Defendants Rodney Lowe, Patrick Mize and Robert Draizen and Plaintiff have filed motions in limine seeking to preclude the admission of certain evidence at trial. The parties' motions are addressed in turn below.

I. Defendants' Motions in Limine

A. Defendants' Motion in Limine No. 1

Defendants argue Plaintiff should be precluded from offering evidence, testimony, attorney argument or other comments concerning Plaintiff's assertion that he is owed $247,115.00 as damages since Plaintiff failed to properly disclose an updated computation of his alleged damages as required by Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) and 26(e)(1)(A). Plaintiff responds that he did provide an updated calculation of his damages through an answer to Defendants' special interrogatories.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) "requires the disclosure of a computation of each category of damages claimed by

1 the disclosing party. Rule 26(e)(1)(A) requires disclosing parties to 2 supplement their prior disclosures in a timely manner when the prior 3 response is incomplete or inaccurate." Hoffman v. Construction
4 Protective Services, Inc., 541 F.3d 1175, 1179 (9th Cir. 2008)
5 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) and 26(e)(1)(A)).

6 Plaintiff's answer to Defendants' special interrogatories 7 states:

8 SPECIAL INTERROGATORY NO. 9: Please set forth
9 with particularity the formula YOU intend to use 10 to support YOUR contention that you are entitled 11 to any of the proceeds from the ZURICH CLAIM.

12 ANSWER: Plaintiff intends to calculate the 13 portion of the proceeds that belonged to him as 14 follows:

- 15 1. MortgageTree's percentage of the total 16 claim submitted to Zurich should be 17 calculated by multiplying the number of 18 loans on which the claim was based times
19 a fee of $1,325 per loan and dividing
20 the result by the total claim submitted
21 to Zurich ("MortgageTree's Percentage").
22 Based on the documents provided by 23 MortgageTree, the calculation would be 24 as follows:

$$25 \quad ($1,325 \times 165 \text{ loans}) / $811,871 = 27$$

26 percent

- 27 2. Plaintiff's percentage of the total 28 claim should be calculated by subtracting MortgageTree's Percentage from 100 percent ("Plaintiff's Percentage"). Based on the above calculation of MortgageTree's Percentage, Plaintiff's Percentage would be as follows:

$$100 \text{ percent} - 27 \text{ percent} = 73 \text{ percent}$$

3. The amount of the proceeds that belong to [P]laintiff should be calculated by multiplying the total amount of the settlement proceeds times Plaintiff's Percentage.

$$$378,000 \times 73 \text{ percent} = $275,940.$$

1 Plaintiff should be responsible for
2 paying Plaintiff's percentage of costs
3 and attorneys' fees actually paid by MortgageTree to Laurence Berman relating to the claim against Zurich.

4 (Pl.'s Answer to Draizen's Special Interrogs. 7:21-8:23; Pl.'s Answer
5 to Mize's Special Interrogs. 7:18-8:14.)

6 Defendants have not shown that Plaintiff's answer to 7 Defendants' special interrogatories runs afoul of Federal Rules of 8 Civil Procedure 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) or 26(e)(1)(A) and that Plaintiff
9 should be precluded from offering evidence, testimony, attorney 10 argument or other comments at trial concerning his assertion of 11 damages. See Reyes v. City of Glendale, No. 05-0253 CAS (MANx), 2009
12 WL 2579614, at *5-6 (Aug. 19, 2009) (finding that plaintiff 13 "sufficiently demonstrated that he has adequately disclosed evidence 14 regarding damages" through his deposition testimony and responses to 15 interrogatories). Therefore, Defendants' motion in limine no. 1 is 16 denied.

17 B. Defendants' Motion in Limine No. 2

18 Defendants also argue Plaintiff should be precluded from 19 offering evidence or expert testimony as to his damages calculation 20 since Plaintiff is not qualified as an expert under Federal Rule of 21 Evidence 702 and the basis of his damages calculation is unreliable.
22 Plaintiff responds that "[p]roof of damages does not require expert 23 testimony."

24 It is unclear what testimony is involved in this motion, 25 therefore, Defendants' motion in limine no. 2 is denied.

26 C. Defendants' Motion in Limine No. 3

27 Lastly, Defendants argue Plaintiff should be precluded from 28 offering evidence, lay testimony, attorney argument or other comments

1 regarding his calculation of damages under Federal Rule of Evidence 2 701 since Plaintiff "bases his calculations merely on speculation and 3 calculations performed by parties other than himself." Plaintiff 4 responds that he is entitled to rely on information produced by 5 defendants in calculating his damages.

6 It is also unclear what testimony is involved in this 7 motion, therefore, Defendants' motion in limine no. 3 is denied.

8 II. Plaintiff's Motion in Limine

9 Plaintiff filed a motion in limine in which he seeks to 10 preclude the testimony of two witnesses as well as exclude broad 11 swaths of evidence. Plaintiff, however, has provided no argument or 12 authority in support of his motion. Therefore, Plaintiff's motion in 13 limine is denied.
