CASE NO. 07-CV-01658 PJH (EDL)

PLAINTIFFS' FIFTH AMENDED AND SEVENTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO DEFENDANT TOMORROWNOW, INC.'S INTERROGATORY NO. 13 [CORRECTED]

CONTAINS CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION DESIGNATED PURSUANT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER

PROPOUNDING PARTY: Defendant TomorrowNow, Inc.

RESPONDING PARTY: Plaintiffs Oracle USA, Inc., Oracle International Corp., and Oracle EMEA Ltd., and Siebel Systems, Inc.

SET NUMBER: One

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(e) and 33 and the Court's June 26, 2009 Order, Plaintiffs Oracle USA, Inc., Oracle International Corp., Oracle EMEA Ltd., and Siebel Systems, Inc. (collectively, "Oracle") hereby further amend and supplement their responses and objections to Interrogatory No. 13 in Defendant TomorrowNow, Inc.'s ("SAP TN") First Set of Interrogatories with respect to Oracle's Database software product line, pursuant to the pending database discovery agreement between the parties.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. The following General Objections are incorporated into the specific Response below as if fully repeated in that Response. Any failure to repeat all or any part of these General Objections in the Response shall not constitute a waiver or relinquishment of such objections.

2. Oracle's Response to this Interrogatory shall be without prejudice to, and shall preserve, any objections that it may have to the competence, relevance, materiality, or admissibility of any of the Interrogatories, the Responses, and their subject matter at any hearing or trial in this action.

3. Oracle objects to the Interrogatory to the extent it purports to obligate Oracle to respond in any manner that exceeds or is inconsistent with the requirements of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or any other applicable laws. Oracle shall respond to the Interrogatory to the extent and in the manner required by the Rules.

4. Oracle objects to the Interrogatory to the extent that SAP AG, SAP America, Inc., or SAP TN (collectively, "Defendants") seek information that is not within Oracle's possession, custody, or control, including without limitation information that is in the possession of Oracle's or Defendants' customers. Oracle will respond to the Interrogatory based only on information in its own possession, custody, or control, as required by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

5. Oracle objects to the Interrogatory to the extent it seeks disclosure of information protected from discovery by the attorney-client, common interest, work product, witness statement, and/or party communications privileges, the privileges and exemptions from discovery afforded to materials prepared in anticipation of litigation or in preparation for trial, and all other applicable privileges. Oracle does not intend to disclose such protected information.

6. Oracle's investigation into the facts of the case is ongoing. These Responses are made based on Oracle's knowledge to date. Oracle reserves the right to supplement these Responses and will amend these Responses as required at an appropriate time pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(e). Oracle further objects to the need for further supplementation of these responses to the extent the additional or corrective information has otherwise been made known to the other parties during the discovery process or in writing, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(e). Oracle is not required to summarize and/or synthesize every fact disclosed in discovery in these responses. These responses are without waiver to Oracle's ability to rely on additional and different facts at trial.

7. Oracle objects to the Interrogatory on the grounds that it is vague, ambiguous and overbroad to the extent it seeks information regarding registrations not specifically listed in Oracle's currently operative Complaint.

8 Oracle objects that the interrogatories as written do not refer to the operative Fourth Amended Complaint, nor to the narrative, paragraph numbers, claims and products specified in that Complaint. Because Defendants did not edit the interrogatories to match the new claims, Oracle has itself, wherever possible, interpreted the interrogatories such that they are comprehensible in light of the Fourth Amended Complaint.

OBJECTIONS TO INSTRUCTIONS

1. Oracle objects to the time period set by Instruction 3, which is "January 1, 2003 through the date of response, or, if the response is supplemented or amended, the date of the supplement or amendment," as overbroad and unduly burdensome to the extent that it imposes a burden or obligations different from or additional to the agreement the parties have reached regarding production of information before 2004 and after the filing of the litigation.

RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES

INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

For each federal copyright registration listed in paragraph 99 of the Complaint, identify by title, version number, file name, or other applicable identifying information all software, including updates, patches and fixes, service packs, Software and Support Materials, and any other materials allegedly covered by the registration, as alleged in paragraph 100 of the Complaint.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

In addition to its General Objections, Oracle further objects to the extent the Interrogatory purports to require Oracle to create a compilation, abstract, or summary from business records that Oracle has already produced or will produce.

