

1 On January 23, 2009, plaintiffs filed a request, pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 2 201, that the court take judicial notice of the following eleven documents:

- 3 1. Assembly Bill 8, commonly known as ABX1_8, passed by 4 the California Legislature on December 18, 2008.
- 5 2. Governor Schwarzenegger's veto message for ABX1_8, 6 dated January 6, 2009.
- 7 3. Assembly Bill 10, commonly known as ABX1_10, passed 8 by the California Legislature on December 18, 2008.
- 9 4. Governor Schwarzenegger's veto message for ABX1_10,
10 dated January 6, 2009.
- 11 5. 2009-2010 Governor's Budget General Fund Proposals.
- 12 6. The U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Justice 13 Programs, Bureau of Justice Statistics, National Prisoner 14 Statistics Program report entitled Census of State and 15 Federal Correctional Facilities, 2005, October 2008, NCJ 16 222182, by James J. Stephan, BJS Statistician (referred to 17 herein as National Prisoner Statistics Program report).
- 18 7. The Plata Receiver's October 27, 2006 Newsletter, vol. 1, 19 No. 4.
- 20 8. The Tenth Tri-Annual Report of the Plata Receiver's 21 Turnaround Plan of Action, dated January 15, 2009 and 22 filed in Plata and Coleman on January 20, 2009.
- 23 9. The November 7, 2008 order of the United States Court of 24 Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in Plata v. Schwarzenegger,
No. 08-17412, staying the district court's October 27, 2008 order.

26 California at Irvine Center for Evidence-Based 27 Corrections, setting forth the mission of the Center and its 28 relationship with the California Department of Corrections.

Little Hoover Commission, setting forth the mission and make-up of the Little Hoover Commission.

25 See Jan. 23, 2009 Req. for Judicial Notice at 2-4. On February 2, 2009, defendants filed 26 objections to the request for judicial notice, contending that (1) admission of the eleven 27 documents after the close of evidence in these proceedings "is manifestly unfair" and would 28

1 be prejudicial to defendants<sup>1</sup>; (2) some of the proposed evidence is barred by a provision of 2 this court's July 2, 2008 order preventing admission at trial of evidence of "changed prison 3 conditions after August 30, 2008"; and (3) the documents are not properly subject to judicial 4 notice. Defendants contend that plaintiffs have not satisfied their burden of identifying 5 which facts within the eleven documents can be judicially noticed. Defendants also contend 6 that it is improper to take judicial notice of the entire contents of the documents and that 7 judicial notice, if any, should be limited to the fact that the documents exist.

8 Rule 201 of the Federal Rules of Evidence provides in relevant part:

9 (a) Scope of rule.

10 This rule governs only judicial notice of adjudicative facts.

11 (b) Kinds of facts.

12 A judicially noticed fact must be one not subject to reasonable 13 dispute in that it is either (1) generally known within the 14 territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned.

15 (c) When discretionary.

16 A court may take judicial notice, whether requested or not.

17 (d) When mandatory.

18 A court shall take judicial notice if requested by a party and 19 supplied with the necessary information.

20 (e) Opportunity to be heard.

21 A party is entitled upon timely request to an opportunity to be 22 heard as to the propriety of taking judicial notice and the tenor of the matter noticed. In the absence of prior notification, the request may be made after judicial notice has been taken.

23 (f) Time of taking notice.

24 Judicial notice may be taken at any stage of the proceeding.

26
27 <sup>1</sup>Defendants also assert that admission of the evidence would be prejudicial to the 28 defendant-intervenors, but none of the defendant-intervenors have filed objections to plaintiffs' request, nor have any of them joined in defendants' objections.

1 Fed. R. Evid. 201(a)-(f). Rule 201 “permits a court to take judicial notice of adjudicative
2 facts ‘not subject to reasonable dispute.’” United States v. Chapel, 41 F.3d 1338, 1342 (9th
3 Cir. 1994). “Adjudicative facts are simply the facts of the particular case.” Advisory Notes
4 to Fed. R. Evid. 201.

5 The two assembly bills and the Governor’s vetoes thereof are relevant to the matters
6 at bar and properly subject to judicial notice. Plaintiffs’ request for judicial notice is granted 7 as to these four documents.<sup>2</sup>

8 On January 7, 2009, the court ordered the state to, “advise the Court and the parties 9 whether the Governor has submitted a budget proposal to the legislature containing any 10 provisions relating to the release of prisoners” and, if so, to “further advise the Court and the 11 parties whether such provisions include any statements regarding public safety as well as the 12 method by which any reductions in the prison system should be accomplished” and “what 13 effect, if any, the provisions in the Governor’s proposed budget have on the State’s position 14 in this lawsuit.” Jan. 7, 2009 Order at 1. The state was directed to “attach to its response . . .
15 a copy of all relevant portions of the Governor’s proposed budget.” Id. The state filed its 16 response on January 16, 2009, accompanied by a declaration to which is appended several 17 pages of the Governor’s 2009-10 Budget Proposal that is the subject of plaintiffs’ request for 18 judicial notice. Plaintiffs’ request for judicial notice is granted as to the budget proposal.

