Hello Mr. Schraeder,

I've still not heard anything back concerning the acquisition of Oracle database licenses. Could you please advise as to what actions I can take to further proceed with this request? I truly appreciate you taking time out of your busy schedule to assist me with this matter.

Best Regards,

Alex La Mar

Subject: Oracle Database Licenses

Hello Mr. Schraeder,

My name is Alex La Mar and I'm with TomorrowNow, a subsidiary company of SAP. Your name has been referenced to me as the contact person for a question I have concerning acquiring Oracle database licenses. We need to purchase these licenses for environments where we develop our customer's deliverables. Specifically, we would like to purchase Oracle Standard Edition for a 4 CPU machine running AIX and a 4 CPU machine running windows. I've researched this topic through the SAP Corporate Portal and browsed through the GCC IT Portal, however, I'm still unable to find the answer to my question. Could you please assist me with this? I'd like to find out how to proceed with this request, as well as ascertain any information whether or not TomorrowNow would fall under an enterprise license agreement established by Oracle with SAP?

I truly appreciate you taking time out of your busy schedule to assist me with this matter. I look forward to your reply.

Best Regards,

Alex,
I was given a name in Germany to check w/ on any Oracle license or maintenance info....

John - Sorry, I misplaced the gentleman's name you said to check with... can you please let me know?

Thanks,
Jen

Alex,
That I know of we do not have an existing enterprise license agreement w/ Oracle. I am going to discuss this w/ our counterpart from Germany tomorrow. He is here for the next 4 days and if an enterprise agreement does exist he would know....

Will update you when I have more info.

Regards,
Jen
