IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

SHANNON RILEY,

No. C-10-0115 TEH (PR)

Petitioner,

v.

ORDER DENYING PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS AND DENYING CERTIFICATE OF APPEALABILITY

CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS AND REHABILITATION and RANDY GROUNDS, Warden,

Respondents.

Petitioner Shannon Riley, an inmate incarcerated at Salinas Valley State Prison (SVSP), has filed a pro se petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2254 challenging a disciplinary hearing. Doc. #1. Respondents were ordered to show cause why the writ should not be granted.<sup>1</sup> Doc. #21. Respondents have filed an answer, along with a supporting memorandum of points and authorities. Doc. #32. Petitioner has filed a traverse.<sup>2</sup> Doc. #35. For the reasons set forth below, the petition for a writ of habeas corpus is DENIED.

The following facts are taken from the exhibits submitted by Respondents and Petitioner. On December 29, 2007, Petitioner received a Rules Violation Report (RVR) for battery on an inmate with no serious injury. Petitioner was deemed a security threat and was placed in administrative segregation pending review of his case. The RVR was based upon the observations of Officer C. Riley who, while he was in the prison day room, observed Petitioner and Petitioner's cell-mate, Inmate Huffine, hitting Inmate Strandmore in the head and torso with their fists. Inmate Strandmore was observed returning blows. Instead of following Officer Riley's command to stop fighting, Petitioner continued to fight another inmate, Inmate McCalley.

Before Petitioner's disciplinary hearing, he was interviewed by K. Sinder, an investigative employee. Petitioner told Sinder that, on the day in question, he was breaking up a fight between his cell mate and Inmate Strandmore and that he was not battering anyone. The Investigative Employee Report (IER) quotes Petitioner as stating, [T]his was not a battery on I/M Strandmore. It was a mutual combat between my cellie and I/M Strandmore. I stepped in to break them up. Furthermore, had I engaged in any form of force and violence against either I/M McCalley or I/M Strandmore, surely I would have sustained some form of injury such as a scratch, abrasion, bruise or something, as my 7219 clearly shows I sustained no such injuries what so ever, there by proving through physical evidence I was not engaged in any force and violence.

Resps' Ex. 3, RVR, Part C, IER.

The IER report quotes Officer C. Riley as stating:

1           When I recalled day room I/M's Riley and Huffine
2           approached I/M Strandmore and started hitting 3           him with closed fist [sic]. I/M Strandmore 4           began to strike back. I ordered the inmates to 5           get down with no results. I fired from the 40mm 6           launcher and missed. At this time I/M Riley ran 7           toward I/M McCalley and they began fighting. I 8           fired from the 40mm again and hit I/M 9           Strandmore. I again ordered the inmates to get 10          down. All inmates got down and responding staff 11          arrived.

7          Ex. 3, IER.

8           The IER includes the inmates' answers to Petitioner's 9          written questions. Inmate Huffine stated that he had "no 10         information to add." Inmate McCalley answered the following 11         questions posed by Petitioner:

12           Q: Is it true that while I/M Strandmore and I/M
13           Huffine engaged in a mutual combat I grabbed I/M 14           Strandmore in an effort to break them up?

14           A: Yes.

15           Q: Is it true that after I grabbed I/M Strandmore you 16           grabbed me?

17           A. Yes.

18           Q: Is it true that during this period no punches were 19           thrown by me at you? Nor was [sic] any thrown by you 20           at me, or by I/M Strandmore at me?

20           A: Yes.

21           Q: During the videotape interview, is it true 22           that you only admitted that it was a mutual 23           combat between you and I just to get your cellie 24           Funbure released?

23           A: Yes.

24           Inmate Strandmore answered the following questions
25          posed

26          by Petitioner:

27           Q: Is it true that only you and I were the two 28           individuals engaged in a mutual combat?

A: Yes.

Q: Is it true that you started the mutual combat?

A: No comment.

Q: Did anyone else hit or attempt to assault you?

A: No one other than Huffine attempted to hit or assault me.

