12 always been and remains, a work schedule comprising 35 hours per week. On knowledge and 13 belief, all of Plaintiffs’ benefits were and are based on the 35 hour per week work schedule.

14 11. Plaintiffs relied on the representations of their employer that the reclassification
15 was proper at the time of their respective promotions in part because Lexis is considered an 16 authority in the national legal community and they therefore assumed Lexis would implement
17 policies in strict compliance with state and federal law.¹

18 12. Plaintiffs became aware that they had been misclassified on or around May 10, 19 2010. At that time, Plaintiffs were contacted by a company human resources representative and 20 asked to participate in a meeting. During the meeting, a group of employees including 21 Plaintiffs, were informed that they had been misclassified. During the meeting the group also 22 participated in a PowerPoint presentation titled GCDEPS-Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA)
23 Review May 2010. The presentation was presented as a review of the law relevant to Plaintiffs’
24 reclassification however the presentation contained numerous misrepresentations, both 25 affirmative and by omission, to which Plaintiffs relied, thereby causing harm to Plaintiffs.

1 situated or aggrieved employees in the San Francisco office and approximately 200 similarly
2 situated employees nationwide.

3 14. Defendant unlawfully classified Plaintiffs as exempt from federal and state laws
4 despite the fact that they are not exempt. During the misclassification period, Plaintiffs worked 5 straight-time and overtime hours, as defined by the applicable federal and state laws, and are 6 and have been entitled to straight-time and premium compensation at the appropriate rate for 7 all straight-time and overtime hours worked.

8 15. Defendant has willfully refused to pay Plaintiffs the required straight-time and 9 overtime compensation for all hours worked, and has failed to keep time records as required by 10 law.

11 16. Defendant has failed to keep records of Plaintiffs' straight-time and overtime
12 hours. In doing so, Defendant has failed to comply with ERISA's requirement that it maintain 13 records sufficient to determine benefits due or which may become due under the 401(k) Plan,
14 as required under ERISA § 404, 29 U.S.C. 1104.

15 17. Defendant has willfully refused to pay the required straight-time and overtime 16 compensation for hours worked, and has failed to keep time records as required by law for 17 numerous aggrieved employees in the State of California.

18 18. Defendant's practices violate the FLSA, ERISA, the Labor Code Private 19 Attorneys General Act of 2004 ("PAGA")² and the state law and common law causes of action

21 overtime compensation for all hours worked; liquidated and/or other damages and penalties, 22 including punitive damages as permitted by applicable law; recovery of penalties on behalf of 23 all aggrieved employees as permitted by the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004; interest,

16 56. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 55 as if
17 they were set forth again herein.

18 57. The foregoing conduct, as alleged, violates the California Unfair Competition

20 competition by prohibiting, inter alia, any unlawful or unfair business acts or practices.

21 58. Beginning at a date unknown to Plaintiffs, but at least as long ago as four years
22 before the filing of this action, Defendant committed, and continues to commit, acts of unfair
23 competition, as defined by the UCL, by, among other things, engaging in the acts and practices
24 described herein. Defendant's conduct as herein alleged has injured the Plaintiffs by 25 wrongfully denying them earned wages.

26 59. Defendant engaged in unfair competition in violation of the UCL by violating, 27 inter alia, each of the following laws — each such violation constituting an independent and 28 separate violation of the UCL:

- 1 a. The Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. §§ 201 et seq.;
- 2 b. Labor Code § 1194;
- 3 c. Labor Code §§ 206, 206.5, 226(a), 226.7, 227, 432.5, 512, 1197 and 1197.1;

11 regular rate of pay for an employee. In addition, any work in excess of eight hours 12 on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than 13 twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.”

14 60. Defendant’s course of conduct, acts, and practices in violation of the laws

16 Defendant’s conduct described herein violates the policy or spirit of such laws or otherwise 17 significantly threatens or harms competition.

18 61. The unlawful and unfair business practices and acts of Defendant, described 19 above, have injured Plaintiffs in that they were wrongfully denied the payment of earned 20 straight-time and overtime wages.

21 62. The Plaintiffs seek recovery of attorneys’ fees and costs of this action to be paid
22 by Reed Elsevier, as provided by the UCL and Labor Code §§ 218, 218.5, and 1194.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(ERISA § 502(a)(3) Based on Failure to Maintain Records)

64. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 63 as if they were set forth again herein.

65. ERISA § 209(a)(1), 29 U.S.C. 1059(a)(1), requires that an employer which

1 sponsors an employee benefit plan maintain records with respect to each of its employees
2 sufficient to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such employees.

3 66. On information and belief, the 401(k) Plan is an employee pension benefit plan
4 within the meaning of ERISA § 3(2), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(2), and an employee benefit plan
5 within the meaning of ERISA § 3(3), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(3).

6 67. On information and belief, Defendant has been and continues to be an employer
7 within the meaning of ERISA § 3(5), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(5), the administrator of the 401(k)
8 Plan, within the meaning of ERISA § 3(16)(A), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(16)(A), the named fiduciary
9 of that plan within the meaning of ERISA § 402(a)(1), 29 U.S.C. 1102(a)(1), and a fiduciary of 10 that Plan within the meaning of ERISA § 3(21), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21).

11 68. On information and belief, and at all relevant times, Defendant has been the 12 Plan sponsor of an Employee 401(k) Plan within the meaning of ERISA § 3(16)(B), 29 U.S.C.
13 § 1002(16)(B). On information and belief, Defendant has exercised actual responsibility,
14 authority, and/or control with regard to the crediting of compensation under the 401(k) Plan,
15 thereby making it a fiduciary of that Plan within the meaning of ERISA § 3(21), 29 U.S.C. § 16 1002(21).

