COOLEY LLP Attorneys At Law San Francisco		Def. Yelp's Statement on Proposed Discovery Plan Case Nos. CV 10-1321& 10-2351 MHP

Defendant Yelp! Inc. ("Yelp") respectfully submits this Statement on Proposed Discovery Plan pursuant to the Court's July 20, 2010 Order asking the parties in these now-consolidated cases "to submit their respective discovery plans for the next six months." (July 20, 2010 Order at 1.)

I.

SCOPE OF ANTICIPATED DISCOVERY

6 Yelp's investigation and analysis of Plaintiffs' claims are ongoing. Presently, Yelp 7 anticipates that it will seek discovery on subjects including, but not limited to, the following: Plaintiffs' communications with Yelp; present and historical reviews on Plaintiffs' Yelp page; 8 9 Plaintiffs' Yelp account(s); Plaintiffs' purchase of any online advertising services (from Yelp or 10 others); Plaintiffs' account information and reviews from any other online business review 11 websites; complaints made by Plaintiffs' customers about Plaintiffs' business; Plaintiffs' sales and/or revenue and/or patronage statistics; whether Plaintiffs' alleged experiences with Yelp are 12 common with one another; and whether members of the putative class can be ascertained. 13

Yelp anticipates that it will serve discovery on and take depositions of each of the individuals and businesses that have sued it in the related actions. In addition to the current named plaintiffs in the pending actions, Yelp also intends to serve a subpoena on Christine LaPausky, the plaintiff in the former lawsuit entitled LaPausky d/b/a D'Ames Day Spa v. Yelp! Inc., Case No. CV10-1578 (C.D. Cal.) that was voluntarily dismissed (by the same counsel who represent plaintiffs in the Cats and Dogs case) after Yelp made a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim.

Yelp anticipates a need to have limits placed on discovery of Yelp's business records pertaining to putative class members that have not been named as Plaintiffs, assuming they could even be identified. Yelp's business records contain information about hundreds of thousands of businesses nationwide, and it would be unduly burdensome and expensive for Yelp to search for, review, and produce documents relating to any putative class members, without limitation.

MODIFICATIONS TO THE DISCOVERY RULES

A. Discovery to Begin After Pleadings Are Settled

Yelp and Plaintiffs in the pre-consolidated case entitled Cats and Dogs Animal Hospital, Inc. v. Yelp!, Inc., Case No. CV 10-02351 MHP ("Cats and Dogs") have engaged in limited discovery to date. Written discovery was served while the case was venued in the Central District of California, where a different set of local rules governed the case. No documents have been produced. There has been no discovery in the pre-consolidated case entitled Levitt v. Yelp!, Inc., Case No. CV 10-01321 MHP ("Levitt").

Consistent with the Court's comments at the hearing on July 19, Yelp believes that discovery should not commence until after any motion to dismiss the forthcoming consolidated complaint has been decided. Plaintiff's counsel in Levitt agrees. (See Joint Case Management Statement in Levitt case ("Levitt CMC Statement") at 8.) Plaintiffs' counsel in *Cats and Dogs*originally opposed such a pause of discovery (see Joint Case Management Statement in Cats and Dogs case ("Cats and Dogs CMC Statement") at 10-11), but recent communications with counsel suggest that they may now agree.

Thus, Yelp requests that, except for initial disclosures under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a), discovery be deferred until the pleadings have closed (i.e., until after any motion to dismiss is decided and, if necessary, Yelp has filed an Answer in this action).

19

B. Discovery to Be Bifurcated into Class and Merits Discovery

Consistent with the Court's comments at the hearing on July 19, all parties have agreed 20 21 that discovery prior to a decision on class certification should be limited to discovery that pertains 22 to class certification issues. (See Levitt CMC Statement at 8; Cats and Dogs CMC Statement at 23 12.) Phased discovery of this sort (precertification discovery first, followed later by merits-only discovery) is contemplated by the Manual for Complex Litigation (see, e.g., §§ 21.11, 21.14), 24 which states that allowing full merits discovery before a decision on certification "can create 25 unnecessary and extraordinary expense and burden" (id. § 21.14). Yelp recognizes that the line 26 between class discovery and merits-only discovery is not always easy to delineate and agrees to 27 meet and confer in good faith on disagreements to determine appropriate limits to class discovery. 28

Number of Depositions

In light of the number of named plaintiffs in the consolidated cases (11), Yelp believes that the number of depositions allowed per side should be increased to 20 (excluding expert depositions, which would be in addition to the 20). This is without prejudice to the Parties mutually agreeing to further modify the number of depositions, and without prejudice to either party seeking leave of the Court to take additional depositions if they believe it is necessary to do so (for example, if more named plaintiffs are added). Both sets of Plaintiffs have already agreed to this modification. (See Levitt CMC Statement at 8; Cats and Dogs CMC Statement at 12.)

