1 IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between JOHNS 1994 FAMILY 2 TRUST, UTA DATED JULY 13, 1994; STUART JOHNS, INDIVIDUALLY AND AS, 3 TRUSTEE OF THE JOHNS FAMILY TRUST, UTA DATED JULY 13, 1994 and SUNBEAM 4 PRODUCTS, INC. DBA JARDEN CONSUMER SOLUTIONS by and through their 5 undersigned counsel that:

6 1. Proceedings and Information Governed

7 This Protective Order and any amendments or modifications hereto shall govern any 8 documents, information or thing furnished by any party, including third parties (hereafter 9 termed "conveying party"), to any other party (hereafter termed "receiving party") in connection 10 with the discovery and pretrial phase of this action.

11 This Protective Order shall not preclude any party from withholding any document, 12 information or thing on the basis of the attorney-client privilege or attorney work-product 13 doctrine, or otherwise affect any party's claim of privilege with respect to any such document, 14 information or thing. The inadvertent production of any privileged document, information or 15 thing shall not be deemed a waiver of such privilege or otherwise affect any party's right to seek 16 return of the inadvertently produced document, information or thing. Further, this Protective 17 Order shall not preclude any party from withholding any document, information or thing the 18 disclosure of which might constitute a breach of an agreement with a third party, nor shall it 19 preclude any party from moving the Court for an order directing the disclosure of such 20 materials.

21 This Protective Order does not govern proceedings during trial, nor does it prohibit 22 either party from seeking a protective order to govern proceedings during trial.

23 Subject to the terms set forth below, all information produced by a conveying party shall 24 be used by the parties receiving the information solely for the purposes of preparing for and 25 conducting this action, and the information shall not be used for any other purpose.

26 2. Definitions

27 "CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS" are any documents, information or things that 28 constitute, reflect or contain trade secrets or other non-public, proprietary or business-sensitive

1 information or things, including, without limitation, confidential research, development, 2 financial, corporate, or other commercial information belonging to or concerning a party or 3 conveying party and that a party or conveying party designates as "CONFIDENTIAL" as 4 described below.

5 "Confidentiality Pledge" shall mean an undertaking, in the form attached hereto as 6 Exhibit A, to be bound by the provisions of this Protective Order.

7 "Inadvertent Production" shall mean unintentional or accidental production of privileged 8 documents, information or things for whatever reason irrespective of whether: (i) such 9 production was careless, reckless, or negligent; or (ii) the precautions taken to avoid such 10 inadvertent production were inadequate.

11 3. Designation of Confidential Information

12 a. Documents, information and things produced by a party during the course 13 of this litigation, including but not limited to responses to discovery requests and 14 interrogatories, may be designated by such party as "CONFIDENTIAL" at the time of 15 production. After such time, a document, information or thing may be designated as 16 "CONFIDENTIAL" in writing, by any party, provided that any such designation shall be within 17 a reasonable time after disclosure. In addition, within one month of the date of this Protective 18 Order, any party may designate as "CONFIDENTIAL" a document, information or thing 19 previously produced in this action.

20 b. Documents, information and things produced by a party during the course 21 of this litigation, including but not limited to responses to discovery requests and 22 interrogatories, shall be designated by the conveying party as containing "CONFIDENTIAL"
23 information by placing a "CONFIDENTIAL – SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER " legend 24 on each page and each thing, by so indicating in any other reasonable manner appropriate to the 25 form in which the documents, information or things are made available to the receiving party, or 26 alternatively, by advising the receiving party in writing as to the particular documents, 27 information or things designated "CONFIDENTIAL".

c. A party may designate information disclosed at a deposition, including questions, testimony, documents or exhibits as "CONFIDENTIAL" by requesting that the reporter so designate all or part of the deposition transcript at the time of the deposition or by requesting such designation in writing within a reasonable time after receipt of the deposition transcript. Where only a portion of a deposition transcript contains "CONFIDENTIAL" information, only such portion of the transcript may be so designated. Any portions of a deposition transcript designated "CONFIDENTIAL" and any deposition exhibits so designated shall be bound separately and treated accordingly.

d. Any party invoking "CONFIDENTIAL" protection during a deposition may exclude from the room any person who is not authorized under this Protective Order to receive information designated "CONFIDENTIAL".

e. Any designation of discovery responses, motion papers, briefs, memoranda or any other papers filed or lodged with the Court and/or served on opposing counsel as "CONFIDENTIAL" shall be made when such papers are filed, lodged and/or served. The filing or lodging with the Court of any document containing "CONFIDENTIAL" information shall be done in conformance with Section 5 of this Protective Order.

f. A party may designate information disclosed at a hearing as "CONFIDENTIAL" by requesting, at the time the information is proffered or adduced, that the Court receive the information in camera and designate the transcript appropriately.

g. In the event that a party's motion papers, briefs, memoranda, discovery requests, requests for admissions or other papers of any kind contain another party's "CONFIDENTIAL" information, the papers shall be designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" and shall be treated accordingly.

h. All documents, including attorneys notes and abstracts, that contain another party's "CONFIDENTIAL" information shall be treated as if such documents were also designated as "CONFIDENTIAL".

i. The parties shall use reasonable care to avoid designating as "CONFIDENTIAL" any document, information or thing that is not entitled to such designation under Fed. R. Civ. Pro. 26(c) (7) or that is generally available to the public.