The RVR indicates that, at the hearing, Petitioner requested that Inmates Strandmore and McCalley be called as witnesses. Resps' Ex. 5, RVR -- Part C, Hearing. The Senior Hearing Officer (SHO) asked Petitioner if either inmate would provide additional information to what he provided in the IER, and Petitioner stated, "No, I don't think so." Id. The SHO denied Petitioner's request for witnesses on the ground that they would have no additional testimony to provide. The SHO called Officer C. Riley and asked him the following questions:

Q: Did it appear to you that Inmate Riley was attempting to break up the fight?

A: No, that is not what it looked like to me.

Q: Did you see Inmate Riley throw any punches?

A: Yes.

The SHO asked Petitioner if he had any questions for Officer Riley and Petitioner said, "No." The SHO found, by a preponderance of the evidence, that Petitioner was guilty of battery on an inmate without serious injuries, based on the IER, Officer Riley's testimony, and the medical reports. Id. The SHO stated:

Inmate Riley's defense is found to be less creditable than that of the reporting employee. Inmate Riley states he attempted to break up the fight, however the CDC 7219 Medical Report of

1 Injury for all inmates involved in the incident
2 is consistent with the reporting employee's 3 written account and testimony provided during 4 the hearing. Inmate Strandmore sustained 5 swollen area to right eye area, and abrasion to 6 left calf area active bleeding [sic]. Officer 7 Riley stated he observed inmates Riley and 8 Huffine approached [sic] Inmate Strandmore and 9 began to striking [sic] him with right and left 10 fists, hitting Strandmore in the head and upper 11 torso area. . . . Officer Riley stated Inmate 12 Riley ran towards Inmate McCalley and began to 13 punch him to the head and upper torso area.
14 Inmate McCalley sustained abrasion/scratches and 15 active bleeding behind right ear,
16 bruise/discolored and swollen area to right eye, 17 this would account for his injuries. Inmate 18 Huffine sustained swollen area to left eye brow.
19 Officer Riley states that Inmate Strandmore
20 fought back, this would account for the injury 21 to Inmate Huffine. Although Inmate Riley did 22 not sustain any injuries the SHO finds it is 23 possible that no injuries may have occurred as a 24 result of striking and punching someone.

25 Id. at 2.

26 Petitioner filed administrative claims that he was denied 27 his right to call witnesses at his disciplinary hearing and that the 28 SHO improperly found that a preponderance of the evidence supported a finding of guilt. On September 8, 2008, after Petitioner exhausted administrative remedies, he filed a habeas petition in the Kern County superior court, which was denied in a written order on November 7, 2008. Ex. 7. On January 27, 2009, Petitioner filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the court of appeal, which issued a one-sentence denial on February 9, 2009. Ex. 8. On March 6, 2009, Petitioner filed a habeas petition in the California Supreme Court alleging his due process rights were violated because staff refused to let him call witnesses at the hearing, failed to properly document his questions to witnesses, and the guilty finding 1 was not supported by some evidence. Ex. 9. On May 13, 2009, the 2 Court denied the petition. Ex. 10.

3 On December 1, 2009, Petitioner filed the instant habeas 4 petition alleging the same claims he presented in his administrative 5 appeals and his state habeas petitions.

6 II

7 A district court may entertain a petition for a writ of 8 habeas corpus "in behalf of a person in custody pursuant to the 9 judgment of a State court only on the ground that he is in custody 10 in violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United 11 States." 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a). Under the Antiterrorism and 12 Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (AEDPA), a district court may 13 not grant a petition challenging a state conviction or sentence on 14 the basis of a claim that was reviewed on the merits in state court 15 unless the state court's adjudication of the claim "(1) resulted in 16 a decision that was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable 17 application of, clearly established Federal law, as determined by 18 the Supreme Court of the United States; or (2) resulted in a 19 decision that was based on an unreasonable determination of the 20 facts in light of the evidence presented in the State court 21 proceeding." 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d).

22 "Under the 'contrary to' clause, a federal habeas court 23 may grant the writ if the state court arrives at a conclusion
24 opposite to that reached by [the Supreme] Court on a question of law 25 or if the state court decides a case differently than [the] Court 26 has on a set of materially indistinguishable facts." Williams v.
27 Taylor, 529 U.S. 362, 412-13 (2000). A state court decision is an 28

1 "unreasonable application of" Supreme Court authority, falling under 2 the second clause of § 2254(d)(1), if the state court correctly
3 identifies the governing legal principle from the Supreme Court's 4 decisions but "unreasonably applies that principle to the facts of 5 the prisoner's case." Id. at 413.

