Management Summary – TomorrowNow

left for discussion purposes only

Value Proposition

› Offer lower priced 24x7 maintenance alternative to PeopleSoft, JD Edwards, and Siebel customers with 50% savings on current support and maintenance fees

› Provide those customers with a choice to migrate to SAP (at their own pace) Customer View

› Serves as bridge for future SAP license business for (smaller, not SAP-minded customers) SAP View

› Hurt Oracle by taking away maintenance revenue

Business Case Analysis

› TomorrowNow established as cornerstone of the Safe Passage Program

  › Safe Passage pipeline (264 opportunities currently in process), TomorrowNow pipeline (872 open opportunities), and revenues justify the cost of the acquisition and additional operating expenses

  › Installed base grown to 193 customers with 161 TomorrowNow customer contracts signed in the first ten months of 2006 (106 new contracts and 55 renewals in 2006; 121 signed in 2005 with 75 new deals and 46 renewals)

  › € 25.7 million reduction of Oracle maintenance revenue in the first ten months of 2006 (€ 36.5 million in total including 2005)

  › € 6.9 million TomorrowNow stand-alone revenue in the first ten months of 2006 (€ 3.5 million in 2005)

Lessons Learned

› Field: Another year needed to finalize global alignment with SAP Sales organization

› Marketing: Oracle Disruption Campaign Q3/2006 resulted in high lead success rate for TomorrowNow, i.e. high return on marketing investments

  › Oracle Turn up the Heat Campaign resulted in 150+ opportunities for TomorrowNow (15 contracts signed)

› F&A: Globalization of business in cooperation with SAP regions is a challenge and was underestimated as such → Need to actively manage regional shared services for TNow

Conclusion

  TomorrowNow is a strategic project and as such serves as strategic leaver against Oracle
  ▪ Take away maintenance revenue from Oracle
  ▪ Create pre-pipeline of future SAP customers

  ▪ TomorrowNow still operates at a loss in 2006 but Break-even is expected for 2008 after completion of globalization and business scoping in 2007 (in line with board assumption to become a profitable business within 2-3 years after acquisition)
