

1 The court is required to screen complaints brought by prisoners seeking relief against a 2 governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). The 3 court must dismiss a complaint or portion thereof if the prisoner has raised claims that are legally 4 "frivolous or malicious," that fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or that seek 5 monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. $1915A(b)(1),(2). 6 A claim is legally frivolous when it lacks an arguable basis either in law or in fact. 7 Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 325 (1989); Franklin v. Murphy, 745 F.2d 1221, 1227-28 (9th 8 Cir. 1984). The court may, therefore, dismiss a claim as frivolous where it is based on an 9 indisputably meritless legal theory or where the factual contentions are clearly baseless. Neitzke, 10 490 U.S. at 327. The critical inquiry is whether a constitutional claim, however inartfully 11 pleaded, has an arguable legal and factual basis. See Jackson v. Arizona, 885 F.2d 639, 640 (9th 12 Cir. 1989); Franklin, 745 F.2d at 1227. 13 In order to avoid dismissal for failure to state a claim a complaint must contain more than 14 "naked assertions," "labels and conclusions" or "a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause 15 of action." Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555-557 (2007). In other words, 16 "[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory 17 statements do not suffice." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). Furthermore, a claim 18 upon which the court can grant relief has facial plausibility. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570. "A 19 claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw 20 the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Iqbal, 556 U.S. 21 at 678. When considering whether a complaint states a claim upon which relief can be granted, 22 the court must accept the allegations as true, Erickson v. Pardus, 127 S. Ct. 2197, 2200 (2007), 23 and construe the complaint in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, see Scheuer v. Rhodes, 416 24 U.S. 232, 236 (1974). 25

The court finds the allegations in plaintiff's complaint so vague and conclusory that it fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Although the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure adopt a flexible pleading policy, a complaint must give fair notice and state the elements of the claim plainly and succinctly. Jones v. Community Redev. Agency, 733 F.2d 646, 649 (9th Cir. 1984). Plaintiff must allege with at least some degree of particularity overt acts which defendants engaged in that support plaintiff's claim. Id. Plaintiff's complaint must be dismissed. The court will, however, grant leave to file an amended complaint.

- If plaintiff chooses to amend the complaint, plaintiff must demonstrate how the conditions 4 5 complained of have resulted in a deprivation of plaintiff's constitutional rights. See Ellis v. 6 Cassidy, 625 F.2d 227 (9th Cir. 1980). Plaintiff complains about the food at California State 7 Prison Solano. Plaintiff has a right under the Eighth Amendment not to be subjected to cruel and 8 unusual punishment. In the nutrition context, cruel and unusual punishment has been found 9 where prison officials fail to provide food that is adequate to maintain health. LeMaire v. Maass, 10 12 F.3d 1444, 1456 (9th Cir. 1993). As with any Eighth Amendment claim, plaintiff must allege 11 that the defendant's level of intent in failing to provide constitutionally adequate food was at least 12 deliberate indifference. See Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 834 (1994).
- Plaintiff's amended complaint must allege in specific terms how each named defendant is involved. There can be no liability under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 unless there is some clear, affirmative link or connection between a defendant's actions and the claimed deprivation. Rizzo v. Goode, 423 U.S. 362 (1976). Furthermore, vague and conclusory allegations of official participation in civil rights violations are not sufficient. Ivey v. Board of Regents, 673 F.2d 266, 268 (9th Cir.
 1982).

19 Finally, plaintiff is informed that the court cannot refer to a prior pleading in order to 20 make plaintiff's amended complaint complete. Local Rule 220 requires that an amended 21 complaint be complete in itself without reference to any prior pleading. This is because, as a 22 general rule, an amended complaint supersedes the original complaint. See Loux v. Rhay, 375 23 F.2d 55, 57 (9th Cir. 1967). Once plaintiff files an amended complaint, the original pleading no 24 longer serves any function in the case. Therefore, in an amended complaint, as in an original 25 complaint, each claim and the involvement of each defendant must be sufficiently alleged. 26 /////

1	In accordance with the above, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that:
2	1. Plaintiff's request for leave to proceed in forma pauperis (ECF No. 2) is granted.
3	2. Plaintiff is obligated to pay the statutory filing fee of $350.00 for this action. All fees
4	shall be collected and paid in accordance with this court's order to the Director of the California
5	Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation filed concurrently herewith.
6	3. Plaintiff's complaint is dismissed.
7	4. Plaintiff is granted thirty days from the date of service of this order to file an amended
8	complaint that complies with the requirements of the Civil Rights Act, the Federal Rules of Civil
9	Procedure, and the Local Rules of Practice. The amended complaint must bear the docket
10	number assigned this case and must be labeled "Amended Complaint." Failure to file an
11	amended complaint in accordance with this order will result in a recommendation that this action
12	be dismissed.