Subject to and without waiver of these objections, Oracle responds as follows:

The identifying information for the materials referenced as registered in paragraph 99 of the First Amended Complaint are reflected in the copyright registration notices, the copyright registration applications and the related deposit materials for each copyright registration application, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers defendants to those documents in Oracle's production. Further, Oracle responds that, except with respect to certain knowledge solutions, without limitation (1) registrations TX 6-541-033, TXu1-345-109, TX 6-541-051 and TX 6-541-048 cover all Software and Support Materials related to J.D. Edwards Software and Support Material described in those copyright registrations, copyright applications and the related deposit materials.

Oracle's investigation into defendants' theft and misuse of its copyrighted Software and Support Materials is ongoing, and Oracle will amend and/or supplement its response to this Interrogatory with further information as that investigation continues.

AMENDED RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

In addition to its General Objections, Oracle further objects to the extent the Interrogatory purports to require Oracle to create a compilation, abstract, or summary from business records that Oracle has already produced or will produce.

Subject to and without waiver of these objections, Oracle responds as follows:

The identifying information for the materials referenced as registered in paragraph 99 of the First Amended Complaint are reflected in the copyright registration notices, the copyright registration applications and the related deposit materials for each copyright registration application, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers defendants to those documents in Oracle's production. Further, Oracle responds that, except with respect to certain knowledge solutions, without limitation (1) registrations TX 6-541-033, TXu1-345-109, TX 6-541-051 and TX 6-541-048 cover all Software and Support Materials related to J.D. J.D. Edwards Software and Support Material described in those copyright registrations, copyright applications and the related deposit materials. Oracle notes that the deposit materials are designated as Confidential Information pursuant to the Stipulated Protective Order in this action.

Oracle's investigation into defendants' theft and misuse of its copyrighted Software and Support Materials is ongoing, and Oracle will amend and/or supplement its response to this Interrogatory with further information as that investigation continues.

SECOND AMENDED RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

In addition to its General Objections, which Oracle incorporates here by reference, Oracle further objects to the extent the Interrogatory purports to require Oracle to create a compilation, abstract, or summary from business records that Oracle has already produced or will produce. Oracle further objects that its investigation into the circumstances related to Defendants' copyright infringement is not yet complete. Oracle further objects to the extent that this Interrogatory calls for information protected by the attorney-client or work product privileges.

Subject to and without waiver of these objections, and interpreting the reference to "paragraph 99 of the Complaint" in the Interrogatory as a reference to paragraphs 148 and 150 of the Second Amended Complaint, and interpreting the reference to "paragraph 100 of the Complaint" in the Interrogatory as a reference to paragraph 149 of the Second Amended Complaint, Oracle responds as follows:

The identifying information for the materials referenced as registered in paragraphs 148 and 150 of the Second Amended Complaint is reflected in the copyright registration notices, the copyright registration applications and the related deposit materials for each copyright registration application, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers Defendants to those documents in Oracle's production. Further, identifying information for the Software and Support Materials referenced as being covered by the registrations in paragraphs 148 and 150 of the Second Amended Complaint is reflected in the PeopleSoft and/or J.D. Edwards database materials produced by Oracle, or in the process of being produced by Oracle, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers Defendants to those materials in Oracle's production. Further, identifying information for the software applications referenced as being covered by the registrations in paragraphs 148 and 150 of the Second Amended Complaint is reflected in the PeopleSoft and/or J.D. Edwards software materials produced by Oracle, or in the process of being produced by Oracle, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers Defendants to those materials in Oracle's production.

J.D. Edwards OneWorld/EnterpriseOne:

As to the J.D. Edwards OneWorld/EnterpriseOne family of software products, Oracle further states that the initial OneWorld/EnterpriseOne software was developed based on World software and as a co-existent product with its World software, i.e. customers could run both World and OneWorld products at the same time sharing the same database, which would interact together to support a customer's business. Other than the Accounts Receivable module being rewritten in 1996 specifically for OneWorld/EnterpriseOne, the OneWorld/EnterpriseOne worked co-existently with World until the ERP 8.0 release level. Accordingly, after the OneWorld/EnterpriseOne XE level, OneWorld/EnterpriseOne split off from World (at that time in version A7.3) and also was released separately as OneWorld/EnterpriseOne ERP 8.0. All three of those software versions (XE, ERP 8.0 and A7.3) are described at the module-specific level above in the First Supplemental Response to Interrogatory No. 13.

