UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CALEB E. BELCHER; and CLB, by and through his guardian ad litem CALEB E. BELCHER,

                    Plaintiffs,

          v.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

                    Defendant.

No. 2:13-cv-01699-GEB-KJN

ORDER ON MOTIONS IN LIMINE***

Plaintiffs move in limine for a pretrial order precluding the admission of certain evidence at trial. Each motion is addressed below.

Motion in Limine No. 1

Plaintiffs move to exclude Defendant’s accident reconstruction expert Dr. Rajeev Kelkar’s “[Expert] Report with appendices (totaling over 200 pages of unauthenticated evidence),” arguing it is “inadmissible hearsay,” and “there has been insufficient foundation laid for [its] introduction.” (Pls.’ Mot. in Limine (“MIL”) No. 1 1:23-27, 2:7-8, 2:16-26, ECF

* These motions are suitable for decision without oral argument.

1 No. 33.) Plaintiffs also request "that the testimony of Dr.
2 Kelkar be limited, and specifically that he not be allowed to 3 comment upon or interpret the facts as contained within the 4 subject surveillance video." (Id. at 4:7-9.) Plaintiffs argue:

5 [I]n his prior declaration[,] Dr. Kelkar 6 purports to offer "opinions" as to what the 7 surveillance video (an overhead view of the 8 accident location at the time of the subject 9 incident) shows. . . . [T]o the extent his 10 "opinions" are a description of what is 11 occurring in the video, the matter is 12 improper for expert comment, and further 13 lacks sufficient foundation for his 14 conclusions and opinions as it forces his 15 reliance on a distant bird's eye view of 16 the subject incident, without other personal 17 knowledge. . . .

18 The matter should further be precluded
19 as that of improper opinion evidence. . . .
20 Here, Dr. Kelkar's anticipated 21 testimony stands to serve as a narrative of 22 his perception of the . . . surveillance 23 video, and what is occurring therein. Any 24 "opinion" or "conclusion" derived theref[rom] 25 is simply inappropriate for expert comment as 26 the trier of fact is certainly capable . . .
27 of interpreting such evidence as it is not 28 beyond the common experience or ordinary skill of the trier of fact.
Furthermore, . . . Dr. Kelkar . . . has no personal knowledge on the subject . . . , and simply seeks to interpret "facts" veiled as an expert opinion.

21 (Id. at 3:3-4:6.)

22 Defendant counters: "Plaintiffs' request to exclude Dr.
23 Kelkar's expert report and appendices is baseless. Dr. Kelkar is 24 entitled to offer the opinions in his report and to 25 testify . . . as to the bases for those opinions." (Def.'s Opp'n 26 MIL No. 2 5:21-23, ECF No. 40.) Defendant argues:

27 Dr. Kelkar [is] entitled to rely on all the 28 data referenced and attached to his report. . . .

1 . . . [A]nalysis of video footage is a 2 routine part of accident reconstruction 3 analysis when available. Dr. Kelkar is also 4 entitled to talk about the other bases for 5 his opinions, including the vehicle
6 specifications, Anthropometric Reference 7 Data, and camera information. . . . This is 8 the type of data that an expert routinely 9 relies upon and is thus admissible under Rule 10 703 to show the bases for the expert's 11 opinions.

12 (Id. at 6:17-7:3.)

13 Defendant also rejoins that "[t]here is no basis to 14 limit or exclude the testimony of . . . Dr. Kelkar." (Id. at 15 1:18-19.) Defendant argues:

