Hi John,

Your suggestion works as I cloned f842rwcms PSHOME to location e:\pssoft\psbooks. Then I installed PIA and books.

Full text search is now working. No need for app server/database to be up.

Thanks,

If so, I would suggest cloning a sqlserver 8.44 environment to a generic environment or using one of the development environments if possible.

Yup.

George wanted for us to be able to search. I had these books installed on wl 5.1 but then found out search wouldn't work with that version.

Install

Nhat,

I noticed that, too. Is full text search a requirement?

According to PS, in order to use full-text search, peoplebooks must be installed under PS_Home\webserv\peoplesoft\applications\peoplesoft\PSOL\html.doc.

To me for 8.44 and above, PSOL has to be tied to a PIA install. Correct me if I am wrong.

If that is the case, do you suggest any workaround?

Nhat,

Sorry, I got tied up with a support case. As for the PeopleBooks install, it looks like in tools 8.44 and above, the default install location is PS_Home\webserv\peoplesoft\applications\peoplesoft\PSOL\html.doc. I think in our case we should treat this install as a non peopletools machine and install to e:\pssoft\psbooks. You may want to verify with George but I think this is the way we want to install it so the peoplebooks are not tied to a specific environment.

Thanks,
John