Further, Oracle also refers Defendants under FRCP 33(d) to its production of release notes discussing the product features, enhancements, changes and additions to its OneWorld/EnterpriseOne software products, including from versions XE to 8.12 (which were in part based on the prior versions described above and below), including from ORCL00243899 through ORCL00264056.

In addition, Oracle has located module-specific information for the following historic OneWorld/EnterpriseOne releases B732, B7321, B7322, B733, B7331, and B7332. The module-specific information for the historic OneWorld/EnterpriseOne releases is as follows:

FIFTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13 (SIEBEL):

Oracle expressly incorporates its prior responses and objections to Interrogatory No. 13, including its original, first amended, second amended, first supplemental, second supplemental, third amended and second supplemental, third supplemental, and fourth amended and supplemental responses, as if set forth in full here. In addition to its General Objections, which Oracle incorporates here by reference, Oracle further objects to the extent the Interrogatory purports to require Oracle to create a compilation, abstract, or summary from business records that Oracle has already produced or will produce. Oracle further objects to the extent that the Interrogatory requires Oracle to summarize the documents and testimony provided on this subject; Oracle cannot and will not and is not required to do so and incorporates all such evidence by reference into this supplemented answer. Oracle further objects that its investigation into the circumstances related to Defendants' copyright infringement is not yet complete. Oracle further objects to the extent that this Interrogatory calls for information protected by the attorney-client or work product privileges. Oracle objects to the definition of "Software and Support Materials" as overbroad and unduly burdensome to the extent it includes websites not already explicitly identified through the discovery process as being at issue in this litigation. For Siebel materials, Oracle interprets "Software and Support Materials" to include only materials made available on the support websites known as SupportWeb or Metalink.

Subject to and without waiver of the foregoing objections, General Objections, Objections to Definitions, and Objections to Instructions, interpreting the reference to "paragraph 99 of the Complaint" in the Interrogatory as a reference to paragraphs 158 and 160 of the Fourth Amended Complaint, and interpreting the reference to "paragraph 100 of the Complaint" in the Interrogatory as a reference to paragraph 159 of the Fourth Amended Complaint, Oracle responds as follows:

The identifying information for the materials referenced as registered in paragraphs 158 and 160 of the Fourth Amended Complaint is reflected in the copyright registration notices, the copyright registration applications and the related deposit materials for each copyright registration application, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers Defendants to those documents in Oracle's production, including documents Bates-numbered ORCL00525500 through ORCL00525864. Oracle notes that the deposit materials are designated as Confidential Information pursuant to the Stipulated Protective Order in this action.

Further specific information regarding Oracle's Siebel software releases, including the changes between releases and descriptions of included modules and products, may also be located in the the automated database produced on CD ORCL206 and the software CDs and other productions for the Registered Works themselves, including as reflected in the attached Exhibit B. Accordingly, Oracle refers Defendants to all of the documents, data, software, and related media referenced in this response pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d).

Oracle's investigation into Defendants' theft and misuse of its copyrighted Software and Support Materials is ongoing, and Oracle will amend and/or supplement its response to this Interrogatory with further information as that investigation continues.

SIXTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13 (DATABASE):

Oracle expressly incorporates its prior responses and objections to Interrogatory No. 13, including its original, first amended, second amended, first supplemental, second supplemental, third amended and second supplemental, third supplemental, fourth amended and supplemental responses, and fifth supplemental responses and objections, as if set forth in full here. In addition to its General Objections, which Oracle incorporates here by reference, Oracle further objects to the extent the Interrogatory purports to require Oracle to create a compilation, abstract, or summary from business records that Oracle has already produced or will produce. Oracle further objects to the extent that the Interrogatory requires Oracle to summarize the documents and testimony provided on this subject; Oracle cannot and will not and is not required to do so and incorporates all such evidence by reference into this supplemented answer. Oracle further objects to the extent that this Interrogatory calls for information protected by the attorney-client or work product privileges. Oracle objects to the definition of "Software and Support Materials" as overbroad and unduly burdensome to the extent it includes websites not already explicitly identified through the discovery process as being at issue in this litigation. For Database materials, Oracle interprets "Software and Support Materials" to include only materials made available on the support websites known as Metalink.

