1 NOTICE OF MOTION

2 TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

3 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on January 23, 2008 at 9:30 a.m. or soon thereafter as counsel
4 may be heard by Magistrate Judge Richard Seeborg of above entitled Court, located at 280 South
5 First Street, San Jose, California, the law firm of Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner, 6 L.L.P. will and hereby does move this Court for an Order allowing it to withdraw as counsel for 7 Defendant Winston Williams.

8 Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner, L.L.P.'s assertions are based upon this 9 Motion, including the accompanying Memorandum and Points and Authorities in Support of Motion 10 to Dismiss, and the accompanying Declarations of Scott R. Mosko and Jason Webster, all the 11 pleadings in the case, and such other arguments and evidence as may properly come before the 12 Court.

13 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

14 I. INTRODUCTION

15 Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner, LLP ("Finnegan Henderson" or "The 16 Firm") has lost contact with its client, Winston Williams, one of the defendants in this case. Despite 17 multiple efforts to communicate with Mr. Williams over a five week period, Finnegan Henderson 18 has been unable to reach him. Absent Mr. Williams' assistance, Finnegan Henderson is unable to 19 adequately defend him in this action.

20 Although it is not uncommon for a client to become temporarily unavailable, recent 21 circumstances in this case have occurred that require the Firm to withdraw. Last week this Court 22 issued an Order compelling Mr. Williams to provide further responses to discovery. Nearly a month 23 prior to the issuance of this Order, The Firm attempted to communicate with Mr. Williams, in light 24 of Plaintiffs' Reply in the Motion that resulted in the Order. Three days after this Order issued, The 25 Firm notified Plaintiffs of its inability to continue representing Mr. Williams because he has failed to 26 communicate with it. Six days after this Order issued, Finnegan Henderson brings this motion to be 27 relieved from representing Mr. Williams.

1 II. FACTS

2 Finnegan, Henderson brings this motion because it cannot continue representing Mr.
3 Williams because he is not communicating. The last contact The Firm had with Mr. Williams was 4 during the first week of November.

5 This last contact occurred during the course of a Motion to Compel, filed by Plaintiffs. That 6 Motion alleged that based on Mr. Williams' earlier deposition testimony, he should be compelled to 7 provided further responses to two interrogatories. During the meet and confer before this Motion 8 was filed, and in the Moving Papers, Plaintiffs asserted that specific evidence attached as exhibits to 9 their moving papers and several lines of testimony suggested Mr. Williams had further information 10 related to these interrogatories. See Williams Decl. at ¶ 3 (Docket No. 221, Ex. 3). Based upon 11 these allegations, Mr. Williams participated in an investigation of this evidence and testimony. He 12 assisted in analyzing files that were referenced in this testimony, and he again reviewed certain 13 evidence that he had in his possession. See Williams Decl. at ¶ 4 (Docket No. 221, Ex. 3). Mr.
14 Williams satisfied himself that upon re-review of the testimony, the files found on the servers 15 referenced in this testimony, and whatever other files and documents he had in his possession, he 16 was unable to provide further responses to the interrogatories at issue. On November 7, 2007, Mr.
17 Williams signed a declaration in support of his Opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel, which in 18 part stated, "I have reviewed my responses to Interrogatory Nos. 3 and 4. The files [found on the 19 three PNS servers discussed at deposition] are not helpful in responding to these interrogatories. I 20 am not aware of any other information created at PNS or otherwise, that would provide further 21 information than what was provided in my responses to Interrogatory Nos. 3 & 4." See Williams 22 Decl. at ¶¶ 5, 6 (Docket No. 221, Ex. 3).

23 On November 14, 2007, Plaintiffs surprised Mr. Williams and his counsel by filing a reply in 24 the Motion to Compel that referred to at least three (3) new documents that were never mentioned in 25 either the meet and confers or the Moving Papers, as the bases upon which an Order compelling 26 further responses should issue. See Cooper Decl. in Support of Plaintiffs' Reply Memorandum in 27 Support of Facebook's Motion to Compel at Ex. J, K, L (Docket No. 223). Plaintiffs later filed a 28

1 supplemental declaration in support of Facebook's reply memorandum, raising yet additional 2 documents to support their Motion to Compel. See Greer Decl. in Support of Facebook's Reply 3 Memorandum in Support of Facebook's Motion to Compel at Ex. M (Docket No. 229). Had these 4 new documents been raised in the meet and confer or even in the Moving Papers, Mr. Williams 5 would have been provided with them during the course of the initial investigation to determine 6 whether he could provide any further information. Instead, Plaintiffs waited until the Reply to 7 discuss these documents.

8 Immediately after Plaintiffs' Reply was filed, Finnegan Henderson commenced efforts to 9 communicate with Mr. Williams. The Firm telephoned Mr. Williams at least every other day to 10 telephone numbers previously used for communication. Both numbers were operational. Each time 11 calls were made to these numbers, a recording device was activated, inviting the caller to leave a 12 message. Each time the Firm was forwarded to these recording devices, messages were left.
13 (Webster Decl. ¶ 3) Additionally, The Firm sent several emails to Mr. Williams' email address.
14 None of the emails bounced. (Webster Decl. ¶ 5) In their emails, The Firm provided excerpts of 15 Facebook's Reply brief, and further culled out for Mr. Williams the new documents Plaintiffs relied 16 up in their Reply papers to assist him in determining whether these additional documents sparked 17 further recollections as they might concern interrogatories at issue. (Id.) Despite these efforts to 18 communicate with Mr. Williams, he has not responded.

19 On December 12, 2007, the Court issued its Order granting Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel 20 Pacific Northwest Software and Winston Williams to Provide Complete and Supplemental 21 Responses to Facebook's First Set of Interrogatories Nos. 3 & 4. Further, the Court ordered that the 22 supplemental responses be submitted within twenty (20) days of the date of the Order. Finnegan 23 Henderson's efforts to communicate with Mr. Williams continued after this Order issued. Several 24 calls were made on December 12, 13, and 14. (Webster Decl. at ¶ 4.) (Mosko Decl ¶ 2) On 25 December 14, 2007, The Firm notified Plaintiffs of its inability to communicate with Mr. Williams, 26 seeking an extension of time in which to further investigate his whereabouts, or in the alternative an 27 agreement for an Order shortening time for this Motion to Withdraw. See Mosko Decl., Ex. 1.
28

1 Surprisingly, Plaintiffs refused both requests, necessitating this motion, and the accompanying 2 application for Order shortening time, in light of the recent Order compelling further responses, and 3 additional pending discovery. See Mosko Decl., Ex. 2.

4 Specific efforts to communicate with Mr. Williams after he signed the Declaration in Support 5 of the Opposition to the Motion to Compel are set forth below:

6 a. The Firm began its recent efforts to reach Mr. Williams the day it received Plaintiffs'
7 reply brief in support of their Motion to Compel. On November 14, 2007, the day the reply brief 8 was filed, The Firm, through its associate Jason Webster, placed a call to Mr. Williams. In addition, 9 Mr. Webster forwarded a summary of the new information presented by Plaintiffs to Mr. Williams 10 last known email address. Neither of these communications were answered. See Webster Decl. at 11 ¶¶ 3, 5.

12 b. At least every other day since November 14, 2007, Mr. Webster attempted to call Mr.
13 Williams at the two telephone numbers The Firm had previously used to communicate with Mr.
14 Williams. See Webster Decl. at ¶ 3.

15 c. On at least three separate occasions, lead counsel for Mr. Williams, Scott Mosko left 16 voicemails for Mr. Williams, using the phone numbers previously provided by Mr. Williams. See 17 Mosko Decl. at ¶ 4.

18 d. Further emails seeking to re-establish communication with The Firm were sent to Mr.
19 Williams, specifically to the email address through which The Firm had previously successfully 20 communicated with Mr. Williams. See Webster Decl. at ¶ 5.

21 As a result of this loss of contact and in light of the approaching deadline to provide 22 supplemental responses to Facebook's First Set of Interrogatories Nos. 3 & 4, Finnegan Henderson 23 is forced to file the instant Motion to Withdraw as Counsel for Winston Williams. Last week The 24 Firm sent Mr. Williams a letter to his last known address advising that unless Mr. Williams re-25 established communication with The Firm, it would request an Order to withdraw as his counsel.
26 This letter was sent via Federal Express and as of Friday December 14, 2007, Federal Express 27 advised that one of the letters was returned as the addressee is unknown. The other letter was sent to 28

1 a post office box where it could sit for weeks or months before it is returned. (Webster Decl. ¶ 7) 2 Finnegan Henderson can no longer adequately represent Mr. Williams in the instant litigation and in 3 light of the pending Order requiring Mr. Williams to supplement his responses to Plaintiffs' First Set 4 of Interrogatories Nos. 3 & 4 by January 2, 2008, Finnegan Henderson is requesting to Withdraw as 5 Counsel for Mr. Williams.

6 II. ARGUMENT

7 An attorney may not withdraw as counsel without leave of the Court. Civ. L.R. 11-5(a); 8 Darby v. City of Torrance, 810 F.Supp. 275, 276 (C.D. Cal. 1992). The decision to grant or deny 9 counsel's motion to withdraw is committed to the discretion of the trial court. LeGrand v. Stewart, 10 133 F.3d 1253, 1269 (9th Cir. 1998). The factors that the Court considers when ruling on a Motion 11 to Withdraw as Counsel are: (a) the reasons why withdrawal is sought; (b) the prejudice withdrawal 12 may cause to other litigants; (c) the harm withdrawal might cause to the administration of justice; 13 and (d) the degree to which withdrawal will delay the resolution of the case. Irwin v. Mascott, 2004 14 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 28264 at *4 (N.D. Cal. December 1, 2004). See also Liang v. Cal-Bay
15 International, Inc., 2007 WL 3144099 at *1 (October 24, 2007) (citing Irwin, 2004 U.S. Dist.
16 LEXIS 28264 at *4). Additionally, an attorney may request permission to withdraw in matters 17 where the client's conduct renders it unreasonably difficult for the attorney to represent the client 18 effectively. Cal. Rules of Professional Conduct Rule 3-700 (C)(1)(d).

