UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

JOHN F. REDOS, JR.,
Plaintiff,
v.

No. 2:08-cv-01036-MCE-KJM
Related to:
No. 2:08-cv-01155-MCE-KJM
ORDER

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
COMPANY,
Defendants.

-----oo0oo-----

Plaintiff filed this action on May 12, 2008. It was later ordered related to Nickels v. Union Pacific Railroad Company, 2:08-cv-01155-MCE-KJM, and was then consolidated for discovery purposes with Nickles and Gomez v. Union Pacific Railroad Company, 2:09-cv-002255-MCE-KJM. Presently before the Court are Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment, Motion in Limine, and Motion for Judicial Notice, which are materially identical to that filed in Nickles, 2:08-cv-01155. For the following reasons, the instant Motions are denied.

1 BACKGROUND

3 Plaintiff initiated this action seeking to recover for
4 injuries suffered as a result of the derailment of rail grinding
5 track maintenance equipment. The equipment was owned and
6 operated by Harsco Track Technologies ("Harsco"), a contractor
7 providing services for Union Pacific. Plaintiff Redos supervised
8 the rail grinding equipment and Plaintiff Nickles was its 9 operator.

10 According to Plaintiff's Statement of Undisputed Facts,
11 Union Pacific contracted with Harsco for rail grinding services.
12 Plaintiff contends that a unit comprising the grinding equipment
13 was a "locomotive" and further alleges that the various equipment
14 along with the "locomotive" comprised a "train." Plaintiff also 15 avers that the rail grinding equipment ultimately derailed as a
16 result of brake deficiencies and defects.

17 Based on the above facts, Plaintiff contends that, as a
18 matter of law, Defendant violated the Federal Safety Appliance
19 Act ("FSAA"), 49 U.S.C. § 20302. Defendant also moves to have 20 this Court take judicial notice of the Consumer Price Index and 21 moves to exclude Section 14 of the Harsco/Union Pacific contract.
22 For the following reasons, Plaintiff's Motions are each denied
23 without prejudice.

1 If the moving party meets its initial responsibility, the
2 burden then shifts to the opposing party to establish that a
3 genuine issue as to any material fact actually does exist.
4 Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574,
5 585-87 (1986); First Nat'l Bank v. Cities Serv. Co., 391 U.S.
6 253, 288-89 (1968).

7 In attempting to establish the existence of this factual
8 dispute, the opposing party must tender evidence of specific
9 facts in the form of affidavits, and/or admissible discovery
10 material, in support of its contention that the dispute exists.
11 Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e). The opposing party must demonstrate that 12 the fact in contention is material, i.e., a fact that might 13 affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law, and that 14 the dispute is genuine, i.e., the evidence is such that a
15 reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party.
16 Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248, 251-52
17 (1986); Owens v. Local No. 169, Assoc. of Western Pulp and Paper
18 Workers, 971 F.2d 347, 355 (9th Cir. 1987). Stated another way, 19 "before the evidence is left to the jury, there is a preliminary
20 question for the judge, not whether there is literally no
21 evidence, but whether there is any upon which a jury could
22 properly proceed to find a verdict for the party producing it,
23 upon whom the onus of proof is imposed." Anderson, 477 U.S. at 24 251 (quoting Schuykill and Dauphin Improvement Co. v. Munson, 81
25 U.S. 442, 448 (1871)).

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

1 As the Supreme Court explained, "[w]hen the moving party has
2 carried its burden under Rule 56(c), its opponent must do more
3 than simply show that there is some metaphysical doubt as to the 4 material facts....Where the record taken as a whole could not
5 lead a rational trier of fact to find for the nonmoving party,
6 there is no 'genuine issue for trial.'" Matsushita, 475 U.S. at 7 586-87.

8 In resolving a summary judgment motion, the evidence of the 9 opposing party is to be believed, and all reasonable inferences
10 that may be drawn from the facts placed before the court must be 11 drawn in favor of the opposing party. Anderson, 477 U.S. at 255.
12 Nevertheless, inferences are not drawn out of the air, and it is 13 the opposing party's obligation to produce a factual predicate
14 from which the inference may be drawn. Richards v. Nielsen
15 Freight Lines, 602 F. Supp. 1224, 1244-45 (E.D. Cal. 1985), 16 aff'd, 810 F.2d 898 (9th Cir. 1987).

17 Plaintiff contends that Defendant violated the FSAA, and 18 that the violation renders Defendant liable under the Federal 19 Employers' Liability Act ("FELA") or, alternatively, for 20 negligence under California common law. Accordingly, Plaintiff
21 seeks to have this Court conclusively find that one of the units
22 comprising the rail grinding equipment was a "locomotive," that 23 the equipment itself was a "train," and, consequently, that 24 Defendant violated the FSAA by permitting the operation of the 25 grinding equipment, which was equipped with allegedly deficient
26 brakes. Plaintiff simply has not met its considerable burden of 27 establishing, as a matter of law, that there are no factual
28 disputes as to each of its sought-after findings.

1 Thus, this Court is precluded from granting summary judgment, or
2 more aptly summary adjudication, in Plaintiff's favor, and
3 Plaintiff's Motion is denied without prejudice.

5 2. Plaintiff's Motion in Limine

7 A motion in limine is "[a] pretrial request that certain
8 inadmissible evidence not be referred to or offered at trial.
9 Typically, a party makes this motion when it believes that mere
10 mention of the evidence during trial would be highly prejudicial
11 and could not be remedied by an instruction to disregard."
12 Black's Law Dictionary (8th ed. 2004). Accordingly, Plaintiff's
13 instant Motion, by which he seeks to exclude from consideration
14 Section 14 of the Harsco/Union Pacific contract is premature.
15 Until trial is imminent, this Court simply cannot accurately
16 judge the context in which the agreement may be offered.
17 Accordingly, Plaintiff's Motion is denied without prejudice.
18

19 3. Plaintiff's Motion for Judicial Notice
20

21 Finally, Plaintiff asks the Court to take judicial notice of 22 the Consumer Price Index. While it is possible that this 23 information may be relevant to damages at some future stage in 24 litigation, no damages are currently before the Court.
25 Accordingly, it would be premature to take notice of any alleged 26 measure of inflation. Thus, Plaintiff's Motion is denied without 27 prejudice.

28 ///

1 CONCLUSION

3 For the reasons stated, Plaintiff's Motion for Summary
4 Judgment (Docket No. 71), Motion in Limine (Docket No. 75), and
5 Motion for the Court to Take Judicial Notice of the Consumer
6 Price Index (Docket No. 77) are DENIED without prejudice.¹