19 The Receiver’s Tenth Tri-Annual Report is dated January 15, 2009, and it was filed in 20 both of the underlying actions on January 20, 2009. On September 5, 2008, the court ordered 21 that the Receiver’s Ninth Tri-Annual Report would be admissible at trial as to fifteen items 22 contained therein and identified in a request filed by defendants on August 29, 2008. The 23 September 5, 2008 order specifically provided that, in making the order, the court was 24 permitting “a limited exception” to the August 30, 2008 cut-off for evidence of changed

25
26 <sup>2</sup>On July 2, 2008, the court issued an order for pretrial preparation following a 27 June 27, 2008 status conference. In that order, the court held that “[a]dditional site 28 inspections of prison facilities may be conducted through and including August 30, 2008.
No evidence of changed prison conditions after August 30, 2008 shall be admitted at trial.
This prohibition does not include evidence of legislative changes that may occur after August 30, 2008.” July 2, 2008 Order, at 3.

1 prison conditions. It appears that plaintiffs' request for judicial notice of the Receiver's 2 Tenth Tri-Annual Report seeks admission of the Report in part as evidence of the impact of 3 crowding on the delivery of medical care, in part as evidence to impeach defendants' reliance 4 on the Receivership and the work of the Receiver and his staff as a defense in these 5 proceedings, and in part as evidence of delays that have attended plans to construct new 6 facilities and the length of time that would be required to do so.<sup>3</sup>

7 The court has not considered as evidence in these proceedings any part of the 8 Receiver's Tenth Tri-Annual Report that addresses the impact of crowding on the delivery of 9 medical care or the impact of an alleged lack of state funding on the Receiver's schedule for 10 construction of new healthcare facilities. The court does take judicial notice of the ongoing 11 litigation in Plata concerning the state's refusal to comply with court orders in that case to 12 provide funds to the Receiver and the state's motion to terminate the Receivership, but it
13 does so with reference to documents filed by the state in Plata and relevant court orders 14 rather than through the Receiver's Tenth Tri-Annual Report. See Chandler v. United States, 15 378 F.2d 906, 909 (9th Cir. 1967) (it is "established rule" that "federal district court can take 16 judicial notice of its own records"). Plaintiffs' request for judicial notice of the Receiver's 17 Tenth Tri-Annual Report is denied.

18 The November 7, 2008 order of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth 19 Circuit in Plata v. Schwarzenegger, No. 08-17412, staying the district court's October 27, 20 2008 order is properly subject to judicial notice and relevant to issues at bar, specifically the 21 state's refusal to provide court-ordered funding to the Receiver. Plaintiffs' request for 22 judicial notice is granted as to this document.

24 <sup>3</sup>Plaintiffs' request for judicial notice was filed on the same day that plaintiffs and the 25 other parties in this action filed, pursuant to court order, proposed findings of fact and 26 conclusions of law. Plaintiffs filed a corrected version of their proposed findings of fact and 27 conclusions of law on January 28, 2009. Plaintiffs' corrected proposed findings of fact and 28 conclusions of law contain citations to nine of the eleven documents for which judicial notice is sought, including the Receiver's Tenth Tri-Annual Report. The court construes plaintiffs' request for judicial notice as a request for judicial notice of the specific facts for which the Receiver's Tenth Tri-Annual Report is cited in the corrected proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law.

1           The court has already taken judicial notice of the Plata Receiver's October 27, 2006 2 Newsletter, vol.1, No. 4, in connection with its consideration of defendants' motion for 3 summary judgment and, as a consequence, the document is part of the record in these 4 proceedings. See Nov. 3, 2008 Order; Ex. B to Req. for Judicial Notice in Supp. of Pls.'
5 Opp'n to Defs.' Mot. to Dismiss and/or Mot. for Summ. Judgment/Adjudication.

6           The court has not considered as evidence in these proceedings the Bureau of Justice 7 Statistics report. Plaintiffs' request for judicial notice of this document is denied.

8           Plaintiffs' request for judicial notice of the two web pages is granted.

9           On February 25, 2009, defendants filed a request for judicial notice of Senate Bill 14, 10 signed into law by Governor Schwarzenegger on February 20, 2009. There are no objections 11 to this request. The request is granted.

12           On June 8, 2009, and July 29, 2009, plaintiffs filed two additional requests for judicial 13 notice, seeking judicial notice of various documents related to proposals by Governor 14 Schwarzenegger to reduce the prison population. Defendants have filed objections to both 15 requests. These requests were filed well after final argument in these proceedings and this 16 court's Feb. 9, 2009 tentative ruling, but the documents may be relevant in connection with 17 the court's consideration of any plan produced by defendants in response to the court's order.
18 Plaintiffs' request for judicial notice of these documents is denied without prejudice.

19           On December 1, 2008, defendants filed a motion to strike paragraphs 15 and 53 of the 20 expert report of Dr. James Austin, wherein Dr. Austin reports that he was asked to give an 21 opinion on whether overcrowding is the primary cause of the constitutional violations and 22 then gives that opinion. On December 4, 2008, plaintiffs filed a motion to strike similar 23 portions of the expert report of Dr. James Marquart. Both parties contend that these 24 witnesses were not proffered as witnesses during Phase I of the trial, which focused on the 25 causation question. Plaintiffs do not oppose defendants' motion. Defendants oppose 26 plaintiffs' motion to the extent that it might cover matters related to Phase II issues. The 27 court has not considered the opinions of either Dr. Austin or Dr. Marquart concerning