6 Under 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d)(2), a state court decision 7 "based on a factual determination will not be overturned on factual 8 grounds unless objectively unreasonable in light of the evidence 9 presented in the state-court proceeding." Miller-El v. Cockrell, 10 537 U.S. 322, 340 (2003). The court must presume correct any 11 determination of a factual issue made by a state court unless the 12 petitioner rebuts the presumption of correctness by clear and 13 convincing evidence. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(e)(1). As the Supreme 14 Court explained: "[o]n federal habeas review, AEDPA 'imposes a 15 highly deferential standard for evaluating state-court rulings' and 16 'demands that state-court decisions be given the benefit of the 17 doubt.'" Felkner v. Jackson, __ U.S. __, 131 S. Ct. 1305, 1307
18 (2011) (citation omitted). Even if there is a constitutional error, 19 habeas relief is not warranted unless the error had a substantial 20 and injurious effect or influence in determining jury's verdict.
21 Brecht v. Abrahamson, 507 U.S. 619, 637 (1993)

22 When applying these standards, the federal court should 23 review the "last reasoned decision" by the state courts. Avila v.
24 Galaza, 297 F.3d 911, 918 n.6 (9th Cir. 2002). Because the 25 California court of appeal and Supreme Court summarily denied relief 26 on Petitioner's claims, this Court looks to the California superior 27 court's November 7, 2008 written decision denying Petitioner's 28

1 appeal. Resps. Ex. 7, In re: Shannon Riley, Case No. HC10788A.

2 With these principles in mind regarding the standard and 3 scope of review on federal habeas, the Court addresses Petitioner's 4 claims.

5 III

6 A

7 Petitioner claims that the denial of his request that 8 inmates Strandmore and McCalley testify at his disciplinary hearing 9 violated his due process rights.

10 An inmate in California is entitled to due process before 11 being disciplined when the discipline imposed will inevitably affect 12 the duration of his sentence. Sandin v. Conner, 515 U.S. 472, 484, 13 487 (1995). The process due in such a prison disciplinary 14 proceeding includes written notice, time to prepare for the hearing, 15 a written statement of decision, allowance of witnesses and 16 documentary evidence when not unduly hazardous, and aid to the 17 accused where the inmate is illiterate or the issues are complex.
18 Wolff v. McDonnell, 418 U.S. 539, 564-67 (1974). The Due Process
19 Clause only requires that prisoners be afforded those procedures 20 mandated by Wolff and its progeny; it does not require that a prison 21 comply with its own, more generous procedures. Walker v. Sumner, 14 22 F.3d 1415, 1419-20 (9th Cir. 1994), abrogated on other grounds by 23 Sandin, 515 U.S. 472. Thus, the relevant inquiry on habeas review 24 is not whether the prison complied with its own regulations, but 25 whether it complied with the due process requirements established in 26 Wolff. Id. at 1420.

27 The superior court, citing California Code of Regulations 28

1 (CCR), title 15, section 3315(e)(1)(B), denied this claim on the 2 ground that the inmates' answers to Petitioner's questions were 3 included in the IER, and Petitioner stated that these inmates had 4 nothing new to add. Resps. Ex. 7, In re Riley, HC10788A at 2.

5 Title 15, section 3315(e)(1)(B) of the California Code of 6 Regulations provides that an inmate may request that witnesses 7 attend his or her disciplinary hearing, but that the official 8 conducting the hearing may deny the request if he determines that 9 the witnesses have no relevant or additional information. Here, the 10 RVR Report states that the SHO asked Petitioner if either of his two 11 requested witnesses would provide any information they had not 12 already provided in the IER, and Petitioner responded, "No, I don't 13 think so." Petitioner fails to point to evidence disputing that he 14 responded to the SHO in this manner. Given that Petitioner stated 15 that his witnesses would not provide new information, the SHO 16 properly denied Petitioner's request to have them testify pursuant 17 to CCR § 3315(e)(1)(B). Because the SHO met the more stringent 18 state requirements, his conduct satisfies the less stringent Wolff 19 due process requirement. Furthermore, because the SHO was aware of 20 and considered these witnesses' testimony, Petitioner was not 21 prejudiced by the SHO's decision not allowing them to appear. Thus, 22 even if there was constitutional error, habeas relief is not 23 warranted because the decision did not have a substantial and 24 injurious effect on the outcome of the hearing as required by 25 Brecht. See Brecht, 507 U.S. at 637 (error cannot support habeas 26 relief unless it had a substantial and injurious effect or influence 27 in determining the outcome of the proceeding).