16 Plaintiff[] . . . [contends] that Dr.
17 Kelkar offers improper opinions by doing 18 nothing more than reciting what the video 19 shows. This is false. To the contrary, Dr.
20 Kelkar uses the information in the video as 21 one data point for his expert assessment and 22 opinions regarding the speed Officer Linn was 23 driving, the amount of time between when 24 minor CLB was standing still until the time 25 he unexpectedly darted into the street and 26 collided with Officer Linn's vehicle, the 27 distance that minor CLB traveled, and whether 28 Officer Linn could have stopped in time to avoid the accident. As noted in the report, Dr. Kelkar used measurements at the scene, analyzed the geometry of the accident location, and compared them with the video, which included a clock showing what occurred to the thousandth of a second. Dr. Kelkar thus takes the qualitative video footage and converts it to quantitative information that is used as a basis for his accident reconstruction conclusions. Accordingly, when Dr. Kelkar discusses the video at trial, he will not merely recite what is shown, he will describe how he used what is shown to conduct his expert assessment and form his ultimate expert opinions. Dr. Kelkar's analysis and opinions go well beyond merely narrating what the video shows.

. . . .

1 . . . Dr. Kelkar's opinions require 2 specialized skill and provide the trier of 3 fact significantly more information than is 4 otherwise available.

5 (Id. at 8:1-14, 9:25-27 (citations omitted).)

6 Plaintiffs state in their reply that they "seek to 7 clarify the intent of their motion." (Pls.' Reply MIL No. 1 1:22, 8 ECF No. 44.) Plaintiffs state:

9 Specifically, the motion seeks to preclude 10 the admission of Dr. Kelkar's written 11 report / analysis . . . and to limit his 12 testimony to the extent it purports to 13 narrate the subject surveillance video.
14 Plaintiffs have no objection to the [expert 15 report's] appendices, at this time, assuming 16 an appropriate foundation will be laid at 17 trial.

18 (Id. at 1:22-27.) These statements will not be considered in 19 ruling on this motion since they were made for the first time in 20 reply and change the scope of the original motion. Cf. Zamani v.
21 Carnes, 491 F.3d 990, 997 (9th Cir. 2007) ("The district court
22 need not consider arguments raised for the first time in a reply 23 brief.").

24 This motion lacks the preciseness and sufficient 25 factual context required for a pretrial in limine ruling.

26 Motion in Limine No. 2

27 Plaintiffs "move to preclude any testimony of" a trial 28 witness Defendant identified in the Joint Pretrial Statement as "an agency witness," under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 37(c).
(Pls.' MIL No. 2 1:22-24, 2:6, ECF No. 34.) Plaintiffs argue:
"Defendants have identified a 'witness' without providing the actual identity or contact information in either its initial, supplemental or pre-trial disclosures. Plaintiffs have had no

1 opportunity to discover, depose or otherwise obtain any 2 understanding as to who this witness is or what the substance of 3 his/her testimony may be." (Id. at 2:2-6.)

4 Defendant states "it is true that Capt. Aguilar was not 5 named in the United States' Rule 26(a) disclosures, and that the 6 United States listed an 'agency representative' in the Joint 7 Pretrial Statement." (Def.'s Opp'n Pls.' MIL No. 2 1:28-2:2, ECF
8 No. 41.) However, Defendant rejoins that it "should be permitted 9 to have its agency representative . . . offer brief background 10 testimony regarding agency operations, the unique or unusual 11 duties of Forest Service law enforcement officers, and other 12 related matters." (Id. at 1:16-18.) Defendant argues:

13 Capt. Aguilar is not offered for his 14 knowledge of the accident involved in this 15 case; instead, he is offered . . . to explain 16 how the agency operates. In other words, he 17 will not be offering percipient testimony 18 about the accident. . . .

19 . . . .

20 Moreover, Rule 37(c)(1) rule does not 21 permit exclusion of testimony if the alleged 22 non-disclosure is "substantially justified or 23 is harmless." Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(c)(1). Here, 24 it is both. First, it is harmless in that 25 there is no prejudice to Plaintiffs. Capt.
26 Aguilar will merely testify regarding Officer 27 Linn's patrol duties on the day of the 28 accident, including why she needed to patrol the area in question and why she could not simply avoid an area with people recreating in it. As the chief law enforcement officer on this portion of the National Forest, Capt.
Aguilar will further provide the Court a broader picture and an understanding of how the Forest functions and the important role law enforcement officers play in the Forest.
His testimony is expected to be very brief, and Plaintiffs also have the opportunity to depose him before trial if they wish.

