I, Ryan Bricker, declare:

- 1. I am an associate at Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP, counsel of record for Sony Computer Entertainment America LLC ("SCEA") in the above-captioned matter. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated in this declaration, unless otherwise indicated, and could and would testify competently thereto.
- 2. Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of an article published at <ihackintosh.com> on January 23, 2010, reproducing a screen capture of a Twitter message posted by Defendant George Hotz using the Twitter account "geohot." The message reads: "fine, one tweet... i just hacked the PS3... http://geohotps3.blogspot.com".
- 3. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of an article published at <gamesradar.com> on January 7, 2011, reproducing screen capture of a Twitter message posted by Hotz using the Twitter account "geohot." The message reads: "PS3 exploit released... good luck community http://geohotps3.blogspot.com".
- 4. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of a blog post published by Hotz on January 23, 2010, at <geohotps3.blogspot.com> titled "Hello hypervisor, I'm geohot", and explaining that Hotz had gained "read/write access to the entire system memory." Hotz encourages readers to "follow @geohot on twitter". Comments in response to the blog post appear below the text, some indicating that Hotz received online financial donations, including the following:

Thanks GeoHot, substantial donations are coming to you, dont even think of sharing the info or taking any bribe from sony, people will offer far much greater amount and satisfaction then sony ever will:) Keep it on the downlow, so it dosnt get patched or f*cked with, we dont want to end up at ground 0 once again after so many

1	years. Cheers to you buddy. January 23, 2010 9:02 AM
