10	RAMIRO HUERTA,	Case No. 1:17-cv-01446-EPG
11	Plaintiff,	ORDER RE: STIPULATION AND JOINT
12	v.	REQUEST OF THE PARTIES FOR MODIFICATION OF THE CASE
13	COUNTY OF TULARE, et al.,	MANAGEMENT SCHEDULE DEADLINES
14	Defendants.	(ECF No. 131).
15
16
17
18	On January 11, 2023, the parties filed a joint stipulation to modify the operative
19	scheduling order. (ECF No. 131). As ground
20	 4. The Parties continue to diligently work together to complete discovery in this matter. Non-expert fact discovery has been timely completed and the parties have been using their best effort to complete expert discovery in a timely manner, including expert depositions and Rule 35 examinations of plaintiffdue to the holidays, calendar conflicts for counsel of all parties, and the experts' respective conflicts, the parties have been unable to schedule and complete all of the expert depositions in this matter and do not foresee being able to do so by the current expert discovery cut off deadline. 5. Based on plaintiffs' and defendants' initial expert disclosures, there are at least 10 experts that need to be deposed in this matter, with more anticipated being added following rebuttal expert disclosures. 6. Plaintiff's counsel have two trials in January of 2023, which take up most, if not all, available dates this month. Defense counsel are in back to back trials from February until April of 2023,

1 2 3 4	which makes further availability limited with the current deadlines. As such, the parties do not believe all expert depositions will be able to be noticed and taken in the remaining time before the current expert discovery deadline of February 21, 2023 [Dkt. 127]. 7. As a trial date has not yet been set in this matter, the parties believe an additional continuance of the expert discovery and dispositive motion deadlines would not cause significant issue or unnecessary delay or hardship.
4 5	(ECF No. 131, p. 2-3). For those reasons, the parties seek extensions for the remaining case deadlines (rebuttal-supplemental exert disclosures, expert discovery cut-off, and dispositive
6	motions). (Id. at 4).
7	The Court will grant the parties' request. However, the Court notes that this is the parties'
8	fourth stipulation to extend case deadlines. (See e.g. , ECF Nos. 106, 118, 126). The Court also
9	approved the parties' stipulation seeking a limited modification of the schedule regarding
10	Plaintiff's Rule 35 examination. (ECF Nos. 128, 129). Accordingly, no further extensions to the
11	remaining case deadlines will be granted absent extraordinary circumstances.
12	Pursuant to the parties' stipulation (ECF No. 131), IT IS ORDERED that:
13	1. The Court's scheduling order (ECF No. 14, as modified by ECF Nos. 85, 108, 119,
14	127) is further modified as follows:
