1 Pursuant to the Court's minute order of January 22, 2010, plaintiff Securities and 2 Exchange Commission ("SEC"), plaintiff Commodity Futures Trading Commission
3 ("CFTC"), defendants Peter C. Son, SNC Asset Management, Inc., and SNC Investments, 4 Inc., and relief defendant Ann Lee submit this Further Joint Case Management Statement for 5 both the SEC's case and the CFTC's case.

6 As the parties previously informed the Court, defendant Peter C. Son pleaded guilty in 7 a related criminal action captioned United States v. Peter C. Son, No. CR 09-00755 DLJ
8 (N.D. Cal. filed July 27, 2009). The criminal charges against Son are based on the same 9 factual allegations as those made by the plaintiffs in these two civil actions pending before 10 this Court. Son pleaded guilty to the criminal charges on April 9, 2010. Minute Order, 11 United States v. Son, Docket No. 20.

12 On July 30, 2010, Son was sentenced to 180 months in custody. See Criminal Pretrial
13 Minute Order, United States v. Son, Docket No. 27. Son was also ordered to pay criminal 14 restitution, but the Court deferred a decision on the restitution amount. See id.; Criminal 15 Pretrial Minute Order, United States v. Son, Docket No. 30 (continuing hearing until Oct. 15, 16 2010). A further hearing on restitution is scheduled for November 19, 2010. Criminal 17 Pretrial Minute Order, United States v. Son, Docket No. 31.

18 The plaintiffs and Son, who is an officer of the corporate defendants in these two civil 19 actions, have discussed a potential resolution of the civil claims. The parties will consider 20 Son's criminal sentence, including incarceration time and restitution ordered, in arriving at an 21 appropriate resolution.

22 The parties believe that an order in the criminal action setting the restitution amount 23 and otherwise completing Son's sentence will facilitate a resolution of these two civil actions.
24 The parties agree to recommend that the Court stay discovery in these matters until after 25 Son's criminal sentence is finalized and the amount of restitution is determined. A discovery
26 stay would permit the parties to discuss resolution of the civil claims. Similarly, the parties
27 agree to recommend that the trial date, currently scheduled for March 21, 2011, be vacated 28 along with the pretrial deadlines. The parties agree to inform the Court promptly of 1 developments in the criminal matter. Should the parties fail to reach an agreement following 2 resolution of the criminal matter, the parties will recommend further discovery deadlines and 3 a trial date.

4 In addition, the parties respectfully request that the Court conduct the October 29,
5 2010, Case Management Conference by telephone. The offices of counsel for plaintiff
6 Commodity Futures Trading Commission and for defendants Peter Son, SNC Asset
7 Management, Inc., and SNC Investments, Inc., and relief defendant Ann Lee, are not in the 8 Northern District of California. The Court previously granted the parties' request for a 9 telephonic conference. See Order Granting Plaintiff's Application for Telephonic Case
10 Management Conference entered Jan. 19, 2010 (Docket No. 48).