1           Petitioner also claims that the statements of his 2 questions for inmate Strandmore were not documented by the 3 investigating officer. However, because Petitioner stated that 4 Strandmore would not provide any additional information at the 5 hearing, Petitioner was not prejudiced by any lack of documentation.
6 Thus, any error was harmless. See id.

7           Accordingly, the state court's denial of this claim was 8 not contrary to or an unreasonable application of Supreme Court 9 authority or an unreasonable determination of the facts. This claim 10 for habeas relief is denied.

11                                   B

12           Next, Petitioner claims that the guilty finding was not 13 supported by a preponderance of the evidence. The revocation of 14 good-time credits does not comport with the minimum requirements of 15 procedural due process in Wolff unless the findings of the prison 16 disciplinary decision-maker are supported by "some evidence" in the 17 record. Superintendent v. Hill, 472 U.S. 445, 454 (1985). There 18 must be "some evidence" from which the conclusion of the 19 decision-maker could be deduced. Id. at 455. An examination of the 20 entire record is not required nor is an independent assessment of 21 the credibility of witnesses or weighing of the evidence. Id. The 22 relevant question is whether there is any evidence in the record 23 that could support the conclusion reached by the disciplinary 24 decision-maker. Id. This standard is considerably lower than that 25 applicable in criminal trials. Id. at 456. It is also lower than 26 the preponderance of the evidence standard that must substantiate a 27 charge before guilt may be found at a prison disciplinary hearing.

28

1 See Cal. Code Regs. title 15, section 3320(1).

2           Petitioner's claim that guilt was not supported by a 3 preponderance of the evidence mistakes the evidentiary standard for 4 a disciplinary hearing with the standard that must be found by a 5 reviewing habeas court. As discussed above, to satisfy Wolff's due 6 process requirements, the finding of guilt by the disciplinary 7 decision-maker must be supported only by some evidence.

8           The state court correctly identified the "some evidence" 9 standard as the standard for judicial review and reasonably applied 10 it. Ex. 7 at 1. The state court noted that the SHO relied upon the 11 IER report, Officer Riley's testimony at the disciplinary hearing 12 and the medical reports, and that this constituted the "some 13 evidence" necessary to support the finding of guilt. The court 14 cited the following specific evidence that supported the SHO's 15 finding of guilt: the RVR stated that Petitioner was in the day room 16 at the prison, that he and his cell mate were observed striking 17 inmate Strandmore in the head and upper torso area with closed 18 fists, that inmate Strandmore fought back, that Petitioner did not 19 obey the officer's order to stop fighting and continued to fight 20 Inmate McCalley, punching him in the head and upper torso. Also, 21 the medical reports showed that Strandmore had injuries that 22 supported these observations. The state court's findings are a 23 reasonable determination of the facts based upon the evidentiary 24 record before it.

25           Accordingly, the state court's conclusion that some 26 evidence supported the SHO's finding of guilt is not contrary to or 27 an unreasonable application of federal authority or an unreasonable 28

1 determination of the facts in light of the state record. Therefore, 2 habeas relief on this claim is not warranted.

3 IV

4 For the foregoing reasons, the Petition for a Writ of Habeas 5 Corpus is DENIED.

6 Further, a Certificate of Appealability is DENIED. See 7 Rule 11(a) of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases. Petitioner 8 has not made "a substantial showing of the denial of a 9 constitutional right." 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2). Nor has Petitioner 10 demonstrated that "reasonable jurists would find the district 11 court's assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong."
12 Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484 (2000). Petitioner may not 13 appeal the denial of a Certificate of Appealability in this Court 14 but may seek a certificate from the Court of Appeals under Rule 22 15 of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure. See Rule 11(a) of the 16 Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases.

17 The Clerk is directed to enter Judgment in favor of 18 Respondent and against Petitioner, terminate any pending motions as 19 moot and close the file.

20
21 IT IS SO ORDERED.