4. Use of Confidential Information

a. Documents, information or things designated "CONFIDENTIAL" shall not be made public by counsel or persons entitled access to such materials under this Protective Order unless such materials become part of the public record of this action other than through a violation of this Protective Order, and shall not be disclosed to anyone other than this Court and the persons entitled access to such materials under this Protective Order.

b. All documents, information and things designated "CONFIDENTIAL" may be used by persons to whom such documents, information and things are properly disclosed pursuant to this Protective Order solely for purposes of pretrial preparation and proceedings in this action, trial of this action and any appellate proceedings in this action. Such documents, information and things shall be used for no other purpose unless and until agreed to in writing by all parties to this action or authorized by order of the Court. No person who receives any such document, information or thing shall disclose it to any person for any purpose other than for pretrial preparation and proceedings in this action. Any such use of documents, information, or things in any such action shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Protective Order unless and until a superseding order is entered.

c. Documents, information and things designated "CONFIDENTIAL" may be disclosed by the receiving party only to: (i) officers and employees of the receiving party who the receiving party reasonably and in good faith believes need to know in order for the receiving party to prepare for this action; (ii) counsel in this action, and such counsel's stenographic, clerical and paralegal employees whose functions require access to such "CONFIDENTIAL" information; (iii) court reporters and stenographers engaged to transcribe depositions or proceedings in this action; (iv) the Court and its employees; (v) employees of the designating party during the course of a deposition or other proceeding in this action; (vi) experts or consultants retained by the receiving party and whose advice and consultation are 1 being or will be used by the party in connection with this action, provided that such experts and 2 consultants have first executed a Confidentiality Pledge; (vii) any non-party witness or any 3 person reasonably anticipated to be a witness at a deposition or other proceeding in this action 4 provided such person has executed a Confidentiality Pledge; and (viii) any other person, with 5 the prior written approval of the designating party, provided such person has executed a 6 Confidentiality Pledge.

7 d. Any and all Confidentiality Pledges signed by experts or consultants shall 8 be maintained by the receiving counsel, but need not be produced to opposing counsel absent an 9 order of the Court. All such Confidentiality Pledges shall be maintained by the receiving party's 10 counsel. At such time that the parties identify experts pursuant to order of the Court or by 11 supplementation pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, a copy of the Confidentiality Pledge with 12 respect to each identified expert shall be produced to the opposing counsel within ten days. At 13 the conclusion of the litigation, counsel for each party shall deliver to opposing counsel a copy 14 of each and every Confidentiality Pledge it obtained during the course of the litigation.

15 e. In the event that a party desires to provide access to or to disseminate 16 CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS to any person not otherwise entitled to access under this 17 Protective Order, that party may move the Court for an Order that such person be given access 18 thereto. In the event that the motion is granted, such person may have access to 19 CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS after first signing a Confidentiality Pledge, a copy of which 20 shall be forwarded promptly thereafter to opposing counsel.

21 f. Nothing herein shall restrict a party's use of its own materials that it 22 produces in discovery.

23 g. Nothing herein shall restrict a party's use of information which (i) the 24 conveying party agrees, or the Court rules, is already public knowledge, (ii) the conveying party 25 agrees, or the Court rules, has become public knowledge other than as a result of a violation of 26 this Protective Order or by any other unlawful means, (iii) was already known to the receiving 27 party under conditions such that its use and/or public disclosure by the receiving party would 28 not violate some obligation to another, which knowledge is established by pre-production

1 documentation, or (iv) has come or shall come into the receiving party's legitimate possession 2 independently of the conveying party under conditions such that its use and/or public disclosure 3 by the receiving party would not violate some obligation to another.

4 h. Nothing herein shall restrict or prohibit discussions with any person about 5 CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS if said person already has or obtains legitimate possession 6 thereof, without restrictions which would independently prohibit such discussion.

7 5. Filing or Lodging Documents with the Court

8 Any document filed or lodged with the Court in connection with proceedings in this 9 action that constitutes or contains "CONFIDENTIAL" documents, information or things shall 10 be filed with the Clerk of the Court in a sealed envelope, prominently endorsed with the caption 11 of the case, an indication of the general nature of the contents, and the following legend:

12 CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

13 This envelope is sealed pursuant to the May ____, 2015 Stipulated Protective 14 Order in this action. It contains information designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" 15 and is not to be opened or the contents revealed except by Order of the Court.

