/s/ Sheila K. Oberto
UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

¹ The Court notes that the parties request that all dates and deadlines, other than those pertaining to experts, remain the same. Granting this request, however, would be problematic: if so, the parties' deadline to conduct expert discovery would occur after the deadlines for filing non-dispositive and non-dispositive motions. Accordingly, the Court has enlarged these deadlines, as well as the pretrial conference and trial, to allow the parties adequate time to file, and for the Court to rule on, motions, and to permit the parties sufficient time to prepare their pretrial submissions and for trial.
