Under rating threshold (show) This game had potential, but was held back on some things. They never tell you you were timed, and that you can take an infinite amount of hits! It's amazing! However, in the words of Conny101 and Ziarn, you should have health, not just a time limit, as that would make the game better. Maybe have different kinds of enemies? More weapons? It was kind of a boring game anyhow, so 1/5.

Under rating threshold (show) You lose ten seconds for taking damage; you gain five seconds randomly while comboing and you hear a chime, and it costs five seconds to blow yourself up.

Under rating threshold (show) I somewhat like the game. It has a nice main idea and would just need to be a bit polished. A bit hard but still fun.

Under rating threshold (show) Someone should remake this; good potential. If ya do, make it so the bosses don't blow stuff up too. Makes it impossible to blow anything up since it'll only let one chain be going at any given time.