16 Notwithstanding the foregoing legend on envelopes containing "CONFIDENTIAL" 17 documents filed with the Court, the Court may open such envelope for purposes of conducting 18 an in camera review of such documents to determine whether the "CONFIDENTIAL" 19 designation is appropriate.

20 6. Inadvertent Failure to Designate

21 In the event that a conveying party inadvertently fails to designate documents, 22 information or things as "CONFIDENTIAL" the conveying party may later correct the error by 23 notifying the receiving party of the error in writing and making the appropriate designation in 24 accordance with paragraph 3 above. The receiving party shall thereafter treat the documents, 25 information or things in accordance with the designation and shall take reasonable steps to 26 ensure that any person to whom the receiving party has previously disclosed the documents, 27 information or things treats them in accordance with the designation.

1 If the conveying party chooses to produce new copies of the documents, information or things
2 with the appropriate "CONFIDENTIAL" designation, the receiving party shall return any copies 3 of the documents, information or things that were inadvertently produced without the proper 4 "CONFIDENTIAL" designation to the conveying party without retaining any copies thereof.
5 The receiving party shall also make reasonable efforts to obtain and return any improperly 6 designated documents, information or things and preclude their dissemination and use by any 7 person to whom the receiving party has previously disclosed the improperly designated 8 documents, information or things.

9 7. Challenge to Designations

10 a. A party may challenge any other party's designation of any document, 11 information or thing as "CONFIDENTIAL" at any time. Failure of a party expressly to 12 challenge a designation shall not constitute a waiver by such party of the right to assert at a 13 subsequent time that the designation is not appropriate.

14 b. In case of disagreement with the designation of any document, 15 information or thing as "CONFIDENTIAL" a party may request in writing that the designating 16 party change the designation.

17 c. If a party denies a request to change the designation of any document, 18 information or thing as "CONFIDENTIAL" and the requesting party disagrees with the 19 designating party's reasons for such denial or the designating party fails to respond to the 20 request, the requesting party may apply to the Court, in a manner consistent with the Court's 21 Individual Rules applicable to discovery disputes, for an Order removing or changing the 22 designation in the manner stated in the request. On such application, the designating party shall 23 have the burden of proving that the material in question is within the scope of protection 24 afforded by Rule 26 (c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. No use or disclosure of any 25 document, information or thing designated "CONFIDENTIAL" shall be made, except as 26 otherwise authorized by this Protective Order, unless and until the parties agree or the Court 27 orders that the designation shall be removed.

28 //

1 8. Inadvertent Disclosure

2 a. In the event of an inadvertent disclosure of a party's "CONFIDENTIAL" 3 documents, information or things to a person not authorized by this Protective Order to receive 4 such materials, the party making the inadvertent disclosure shall, upon learning of the 5 disclosure:

6 (i) promptly notify the person to whom the disclosure was made that 7 it contains "CONFIDENTIAL" information subject to this Protective Order;

8 (ii) promptly make reasonable efforts to obtain the return of the 9 "CONFIDENTIAL" documents, information, or things from and preclude its dissemination or 10 use by the person to whom disclosure was inadvertently made; and 11 (iii) within five (5) business days, serve the conveying party with a 12 written notice stating the identity of the person to whom the disclosure was made, the nature of 13 and circumstances surrounding the disclosure and the steps taken to obtain the return of the 14 improperly disclosed documents, information or things and to ensure against their further 15 dissemination or use.

16 9. Inadvertent Production of Privileged Documents, Information or Things

17 To facilitate the timely production of voluminous documents in compliance with the 18 parties' respective requests for production, the inadvertent production of any privileged 19 document, information or thing shall not be deemed a waiver of such privilege or otherwise 20 affect any party's right to seek return of the inadvertently produced document, information or 21 thing. The party receiving a document, information or thing that appears to be privileged shall 22 promptly notify the conveying party upon becoming aware that the document, information or 23 thing may have been inadvertently produced and, in any event, before making any use of said 24 document, information or thing in its submissions to the Court or otherwise. The fact that a 25 document, information or thing is listed on a party's privilege log shall be prima facie evidence 26 that such document, information or thing has been inadvertently produced, but the failure to list 27 such document, information or thing shall not preclude the conveying party from claiming that 28 the document, information or thing is privileged and was inadvertently produced.