Oracle further objects to Defendants' request for voluminous and detailed written discovery regarding Oracle's claims related to the database Registered Works, including requests for each and every way in which Defendants copied or used Oracle's database software, on the grounds that SAP already has possession, custody and/or control of much of that information. Indeed, SAP is the largest reseller of Oracle's database software in the world and has sold billions of dollars worth of Oracle database sublicenses to its own customers between FY01 and FY08, and has paid Oracle royalties in connection with these sales pursuant to the database reseller license agreement it has with Oracle. Defendants are therefore keenly aware of Oracle's development, authorship, and ownership of the database software, and Oracle's database license agreements with customers, the terms of those agreements, and the terms of use for Oracle's customer support websites.

Oracle further objects that its investigation related to the additional database Registered Works in its Fourth Amended Complaint is ongoing and incomplete, as Defendants have not yet provided numerous relevant materials, testimony, and discovery responses. As Defendants are aware, Oracle sought to add these Registered Works to its complaint in early 2009 and Defendants refused, forcing Oracle to file a motion to do so. Defendants opposed that motion and the Court granted it without hearing on August 14, 2009. Since that time Defendants have still not supplemented their prior discovery responses to provide database-related information, and have only recently produced documents that may contain relevant information. Furthermore, Oracle has served additional interrogatories and requests for admission to which Defendants have not yet responded (and for which Defendants sought and Oracle granted an extension), and Defendants' witnesses will not testify in response to any of Oracle's three related Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notices, served on September 30, until the week of November 30. Thus, Oracle still does not know very basic facts such as where Defendants acquired their unlicensed copies of Oracle database software. These details, which Defendants are required to provide, including through the pending database discovery agreement, are necessary for Oracle to respond in full to this interrogatory. Oracle further objects that it has specifically tailored its discovery requests and understanding of the facts based on representations by Defendants in negotiations that "Oracle customers did not drop Oracle database support or migrate to another database product as a result of any conduct alleged in the Fourth Amended Complaint" and "TN did not support the database software." Emails from Scott Cowan, Sept. 11 and Sept. 15, 2009. Further discovery may reveal additional infringing activity not yet known to Oracle and/or contradict the representations of Defendants' counsel and Oracle reserves the right to amend or supplement this Response accordingly.

Subject to and without waiver of the foregoing objections, General Objections, Objections to Definitions, and Objections to Instructions, interpreting the reference to "paragraph 99 of the Complaint" in the Interrogatory as a reference to paragraphs 158 and 160 of the Fourth Amended Complaint, and interpreting the reference to "paragraph 100 of the Complaint" in the Interrogatory as a reference to paragraph 159 of the Fourth Amended Complaint, Oracle responds as follows:

The identifying information for the materials referenced as registered in paragraphs 158 and 160 of the Fourth Amended Complaint is reflected in the copyright registration notices, the copyright registration applications and the related deposit materials for each copyright registration application, and therefore, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 33(d), Oracle refers Defendants to those documents in Oracle's production, including documents Bates-numbered ORCL00694304 through ORCL00694360, ORCL00694999, ORCL00694999, ORCL00695021 through ORCL00695074, ORCL00695128 through ORCL00695177, and ORCL006985180 through ORCL00695185. Oracle notes that the deposit materials are designated as Confidential Information pursuant to the Stipulated Protective Order in this action.

FIFTH AMENDED AND SEVENTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13:

Oracle expressly incorporates its prior responses and objections to Interrogatory No. 13, including its original, first amended, second amended, first supplemental, second supplemental, third amended and second supplemental, third supplemental, fourth amended and supplemental, fifth supplemental, and sixth supplemental responses and objections, as if set forth in full here. In addition to its General Objections, which Oracle incorporates here by reference, Oracle further objects to the extent the Interrogatory purports to require Oracle to create a compilation, abstract, or summary from business records that Oracle has already produced or will produce. Oracle further objects to the extent that the Interrogatory requires Oracle to summarize the documents and testimony provided on this subject; Oracle cannot and will not and is not required to do so and incorporates all such evidence by reference into this supplemented answer. Oracle further objects to the extent that this Interrogatory calls for information protected by the attorney-client or work product privileges. Oracle objects to the definition of "Software and Support Materials" as overbroad and unduly burdensome to the extent it includes websites not already explicitly identified through the discovery process as being at issue in this litigation.
