

EXHIBIT N

Message

From: CN=Eric Osterloh/O=TomorrowNow
Sent: 1/23/2006 12:18:07 PM
To: Sruti.Patnaik@ros.com
CC: CN=Bob Geib/O=TomorrowNow
Subject: TomorrowNow - Meeting to clear up concerns

Sruti,

I wanted to follow-up via email to my voicemail this morning. I would like to understand why there is a concern with the ownership of TomorrowNow by SAP and who may have raised this issue. There have not been any past, nor are there any pending lawsuits concerning TomorrowNow from any party. Our business model was fully vetted by SAP attorneys and structured to ensure there is no possibility of a conflict between SAP and Oracle. In fact, we have specific provisions in our agreement that indemnify the customer against such issues, should they every surface in the future.

With our Vice President, Bob Geib, located in Pleasanton, I would highly recommend the executive meeting we discussed when we met with you last Fall. We can address this specific issue and any other concerns you, or your executive management may have will TomorrowNow.

I look forward to hearing from you shortly!

Best regards,

Eric

Eric Osterloh
Sr. Account Executive

TOMORROW NOW Tel: (303)223-7899 (Office/Fax/Mobile)
www.tomorrownow.com <<http://www.tomorrownow.com>>

From: Sruti Patnaik (IT) [mailto:Sruti.Patnaik@ros.com]
Sent: Friday, January 20, 2006 6:21 PM
To: Eric Osterloh
Subject:
Eric

Sorry for not having return your calls. I was out on vacation and then down with the flu. As I had mentioned, we have made a decision not to pursue the option of outsourcing support to a 3rd party. The acquisition of TomorrowNow by SAP and any impending lawsuits plays a key role in our decision. Thanks for your support. In the future if we change our direction, I will certainly contact you.

Sruti Patnaik
Director, Applications Development
Merchandising, Financial, Human Capital Applications
IT
Ross Stores
925 965 4190