1 In the event documents, information or things which are claimed to be privileged or 2 subject to the work product doctrine are inadvertently produced during discovery, such 3 documents, information or things shall be returned by the receiving party within two days of 4 any written request therefor, unless the receiving party challenges the privileged nature of the 5 documents, information or things in which case the conveying party shall be entitled to make an 6 application to the Court for the return of such documents, information or things. A claimed lack 7 of privilege (and not the inadvertent production) shall be the sole ground for refusing to return 8 inadvertently produced privileged documents, information or things and such documents, 9 information or things shall only be retained while an application to the court is pending. While 10 such application is pending, the receiving party shall not use or divulge the contents of such 11 documents, information or things except to the Court under seal. If the Court finds that the 12 documents, information or things in question are privileged, the receiving party shall promptly 13 return all copies of the inadvertently produced documents, information, or things and not retain 14 any copies, notes or summaries of said documents, information or things. The receiving party 15 shall also make reasonable efforts to obtain and return any inadvertently produced document(s), 16 information or thing(s) and preclude their dissemination and use by any person to whom the 17 receiving party has previously disclosed the inadvertently produced document(s), information or 18 thing(s).

19 10. Non-party Information

20 Discovery in this proceeding may involve disclosure by a non-party of its 21 "CONFIDENTIAL" documents, information or things. At the option of a non-party, such 22 documents, information or things may be produced subject to the provisions of this Protective 23 Order and, in that event, shall provide the non-party, with respect to the information produced 24 by such non-party in connection with the discovery and pre-trial phase of this action, with all of 25 the rights and obligations of a party as created by this Protective Order.

26 11. Subpoenas

27 a. In the event any person or party having possession, custody or control of 28 any document, information or thing designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" by another party pursuant to the terms of this Protective Order receives a subpoena or other process or order to produce the document, information or thing, the subpoenaed person or party shall promptly (within five business days):

(i) give notification in writing of such fact to the attorneys of record of the designating party;

(ii) furnish such attorneys of record with a copy of such subpoenas, process or order; and

(iii) provide reasonable cooperation to the designating party with respect to any procedure instituted by the designating party to protect the confidentiality of the document, information or thing, including seeking all reasonable extensions to afford the disputing party an opportunity to obtain appropriate judicial relief;

(iv) provide the designated party reasonable time to seek appropriate judicial relief before complying with the subpoena.

b. If the designating party makes a motion to quash or modify the subpoena, process or order, the subpoenaed party shall not disclose, pursuant to the subpoena, process or order, any document, information or thing designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" by the designating party except as required by an order or other process of the court having jurisdiction over the matter, and then only in accordance with such order or process.

12. Modification

a. Nothing herein shall restrict the power of the Court to modify this Protective Order or any term hereof for good cause shown.

b. Nothing herein shall preclude any party from applying to the Court for relief from this Protective Order, or from applying to the Court for further or additional protective orders, or from agreeing between themselves in writing, to modification of this Protective Order, subject to the approval of this Court.

c. Nothing herein shall preclude any party from enforcing its rights against any other party or any non-party believed to be violating its rights.

1 13. No Waiver

2 Neither the taking of, nor the failure to take, any action to enforce the provisions of this 3 Protective Order, nor the exercise of, or failure to exercise, any rights created by this Protective 4 Order, shall constitute a waiver of any right to seek or obtain protection or relief other than as 5 specified herein or to pursue any claim or defense in this action or any other action. This 6 Protective Order shall not affect the rights of the parties to object to discovery on grounds other 7 than those related to trade secrets or confidential or proprietary information claims, nor shall it 8 relieve a party of its obligation to respond properly to discovery requests.

9 14. Disposition of Documents at Termination of Litigation

10 a. At the conclusion of this action, each receiving party shall either return 11 all CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS of a conveying party in its possession, custody or control, 12 and any copies thereof, to counsel for the conveying party, or shall otherwise dispose of such 13 CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS in a manner agreeable to both parties, except that trial counsel
14 for the receiving party may retain work-product derived from the CONFIDENTIAL 15 MATERIALS of a conveying party. With respect to any such retained work-product, and 16 unless otherwise agreed to, this Protective Order shall survive the final termination of this 17 action, except to the extent that the information in any CONFIDENTIAL MATERIALS is or 18 becomes known to the public through no fault of the receiving party.

19 b. Sealed records which have been filed with the Clerk of Court shall be 20 removed by the party submitting them (1) within ninety (90) days after a final decision is 21 rendered if no appeal is taken, or (2) if an appeal is taken, within thirty (30) days after final 22 disposition of the appeal. Parties failing to comply with this order shall be notified by the Clerk 23 that, should they fail to remove the sealed records within thirty (30) days, the Clerk may dispose 24 of them.

25 15. Violation of Order

26 Any violation of this Stipulated Protective Order during the pendency of this action or 27 thereafter may be punishable as a contempt of court and may be grounds for a Motion for 28 Sanctions to be filed in the Federal District Court.

1 16. Approval By Court

2 The parties further agree that they will tender this Stipulated Protective Order to the 3 Court to be so ordered and that, prior to approval by the Court, this Stipulated Protective Order 4 shall be effective and binding on the parties hereto as if approved by the Court.
