 ) ORDER DIRECTING SERVICE OF THE ) COMPLAINT

Chee Lor seeks to proceed in forma pauperis with an action for judicial review of the administrative decision denying an application for Social Security benefits. Pending before the Court are the complaint and the motion to proceed in forma pauperis. (Docs. 1, 2) For the following reasons, the Court grants the motion and finds service of the complaint is appropriate.

I. Proceeding in forma pauperis

The Court may authorize the commencement of an action without prepayment of fees “by a person who submits an affidavit that includes a statement of all assets such person . . . possesses [and] that the person is unable to pay such fees or give security therefor.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). The Court reviewed the financial status affidavit (Doc. 2), and finds the requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a) are satisfied. Therefore, Plaintiff’s request to proceed in forma pauperis is GRANTED.

1 II. Screening Requirement

2 When an individual seeks to proceed in forma pauperis, the Court is required to review the 3 complaint and shall dismiss a complaint, or portion of the complaint, if it is “frivolous, malicious or 4 fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted; or . . . seeks monetary relief from a defendant 5 who is immune from such relief.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(b); 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). A plaintiff’s claim 6 is frivolous “when the facts alleged rise to the level of the irrational or the wholly incredible, whether or 7 not there are judicially noticeable facts available to contradict them.” Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S.
8 25, 32-33 (1992).

9 III. Pleading Standards

10 General rules for pleading complaints are governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. A 11 pleading must include a statement affirming the court’s jurisdiction, “a short and plain statement of the 12 claim showing the pleader is entitled to relief; and . . . a demand for the relief sought, which may 13 include relief in the alternative or different types of relief.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a).

14 A complaint must give fair notice and state the elements of the plaintiff’s claim in a plain and 15 succinct manner. Jones v. Cmty. Redevelopment Agency, 733 F.2d 646, 649 (9th Cir. 1984). The 16 purpose of the complaint is to give the defendant fair notice of the claims against him, and the grounds 17 upon which the complaint stands. Swierkiewicz v. Sorema N.A., 534 U.S. 506, 512 (2002). The 18 Supreme Court noted,

19 Rule 8 does not require detailed factual allegations, but it demands more than an 20 unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation. A pleading that offers 21 labels and conclusions or a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will 22 not do. Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders naked assertions devoid of further 23 factual enhancement.

23 Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678-79 (2009) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted). Vague 24 and conclusory allegations do not support a cause of action. Ivey v. Board of Regents, 673 F.2d 266, 25 268 (9th Cir. 1982). The Court clarified further,

26 [A] complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to “state a claim 27 to relief that is plausible on its face.” [Citation]. A claim has facial plausibility when 28 the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged. [Citation]. The 1           plausibility standard is not akin to a “probability requirement,” but it asks for more than 2           a sheer possibility that a defendant has acted unlawfully. [Citation]. Where a complaint 3           pleads facts that are “merely consistent with” a defendant’s liability, it “stops short of the line between possibility and plausibility of ‘entitlement to relief.’

4           Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 679 (citations omitted). When factual allegations are well-pled, a court should 5           assume their truth and determine whether the facts would make the plaintiff entitled to relief; legal 6           conclusions are not entitled to the same assumption of truth. Id. The Court may grant leave to amend a 7           complaint to the extent deficiencies of the complaint can be cured by an amendment. Lopez v. Smith, 8           203 F.3d 1122, 1127-28 (9th Cir. 2000) (en banc).

9           IV. Discussion and Analysis

10           Plaintiff seeks review of a decision by the Commissioner of Social Security denying disability 11           benefits. (Doc. 1) The Court may have jurisdiction pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 405(g), which provides:

12           Any individual, after any final decision of the Commissioner made after a hearing to 13           which he was a party, irrespective of the amount in controversy, may obtain a review of 14           such decision by a civil action commenced within sixty days after the mailing to him of 15           such decision or within such further time as the Commissioner may allow. Such action 16           shall be brought in the district court of the United States for the judicial district in which the plaintiff resides, or has his principal place of business . . . The court shall have power to enter, upon the pleadings and transcript of the record, a judgment affirming, modifying, or reversing the decision of the Commissioner of Social Security, with or without remanding the cause for a rehearing.

17           Id. Except as provided by statute, “[n]o findings of fact or decision of the Commissioner shall be 18           reviewed by any person, tribunal, or governmental agency.” 42 U.S.C. § 405(h).

19           Plaintiff alleges the Appeals Council denied her request for review of the decision denying 20           benefits on December 15, 2017, at which time the decision of the administrative law judge became the 21           final decision of the Commissioner. (Doc. 1 at 2) Because Plaintiff initiated this action within 65
22           days of the date of Appeals Council’s notice, her request for judicial review of the decision is timely.
23           Therefore, the Court has jurisdiction over the matter pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 405(g).

24           V. Conclusion and Order

25           Plaintiff’s complaint states a cognizable claim for review of the administrative decision denying 26           Social Security benefits. Based upon the foregoing, the Court ORDERS:

- 27           1.       Plaintiff’s motion to proceed in forma pauperis (Doc. 2) is GRANTED;
- 28           2.       The Clerk of Court is DIRECTED to issue summons as to the defendant, Nancy
