Lu

Moving the deposition is fine. I'm sure that if one of us had a similar issue, you'd extend the same courtesy. We will work out the scheduling with Carter.

Feel better.

All

I wanted to give you a heads up -- I have spent the weekend in bed with some kind of bug -- voice has gone again also as part of it. I sincerely doubt that I will be feeling well enough to proceed with Mr. Herz' depo on Tuesday and so wanted to let you know asap. If you want to keep it on tentatively til mid-day tomorrow, and I will advise then if I am feeling better, I am happy to do that, but I really don't see that as very likely given that I still have a fever. My office can provide you with alternative dates in the rest of November and the first week of December to reschedule.

My apologies, I had hoped that by this evening I would feel better, but it just isn't happening.

Thanks

Lu

Awesome - what a delightful change when the "ladies" are talking sports! And in response to Daniel's comment, I must forewarn you that I am a diehard Giants fan, season ticket holder for years and am trying to barter for tickets for sunday nite with my Dallas office.

>> We were originally not going to have an ESI-related agenda and only thought it made sense to send one as of this morning (which is why you didn't receive one last week). As I indicated, we did not anticipate you would be able to answer all of the questions but we thought it could help guide the discussions. Nevertheless, if you are unprepared for the meet and confer tomorrow, we can agree to put it off to the morning of the 29th.

>> Just to be clear - here are the things we would like to discuss, in full, at this meeting:

>> 1. SCEA's objections and responses to Plaintiffs' Document Requests.
>> 2. Our letter raising three issues (1. SCEA's request re: not using the PS3s; 2. SCEA's request to depose absent class members; 3. SCEA's request to take discovery on Meiselman) 3. ESI protocols (see proposed agenda circulated earlier today - it might make sense to have your IT consultants available if possible) 4. Protective Order (we see no reason why drafts cannot be circulated before the 29th - given your past work with Sony, I presume that you have orders entered into in previous cases which your client has approved) 5. >> I have no time today to review this agenda, which I would have liked to have received last week before the ESI meeting that was supposed to occur on Friday. I am going to need to reschedule the meeting tomorrow -- I have not time today or tomorrow morning to prepare to discuss SCEA's responses to your document requests, let alone the agenda you just sent. It seemed like October 29th worked for everyone on your side based on your email below and we can make that work to cover all outstanding issues (although I do expect that you can get back to us on depo dates before then). I will send you a more detailed email consistent with the message I left you and expanding on the issues you raised, but can't do that today.

But, if we are unable to do so, we will just schedule another session (let's hold Oct. 29th - assuming you don't have jury duty - just in case). As long as we can try to fully cover SCEA's responses to our RFPs, that is all we ask. If we need to take other things off of the agenda or go over SCEA's responses first, we would rather do that.

>> I am not sure how my "demand" for a protective order is "shocking" - we discussed that at our first meet and confer months ago. In fact, the parties put it in their joint CMC and Carter was supposed to get us a draft back then. I have attached the standard ND Cal. Order. Why don't you go through that and tell us if there is anything you all would want to change? At the very least, we are amenable to SCEA producing the documents to which it has no objection and we will agree to treat them as "Attorneys Eyes Only" until we can enter into a protective order in order to prevent further delay. Hopefully, that would resolve any concerns.

>> First, we served deposition notices for the names plaintiffs in the Consolidated Complaint on September 24 -- today is October 18 and you have yet to confirm on which of those dates Plaintiffs will indeed appear or provide us with proposed alternative dates. Last week, you said you would get back to us regarding deposition dates by October 20, regardless of whether we did in fact meet that day or not. So we will expect to receive dates by October 20, especially since your email below seems to suggest that you are not going to be appearing on any of the dates we proposed in late October and early November.

>> Second, SCEA's written response to Plaintiffs' document requests was served on October 8, 2010 -- we provided those responses without seeking for or obtaining an extension of time, confirming that delay has nothing to do with SCEA's recent correspondence.

>>

>>

>>

>>

>>

>> Third, Rosemary emailed us at 4:24 last Thursday == the day before we were supposed to meet to discuss ESI and your letter regarding various preservation and discovery issues on which Plaintiffs may move for a protective order. Rosemary said at that time that plaintiffs needed to reschedule the meeting due to "scheduling conflicts among other things." Whatever "among other things" was intended to mean, we understood that Plaintiffs literally could not go forward with the Friday meeting because of sudden and unavoidable scheduling problems. To accommodate Plaintiffs we agreed to move the meeting into the current week - which we openly told you was going to be very difficult, which should have come as no surprise to you, given that our reply briefs are due on Thursday. Yes, Rosemary did say that she would like to also talk about SCEA's discovery responses in her Thursday afternoon email -- and yes I continue to be happy to discuss them at that time, but I am not prepared to conduct a complete meet and confer regarding all of the responses as a precursor to presenting the parties positions to the Magistrate Judge during that meeting. Indeed, I can meet for up to 2 hours, and as you note in your email below, we already have several items on the agenda and it is likely that those will take up most if not all of that time.

>> Fourth, your demand for a stipulated protective order to be delivered to you tomorrow, is really shocking -- especially given that the parties have not yet met regarding ESI issues, and given the impending due date of our reply papers, not to mention the delay in confirming dates for Plaintiffs' depositions.

>>

>> Regarding the question of rescheduling a meeting so that we can discuss ESI, plaintiffs' preservation concerns, and SCEA's responses to Plaintiffs' discovery requests -- I am on the East Coast October 22 through 25 and set for jury duty on the 28th. Carter is out on vacation through the 28th but could participate by phone on the 29th, and I could meet on the 29th if I am not selected for a jury. We are both available on November 2nd, after our hearing on November 4th, or on November 5th (which is when Mr. Hertz' depo is currently noticed for.

>>

>> If you want to pick any of these above dates, we are amenable to doing so, but we are not amenable to delaying hearing from you until those dates regarding Plaintiffs' depositions, as explained above.

>>

>> With regard to the stipulated protective order, I anticipate we should have a draft for you mid-next week, although of course it may need to be revised further after our conversation regarding ESI.

>> I am going to be out of pocket for most of the rest of the day on a conference call, so if you want to talk about this, rather than exchanging further lengthy emails, let me know a good time to call you late this evening or early tomorrow am.

We do not believe it makes sense to schedule a separate meet and confer at some point in November which is why we requested to put off the meet and confer to this week so we could discuss SCEA's objections to our document requests, as well. Rosemary's email made that clear. You indicated that this week was bad except for Wednesday so we agreed to your suggested date.

>> As you know, SCEA's position to us was that it would not seek a discovery stay and would produce documents during the briefing on the Motion to Dismiss. Indeed, we thought we would likely have documents by this point. Further, SCEA's representations in this regard led us to agree to the schedule we did.

We should be able to find a date in the following weeks to have a truly fulsome discussion, and may in fact be able to schedule it to coincide with plaintiffs' depositions.

>> Please let us know how many people will be attending on October 20 in person (if any -- we have no objection to conducting the discussion by telephone to save everyone time and expense).

>> Next week is bad for us other than possibly Wednesday, October 20. Let us know your availability on that day -- otherwise we will have to look into the week of the 26th. We have not heard back from you regarding any of the noticed depositions. Please let us know early next week whether the depositions will proceed on the dates as noticed, or any alternative dates you are proposing.
