We're producing electronically, however, there may be a few things we produce in paper, but this should be minimal, if done at all, and would only be done for expediency's sake.

We're planning on producing entirely in electronic format as required by the FRCP and Judge's Alsup supplemental order.

Does your e-mail mean that you're producing in mixed-format/media?

By format, do you mean disk (containing various files), paper, or both?

Brian,

What format will your production be in?