D. Withdrawal or Amendment of Previously Propounded Interrogatories

Due to the procedural history of these cases, Yelp and Plaintiffs in the Cats and Dogs 10 action have already served interrogatories. Because a consolidated complaint has now been 11 ordered, certain of those interrogatories (especially those interrogatories relating to particular 12 allegations in the now inoperative Cats and Dogs First Amended Complaint¹) may be rendered 13 moot or inapplicable. Yelp thus respectfully requests that the parties be allowed to amend or 14 withdraw interrogatories that are rendered moot or inapplicable by the forthcoming consolidated 15 complaint, without such amendment or withdrawal counting against the party's limit on the 16 number of interrogatories. 17

III. PROPOSED DISCOVERY AND CASE MANAGEMENT SCHEDULE

Yelp and Plaintiff's counsel in Levitt have agreed to the following schedule:

Event	Date / Deadline
Opening of Initial Phase of Fact Discovery	Discovery will be bifurcated into class certification and merits discovery.
	Class certification discovery would commence after the pleadings have closed (i.e. , after any motions to dismiss have been decided and, if necessary, Yelp has filed an Answer).
Completion of Class Certification Fact Discovery	Six months from close of pleadings
Completion of Class	Two months after completion of class certification fact discovery.
Certification Expert Discovery (if Any)	During this period, the following will occur on a schedule to be worked out by the parties: disclosure of experts, service of initial expert reports, rebuttal reports, and depositions.
Deadline to File Any Motion for or to Deny Class	If class certification expert discovery takes place, then two weeks after completion of class certification expert discovery.
Certification	If there is no expert discovery, then two weeks after the completion of class certification fact discovery or two weeks after the Parties have confirmed that there will be no expert discovery, whichever is later.
Deadline to File Any	If class certification expert discovery takes place, eight weeks after the Opposition to Motion for or to Deny Class Certification	end of expert discovery.
	If there is no expert discovery, then eight weeks after completion of class certification fact discovery or two weeks after the Parties have confirmed that there will be no expert discovery, whichever is later.
Deadline to file Any Reply on Motion for or to Deny Class Certification	Three weeks days after filing of opposition to motion for or to deny class certification.
Class Certification Hearing	At the Court's convenience
Completion of Fact Discovery	Six months after order on motion for class certification
Completion of Expert Discovery	Three months after completion of fact discovery. Includes disclosure of experts, service of initial expert reports and rebuttal reports, and depositions on dates to be agreed upon by the Parties.
Deadline for Dispositive Motions (Including Daubert Motions)	Two months from completion of expert discovery
Hearing on Dispositive Motions	At the Court's convenience
Pre-Trial Conference	One month after Court's ruling on dispositive motions, or as soon as possible based on the Court's schedule
Trial	Two weeks after Pre-Trial Conference

COOLEY LLP Attorneys At Law San Francisco Plaintiffs' counsel in Cats and Dogs have not agreed to this schedule and we understand that they will include their proposed schedule in their separate submission to the Court. Cats and Dogs Plaintiffs have informed Yelp that they propose a schedule in which (a) documents would be produced within 1 month after a decision on any motion to dismiss, (b) all of the depositions of Yelp's Rule 30(b)(6) deponents and 4 depositions of named Plaintiffs would be completed within 4 months of a decision on any motion to dismiss, and (c) all class discovery (including expert discovery) would close within 6 months of the decision on the motion to dismiss.

8 Cats and Dogs Plaintiffs' proposed schedule would be unworkable. First, under such a 9 schedule, document discovery would have to be completed within days of Yelp's deadline to file 10 an Answer and any counterclaims. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(a)(4) (answer within 14 days after 11 notice of denial of Rule 12 motion). Second, under such a schedule, completion of document 12 discovery would occur prior to the deadline for objections and responses to discovery (and prior 13 to any meeting and conferring on such objections), because discovery would not commence until 14 after the pleadings are closed, and the Federal Rules call for responses and objections to be served 15 within 30 days after service of the discovery. Thus, allowing for only one month for the 16 completion of document discovery is unworkable and would result in disorderly document 17 production. Instead, the schedule should include an appropriate period for orderly document 18 discovery, which would include service of discovery requests, objections and responses, meeting 19 and conferring, production, and time to take up any discovery disputes with the Court. Yelp 20 respectfully suggests, and Plaintiff in Levitt agrees, that six months is an appropriate time period 21 for fact discovery. Third, completion of depositions within 4 months of a decision on any motion 22 to dismiss is likely to be unachievable given the number of Plaintiffs involved and the potential 23 complexity of the document production on Yelp's end. Fourth, limiting Yelp to 4 depositions of 24 the named Plaintiffs is unwarranted given that there are currently 11 named Plaintiffs and it is 25 currently unclear how many principals or employees at each named Plaintiff have information 26 relevant to class certification issues.

1	IV. PROTECTIVE ORDER SHOULD BE ENTERED
2	Because of the highly confidential and proprietary nature of Yelp's documents and
3	information, Yelp will seek entry of a protective order prior to the production of confidential
4	documents. Plaintiffs have agreed that such a protective order, including a "clawback" agreement
5	for privileged material, is appropriate. (See Cats and Dogs CMC Statement at 19.) Yelp will
6	work with Plaintiffs to submit a stipulated protective order to the Court for approval.
