 26 At the initial Case Management Conference, counsel for the parties reported to 27 the Court that they had agreed on a plan to submit, to a panel of English arbitrators, the 28 dispositive issue of whether English law allows Plaintiff to recover its claim for the 1 diminution in value of the damaged yacht insured by the Defendant.

2 Following that initial Case Management Conference, the parties, through their 3 counsel, agreed to a protocol for submission to the arbitration panel, selected the 4 arbitrators and submitted to them information for each of them to provide an opinion on 5 the submitted issues. All three panelists have now responded and provided their 6 opinions but the parties are seeking clarification relating to the opinion of the third 7 panelist.

8 In the meantime, counsel for the plaintiff has submitted a settlement demand and 9 the parties expect to engage in settlement discussions. They expect that those 10 discussions will be informal initially but, if necessary, the parties will again enlist the 11 services of the mediator who was appointed by the Court in this matter.

12 Under the circumstances, counsel request that the December 14th Case
13 Management Conference date be vacated and that a further Conference be set for late 14 January, 2013.
