05/05/2009	 316	MEMORANDUM AND ORDER by Judge Marilyn Hall Patel: Real's motions to dismiss DVD CCA's second counterclaim has been withdrawn. Real's motion to preclude claims based on non-CSS technologies is DENIED. Defendants' motion for sanctions for spoliation of evidence is GRANTED IN PART and DENIED IN PART. Defendants' motions are granted insofar as: (1) the court instructs the parties to negotiate and file a stipulated proposed Preservation Order for all existing and future documents relating to all products at issue in this litigation, including RealDVD, or Vegas, and Facet; (2) the court imposes monetary sanctions for Real's failure to preserve Hamilton's notebooks; (3) the court awards reasonable attorneys' fees and related costs for pursuing the evidence of spoliation of Hamilton's notebooks and for bringing this part of the sanctions motion; (4) the court will draw an adverse inference as to Real's knowledge of ARccOS and Ripguard. Defendants' remaining motions for sanctions are denied. Defendants are granted leave to file an application and declaration(s) for a monetary award (and a proposed order) including attorneys' fees and costs in accordance with the preceding paragraph within thirty (30) days of the filing of this order. Real may respond as to reasonableness of the fees only and shall do so within thirty (30) days of the filing of the application. (awb, COURT STAFF) (Filed on 5/5/2009) (Entered: 05/05/2009)

08/11/2009	 448	MEMORANDUM AND ORDER by Judge Marilyn Hall Patel: the court GRANTS the Studio plaintiffs' and DVD CCA's motion for a preliminary injunction against Real. RealNetworks is hereby preliminarily enjoined from engaging in, or facilitating others in, manufacturing, importing, offering to the public, providing or otherwise trafficking in the product known as RealDVD, whether termed Vegas, Facet or another internal name, or any substantially similar software application or other product, service, device, component or part thereof that circumvents or otherwise fails to protect against access to, duplication of, and/or redistribution of CSS-protected and copyrighted DVD content. The Studios and DVD CCA may submit a proposed order for injunctive relief if anything further is sought, or if the parties can reach a stipulated proposed order for injunctive relief, they may submit it, without waiving any rights to appeal the injunction. RealDVD makes a permanent copy of copyrighted DVD content and by doing so breaches its CSS License Agreement with DVD CCA and circumvents a technological measure that effectively controls access to or copying of the Studios' copyrighted content

		on DVDs. Had Real's products been manufactured differently, i.e., if what happened in Vegas really did stay in Vegas, this might have been a different case. But, it is what it is. Once the distributive nature of the copying process takes hold, like the spread of gossip after a weekend in Vegas, what's done cannot be undone. The court hereby converts the Studios' temporary restraining order bond, posted in the sum of $1,000,000.00 on October 6, 2008, to a preliminary injunction bond, to compensate Real for its losses in the event that this injunction is reversed or vacated. Real will be ordered to file a report in writing and under oath setting forth in detail the manner and form in which Real has complied with the injunction, within thirty (30) days after the entry of the order that confirms the bounds of this injunction. Until such time the injunction remains in full force and effect as described (awb, COURT STAFF) (Filed on 8/11/2009) (Entered: 08/11/2009)
