SUA SPONTE ORDER REMANDING ACTION TO STATE COURT

The undersigned revokes any actual or anticipated referral to a Magistrate Judge for the purposes of Findings and Recommendations in this case. See Local Rule 302(d) (“Notwithstanding any other provision of this Rule, a Judge may retain any matter otherwise routinely referred to a Magistrate Judge.”).

On May 4, 2018, Defendants Garret Ambrosio and Elaine Gabagat-Ambrosio filed a Notice of Removal with this Court, seeking to remove an action from the Superior Court for the County of Solano. Notice of Removal, ECF No. 1. For the following reasons, the Court sua sponte REMANDS this case to the Superior Court of California for the County of Solano.

Under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a), a defendant may remove an action to federal court if the district court has original jurisdiction. Hunter v. Phillip Morris USA, 582 F.3d 1039, 1042 (9th Cir. 2009) (quoting Ansley v. Ameriquest Mortg. Co., 340 F.3d 858, 861 (9th Cir. 2003)). If at any time before final judgment it appears that the district court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, the case shall be remanded. 28 U.S.C. § 1447(c). Generally, a defendant seeking to remove an action to federal court must file a notice of removal within thirty days of receiving a copy of the initial pleading. 28 U.S.C.

1 § 1446(b). The defendant seeking removal of an action to federal court has the burden of establishing
2 federal jurisdiction in the case. California ex rel. Lockyer v. Dynege, Inc., 375 F.3d 831, 838 (9th Cir.
3 2004).

4 Defendants are attempting to remove an unlawful detainer action based on federal question
5 subject matter jurisdiction. Notice of Removal at 2. However, Defendants cannot establish jurisdiction
6 that is proper. Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction and lack inherent or general subject
7 matter jurisdiction. Federal courts can adjudicate only those cases authorized by the United States
8 Constitution and Congress. Generally, those cases involve diversity of citizenship or a federal question,
9 or cases in which the United States is a party. Kokkonen v. Guardian Life Ins. Co., 511 U.S. 375 (1994);
10 Finley v. United States, 490 U.S. 545 (1989). Federal courts are presumptively without jurisdiction over 11 civil actions. Kokkonen, 511 U.S. at 377. Lack of subject matter jurisdiction is never waived and may 12 be raised by the Court sua sponte. Attorneys Trust v. Videotape Computer Prods., Inc., 93 F.3d 593,
13 594-95 (9th Cir. 1996). “Nothing is to be more jealously guarded by a court than its jurisdiction.
14 Jurisdiction is what its power rests upon. Without jurisdiction it is nothing.” In re Mooney, 841 F.2d
15 1003, 1006 (9th Cir. 1988).

16 Furthermore, the law is clear in the Ninth Circuit that the removal statute should be strictly 17 construed in favor of remand and against removal. Harris v. Bankers Life and Cas. Co., 425 F.3d 689,
18 698 (9th Cir. 2005). The “strong presumption” against removal jurisdiction means that the defendant
19 always has the burden of establishing that removal is proper. Nishimoto v. Federman–Bachrach &
20 Assocs., 903 F.2d 709, 712 n.3 (9th Cir. 1990); Emrich v. Touche Ross & Co., 846 F.2d 1190, 1195 (9th 21 Cir. 1988). Federal jurisdiction must be rejected if there is any doubt as to the right of removal in the 22 first instance. Gaus v. Miles, Inc., 980 F.2d 564, 566 (9th Cir. 1992).

23 In this case, Defendants are unable to establish subject matter jurisdiction before this Court
24 because the complaint filed in the state court apparently contains a single cause of action for unlawful 25 detainer based on California Code of Civil Procedure section 1161a. Unlawful detainer actions are

1 strictly within the province of state court. Defendants' attempt at creating federal subject matter
2 jurisdiction by adding claims or defenses to a notice of removal will not succeed. Vaden v. Discover
3 Bank, 556 U.S. 49, 50 (2009) (federal question jurisdiction cannot "rest upon an actual or anticipated
4 counterclaim"); Valles v. Ivy Hill Corp., 410 F.3d 1071, 1075 (9th Cir. 2005) ("A federal law defense to 5 a state-law claim does not confer jurisdiction on a federal court, even if the defense is that of federal 6 preemption and is anticipated in the plaintiff's complaint.").

7 In determining the presence or absence of federal jurisdiction in removal cases, the "well-
8 pleaded complaint rule" applies, "which provides that federal jurisdiction exists only when a federal 9 question is presented on the face of the plaintiff's properly pleaded complaint." Caterpillar Inc. v.
10 Williams, 482 U.S. 386, 392 (1987). Moreover, "it is well established that plaintiff is the 'master of her
11 complaint' and can plead to avoid federal jurisdiction." Lowdermilk v. U.S. Bank Nat'l Ass'n, 479 F.3d 12 994, 998-99 (9th Cir. 2007); Metro. Life Ins. Co. v. Taylor, 481 U.S. 58, 63 (1987) (citing Gully v. First
13 Nat'l Bank, 299 U.S. 109 (1936)) ("It is long settled law that a cause of action arises under federal law 14 only when the plaintiff's well-pleaded complaint raises issues of federal law.").

15 Plaintiff's complaint raises a single state law claim. The face of a properly-pled state law
16 unlawful detainer action does not present a federal question. Therefore, Plaintiff's complaint avoids
17 federal question jurisdiction. Defendants cannot inject a federal issue through their answer.

18 Accordingly, the Court REMANDS this case to the Superior Court for the County of Solano for 19 all future proceedings.

20 Defendants' motions to proceed in forma pauperis, ECF Nos. 2 & 3, are DENIED as moot.
