

1 emotional distress.

2 On February 13, 2020, Defendants filed a motion for summary judgment on the ground
3 that Plaintiff failed to exhaust administrative remedies as to any claims against any Defendant,
4 and a motion for protective order. (ECF Nos. 52, 53.) The Court granted Plaintiff a thirty-day
5 extension of time to file his oppositions to the motions. (ECF No. 57.)

6 Currently before the Court is Plaintiff's second motion for an extension of time to file his 7 oppositions. (ECF No. 58.) Plaintiff states that he requires an additional fourteen days to 8 complete and serve his oppositions. Plaintiff states that his opposition to the motion for 9 protective order is completed, but printing out the final copy is taking longer than anticipated.
10 Despite to his recent assignment to a new vocational class that requires additional study time and 11 continuing health issues, he has worked as diligently as he is able to. In addition, due to COVID-
12 19 prison programs are modified, limiting his access to the law library, and possibly closing all
13 access to the library. Plaintiff believes fourteen days will provide sufficient time for him to finish
14 his final copies. (Id.) Defendants have not yet had an opportunity to file a response, but the 15 Court finds a response is unnecessary. The motion is deemed submitted. Local Rule 230(l).

16 Having considered the moving papers, the Court finds good cause to grant the requested
17 extension. Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(b). The Court further finds that Defendants will not be prejudiced by 18 the brief extension granted here.

19 Accordingly, Plaintiff's second motion for extension of time, (ECF No. 58), is 20 GRANTED. Plaintiff's oppositions to Defendants' motion for summary judgment and motion for 21 protective order are due within fourteen (14) days from the date of service of this order.
22 Defendants' replies, if any, are due no more than seven (7) days following the docketing of 23 Plaintiff's oppositions.

24
25 IT IS SO ORDERED.