1           In addition, any failure to disclose
2           Capt. Aguilar in discovery is justified 3           because . . . he is not offered as a 4           percipient witness and was not chosen as a 5           trial representative until after discovery 6           closed. Shortly after the United States chose 7           him as its trial representative, he 8           unexpectedly was away from work for an open-9           ended period of time for personal reasons and 10          could not confirm that he could testify until 11          early-May 2015. Plaintiffs were immediately 12          notified of his identity once he confirmed 13          that he would be back to work in time for 14          trial, and he was made available for 15          deposition at Plaintiffs' convenience. There 16          is simply no harm or prejudice to Plaintiffs 17          in permitting this witness to testify 18          briefly.

19          (Id. at 2:2-5, 3:24-4:12.)

20                 Plaintiffs reply:

21                 Despite the late information
22                 provided in [Defendant's] Opposition, 23                 prior to the filing of motions in limine, 24                 Defendant never identified the subject 25                 "victim" in any of its pre-trial 26                 disclosures. Plaintiffs have had no 27                 opportunity to discover, depose or otherwise 28                 obtain any understanding as to who this 29                 witness is or what the substance of his/her 30                 testimony may be. Thus, the element of 31                 surprise is clearly established herein.
32                 Defendant seeks to counter this argument by 33                 providing a late opportunity for deposition.
34                 Even if a deposition could reasonably be set 35                 before trial, as trial is just weeks away and 36                 discovery has been closed for some time, this 37                 does little to cure the element of surprise, 38                 or allow Plaintiffs a reasonable opportunity 39                 to respond to or address anything that might 40                 be learned from this deposition. Defendant's 41                 accusation that Plaintiffs have known of this 42                 since the pre-trial statement and therefore 43                 shows no surprise again fails, as Plaintiffs 44                 stated their objection at that time and made 45                 an inquiry as to the [agency witness's] 46                 identity. At that time, [Defendant's] counsel 47                 still could not identify the witness, and 48                 agreed to consider withdrawal or otherwise 49                 allow the issue to be raised by way of a 50                 motion in limine. No offer of deposition or 51                 production of evidence[] . . . was made at 1           that time.

2 (Pls.' Reply MIL No. 2 2:7-21, ECF No. 45.)

3           "Parties are required to [disclose] the name and 4 contact information of any individual likely to have discoverable 5 information 'that the disclosing party may use to support its 6 claims or defenses, unless the use would be solely for 7 impeachment.'" Matson v. UPS, Inc., No. C10-1528 RAJ, 2013 WL 8 5966131, at *1 (W.D. Wash. Nov. 8, 2013) (quoting Fed. R. Civ.
9 Proc. 26(a)(1)(A)(i)). "Parties are also required to 10 [disclose] . . . the name and contact information of any 11 witnesses, . . . 'the party expects to present [at trial] and 12 those it may call if the need arises.'" Id. (quoting Fed. R. Civ.
13 Proc. 26(a)(3)(A)(i)). Further, "[a] party . . . who has made a 14 disclosure . . . must supplement or correct its . . .
15 response . . . if the party learns that in some material respect 16 the disclosure or response is incomplete." Fed. R. Civ. P.
17 26(e)(1).

18           "If a party fails to . . . identify a witness as 19 required by Rule 26(a) or (e), the party is not allowed to use 20 that . . . witness to supply evidence . . . at trial, unless the 21 failure was substantially justified or is harmless." Fed. R. Civ.
22 P. 37(c)(1). "The burden is on the party facing sanctions to 23 prove harmlessness [or substantial justification]." Yeti by 24 Molly, Ltd. v. Deckers Outdoor Corp., 259 F.3d 1101, 1107 (9th 25 Cir. 2001).

26           Defendant has not shown that its failure to identify 27 Captain Aguilar as a witness was "substantially justified 28 or . . . harmless." Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(c)(1). Therefore, this

1 motion is granted.
