Subject: Miller v. Facebook & Yeo

Dear Counsel,

As a follow-up to my email to you dated September 22nd, please confirm that Facebook will be fully responding to the Plaintiff's First Consolidated Discovery Requests, and providing all responsive documentation, by Monday, October 4th, so as to avoid having to trouble the Court regarding this matter. Since no response was made by you concerning a proposed protective order, I can only assume that you feel the entry of such an order is unnecessary.

This correspondence, and my correspondence to you dated September 22nd, is intended to comply with the "meet and confer" requirements set forth in Rule 37(a)(1), Fed. R. Civ. P., and Civil Local Rule 37-1(a). If you contend that this correspondence fails to comply with the aforementioned rules, please provide the basis for your contention and whatever legal authority you are aware of that supports your contention. If you desire a telephonic "meet and confer", please provide a date and time this week where you are available.

Should you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Brian D. Hancock, Esq.
