1 I. RELIEF REQUESTED.

2 Defendant AT&T CORP. (“AT&T”) hereby moves pursuant to Civil L.R. 7-11 for 3 an order shortening time on the Motion of Defendant AT&T Corp. to Compel Return of 4 Confidential Documents (“Confidential Documents Motion”), filed herewith. AT&T asks
5 that its Confidential Documents Motion be briefed and heard on the following schedule:

6 Thursday, April 13, 2006: Plaintiffs file and hand-serve (or e-serve, if 7 appropriate) their opposition to AT&T’s Confidential Documents Motion.

8 Tuesday, April 18, 2006: AT&T file and hand-serve (or e-serve, if appropriate) its 9 reply to plaintiffs’ opposition.

10 Thursday, April 20, 2006, at 2 p.m.: Hearing before the Honorable Vaughn R.
11 Walker, United States Chief District Judge, in Courtroom 6, 17th Floor, 450 Golden Gate
12 Avenue, San Francisco, California.

13 II. REASONS FOR SEEKING EXPEDITED BRIEFING AND HEARING.

14 The relevant facts are set forth in the Confidential Documents Motion and the two 15 declarations filed with it. Here AT&T shall give only the barest outline of the facts to note 16 the reasons why expedited briefing and hearing makes sense.

17 Plaintiffs obtained AT&T documents from an AT&T employee. The documents are 18 highly confidential. AT&T wants them back. AT&T also wants them kept under seal. As 19 detailed in the declaration of James W. Russell, filed herewith, the documents are 20 confidential and proprietary. Disclosure of them would cause AT&T great harm and 21 potentially jeopardize AT&T’s network, making it vulnerable to hackers and worse.

22 Plaintiffs filed these documents under seal (together with two declarations) on 23 April 5, 2006 pursuant to Civil Local Rule 79-5. The documents, plus the two declarations, 24 form the centerpiece of plaintiffs’ preliminary injunction motion, filed March 31, 2006, and 25 noticed for hearing on June 8, 2006. Without these documents, plaintiffs’ motion rests on 26 little more than newspaper clippings. Before filing further briefs and preparing for the 27 hearing on plaintiffs’ preliminary injunction motion, both sides need to know whether this 28 evidence will be admissible, or not.

1 Plaintiffs' filings have been accompanied by a great burst of publicity, as detailed in 2 the declaration of Bruce Ericson, filed herewith. Plaintiffs' counsel have orchestrated some 3 of the publicity. An AT&T employee also has been quoted in the media and evidently has 4 provided written statements to news organizations detailing a number of matters that appear
5 in his declaration filed under seal. Before this Court has had any opportunity to rule
6 whether the documents should be returned to their rightful owner, AT&T, whether they 7 should remain under seal and whether they should be considered as evidence, highly 8 confidential information from these documents has reached the press.

9 All this is causing grave injury to AT&T and to the security of its network. It
10 therefore is important that this cease as soon as possible. AT&T therefore suggests an 11 expedited briefing schedule so that issues regarding the possession and sealing of these 12 documents can quickly be resolved, in a manner consistent with Civil Local Rule 79-5, the 13 parties' needs and the public interest.

14 Civil Local Rule 79-5 contemplates that decisions about sealing will be made 15 quickly. Therefore, AT&T has just five court days, or until Wednesday, April 12, 2006 to 16 make its showing under Civil Local Rule 79-5(d). AT&T will meet that schedule. AT&T
17 suggests that the most efficient course for the Court and for the parties would be to address
18 the issues raised by the Confidential Documents Motion at roughly the same time.

19 The prejudice to plaintiffs from this expedited schedule, if any, is minimal.
20 Plaintiffs have had the documents at issue for what their counsel has described as several 21 months. They have had ample time to develop their arguments and they have already 22 articulated their position. See Declaration of Lee Tien in Support of Administrative 23 Motions to Extend Page Limit for Motion for Preliminary Injunction and to Lodge
24 Documents with the Court (Dkt. 35), Ex. C (Letter of Cindy Cohn).

25 If AT&T's proposed schedule is inconvenient for the Court, AT&T respectfully
26 requests that the Court set a prompt briefing and hearing schedule to address AT&T's
27 Confidential Documents Motion and the sealing of the documents at issue at a time and on 28

1 a briefing schedule that is convenient for the Court. Almost any schedule will suit AT&T
2 so long as this matter is resolved promptly.

3 Dated: April 10, 2006.