19 A. The Firm's Request to Withdraw as Counsel for Williams is 20 appropriate

21 The complete lack of communication between client and counsel has been recognized as a 22 valid reason for granting a motion to withdraw as counsel. See Liang, 2007 WL 3144099 at *1; Hill
23 Design Group v. Wang, 2006 WL 3591206 at *4 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 11, 2006); Nintendo of America, 24 Inc. v. NTDEC, 1995 WL 135996 at *4 (9th Cir. 1995) (unpublished opinion) (recognizing District 25 Court's decision to allow withdrawal of counsel based on lack of contact with client). As discussed 26 above, Finnegan Henderson has made repeated efforts to establish contact with Mr. Williams, 27 however, Mr. Williams has failed to respond or communicate with The Firm. Withdrawal is 28

1 appropriate under such circumstances, as not only would it be “unreasonably difficult” for The Firm
2 to continue representing Mr. Williams given its inability to communicate with him, representation 3 would be impossible. See Cal. Rules of Professional Conduct Rule 3-700 (C)(1)(d) (stating that 4 withdrawal is appropriate if the client “renders it unreasonably difficult for the member to carry out 5 the employment effectively”).

6 B. Counsel’s Withdrawal from Representing Williams will not Result in 7 Prejudice to the Remaining Parties

8 Through previous discovery efforts, Plaintiffs have already received all the relevant 9 documents that Mr. Williams had in his possession. Further on June 19, 2007, Plaintiffs took Mr.
10 Williams’ deposition for over four hours, supposedly eliciting whatever testimony they believed was 11 needed for their case. The last communication counsel had with Mr. Williams, as shown in his 12 declaration of November 7, 2007, established that Mr. Williams had no further information at least 13 as it concerned the interrogatories at issue in the previous motion to compel. And, it is likely that 14 Mr. Williams has no further information concerning the facts of this case than what was elicited 15 during his July deposition. Plaintiffs will not be prejudiced as a result of Finnegan Henderson’s 16 withdrawal from representing Mr. Williams.

17 C. Counsel’s Withdrawal from Representing Williams will not Interfere 18 with This Court’s Administration of Justice

19 This case has little to do with Mr. Williams. This case was filed initially by TheFacebook as 20 a retaliatory action to ConnectU’s earlier-filed action in Massachusetts in which ConnectU accuses 21 co-plaintiff Mark Zuckerberg and others of stealing the idea and other things that resulted in the 22 creation of facebook.com. Indeed, once this Massachusetts action is resolved, this case will 23 undoubtedly end as well. Moreover, Plaintiffs know full well they could never recover any 24 “damages” from Mr. Williams. Indeed there were no actionable wrongs committed by any of the 25 defendants. But even if there were, as the previous declaration filed by Mr. Williams in support of 26 his Motion to Dismiss disclosed, he has no funds from which any damages could be collected. See 27 Winston Williams Supplemental Decl. in Support of Motion to Dismiss at ¶¶ 4, 5 (Docket No. 105).

1 He is a journeyman programmer moving from small job to small job in order to sustain himself. Mr.
2 Williams is caught in between the ConnectU/Facebook dispute. His lack of counsel will not 3 interfere with this Court's administration of justice.

4 D. Counsel's Withdrawal from Representing Williams will not Delay this 5 Case

6 As stated above, Plaintiffs have already taken Mr. Williams deposition. During that 7 deposition, Plaintiffs undoubtedly asked everything that they believed was necessary for this case. It 8 is highly unlikely that Mr. Williams could add more to what he has already said. And, as stated 9 above, once the Massachusetts case is resolved, so too will this case. Mr. Williams' lack of counsel 10 will not delay this case.

11 III. CONCLUSION

12 The four factors set forth in Irwin justify this Court's Order allowing Finnegan Henderson to 13 withdraw from representing Mr. Williams in this case. This Court's recent Order compelling 14 further answers to discovery by January 2, 2008, and pending discovery to which Plaintiffs will not 15 grant requested extensions require The Firm to withdraw from representing Mr. Williams. The 16 Firm's Motion pursuant to Civil L.R. 11-5(a) and Cal. Rules of Professional Conduct Rule 3-700 17 (C)(1)(d) should now be granted.
