pursuing claims as a “successor in interest” does not 23 change the result. A “survival claim” under § 377.30 is a claim as a representative of the decedent and is an assertion of the decedent’s rights. Brenner v. Universal Health Servs. of Rancho Springs, Inc., 12 Cal.App.5th 589, 605 (2017).
24 “There is but one survivor cause of action belonging to the decedent that is brought on behalf of the decedent by the decedent’s personal representative or successor in interest.” San Diego Gas & Elec. Co. v. Superior Ct., 146 25 Cal.App.4th 1545, 1553 (2007). In PYMT I, PYMT, Maria Carrillo, and Deibi Ontiveros also pursued claims on behalf of Torrez in a representative capacity as successors in interest. See PYMT I Doc. Nos. 1, 17, 18. Given the 26 nature of a survival claim, the interests of PYMT, Carrillo, Ontiveros, and Moreno as successors in interest are indistinguishable. Cf. Brenner, 12 Cal.App.5th at 605; San Diego Gas, 146 Cal.App.4th at 1553. Further, the 27 Plaintiffs were represented by the same counsel in this case and in PYMT I. Under these circumstances, Moreno as successor in interest is in privity with PYMT, Ontiveros, and Carrillo as successors in interests. See Arduini v. Hart, 28 774 F.3d 622, 638 (9th Cir. 2014) (in an issue preclusion case, noting that shareholder plaintiffs in two cases were in privity because they were suing on behalf of a corporation in a representative capacity); see also Taylor v. Sturgell, 553 U.S. 880, 894 (2008).