17 69. At all relevant times, Plaintiffs were employees of Defendant, within the 18 meaning of ERISA § 3(6), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(6), and participants in the 401(k) Plan within the 19 meaning of ERISA § 3(7), 29 U.S.C. § 1102(7).

20 70. On information and belief, pursuant to the terms of the 401(k) Plan, employees'
21 rights to share in the contributions to the Plan are dependant, in part, on compensation, which 22 is defined in the Plan's governing instrument to include, among other things, employees' 23 overtime wages.

24 71. By its failure to record and/or report all of the hours worked by Plaintiffs,
25 Defendant has failed to maintain records with respect to each aggrieved employee sufficient to 26 determine the benefit accrual rights of 401(k) Plan participants, in violation of ERISA §
27 209(a)(1), 29 U.S.C. 1059(a)(1).

28 72. In order to remedy this violation of ERISA by Defendant, Plaintiffs seek

1 injunctive relief, and such other equitable relief as the Court deems just and proper, as 2 provided by section 502(a)(3) of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. § 1132(g).

3 73. Plaintiffs seek recovery of their attorneys' fees and costs of action to be paid by 4 Defendant, as provided by section 502(g)(1) of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. § 1132(g).

5 SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
6 (ERISA §§ 1001 et seq.)

7 74. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 73 as if
8 they were set forth again herein.

9 75. ERISA § 404(a)(1), 29 U.S.C. 1104(a)(1), requires that employee benefit plan
10 fiduciaries discharge their duties with respect to the plan solely in the interest of participants 11 and beneficiaries and, inter alia, (1) for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to 12 participants and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administration; (2)
13 with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances that a prudent person 14 acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an 15 enterprise of like character with like aims; and (3) in accordance with the documents and 16 instruments governing the plan.

17 76. On information and belief, the Plan's governing instrument confers on 18 Defendant discretionary authority, responsibility, and/or control with respect to the crediting of 19 compensation, thereby rendering Defendant a fiduciary in that regard.

20 77. On further information and belief, Defendant has exercised actual discretionary 21 authority, responsibility, and/or control in determining what compensation would and would 22 not be credited under the 401(k) Plan. By reason of the exercise of such discretion, Defendant
23 has been a fiduciary of that Plan with respect to crediting compensation.

24 78. Defendant has breached its fiduciary duties by failing to credit compensation
25 due for unpaid straight-time and overtime performed by Plaintiffs as compensation under the 26 401(k) Plan.

27 79. Pursuant to ERISA § 502(a)(3), 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(3), Plaintiffs seek an 28 injunction requiring Defendant to credit compensation under the 401(k) Plan for all of the past

1 and future straight-time and overtime work performed by Plaintiffs and any other equitable
2 relief as the Court deems appropriate.

3 80. Plaintiffs seek recovery of their attorneys' fees and costs of action to be paid by 4 Defendant as provided by section 502(b)(1) of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. 1132(g).

11 2004, Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq. ("PAGA").

12 83 Defendant is a "person" as contemplated within the meaning of subdivision (b)
13 of section 2699 of the Labor Code. Plaintiffs are "aggrieved employee[s]" of Defendant within 14 the meaning of subdivision (c) of section 2699 of the Labor Code.

15 84. Plaintiffs, on behalf of all aggrieved employees, seek to recover civil penalties
16 pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(a) for Defendant's violation of, inter alia, Labor Code sections:
17 206, 206.5, 226(a), 226.7, 227, 432.5, 510, 512, 1194, 1197, 1197.1, IWC Wage Orders
18 including but not limited to 4-2001, and all other applicable Labor Code sections relating to the 19 causes of action set forth herein and as set forth in Labor Code section 2699.5 pursuant to 21 85. Labor Code sections 510, 1194, 1197 and 1197.1 require each covered

22 employer, including Defendant Reed Elsevier, to compensate all non-exempt employees for all
23 hours worked including premium compensation at a rate of not less than one and one-half 24 times the regular rate of pay for worked performed in excess of eight hours in a day or forty 25 hours in a workweek.

26 86. Plaintiffs and all aggrieved employees are entitled to be paid for all hours
27 worked and premium compensation for all hours worked at the applicable statutory rate.

28 87. At all relevant times, Reed Elsevier, pursuant to policies and practices, failed

1 and refused to pay straight-time and overtime premiums to Plaintiffs and all aggrieved
2 employees for hours worked in excess of eight hours per day or forty hours in a workweek.

3 88. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and all aggrieved employees for all straight-
4 time and overtime hours worked, Reed Elsevier has violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194,
5 1197 and 1197.1.

6 89. Labor Code section 206 requires each covered employer, including Defendant
7 Reed Elsevier, in the case of a dispute over wages, to pay without condition all wages or parts
8 thereof conceded by the employer to be due.

9 90. Reed Elsevier, pursuant to policies and practices, failed and refused to pay
10 straight-time and overtime premiums to Plaintiffs which it conceded to be due to Plaintiffs and 11 to all aggrieved employees.

12 91. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and all aggrieved employees for straight-
13 time and overtime conceded to be due, Reed Elsevier has violated Labor Code section 206.

14 92. Labor Code section 226(a) requires each covered employer, including 15 Defendant Reed Elsevier, to provide a detachable part of a check or a separate writing showing 16 required information including: (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number
17 of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece rate 18 basis, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which 19 the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and the last four digits of his or her social 20 security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number, (8)
21 the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, (9) all applicable hourly rates in 22 effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate 23 by the employee.

24 93. Defendant failed, and continues to fail, to provide Plaintiffs, and many of its 25 California employees, with paystubs that contain the information required by Labor Code
26 section 226(a). Specifically, the wage statements Defendant furnished, and continue to furnish 27 to Plaintiffs and many of Defendant's California employees, fail to set forth the total hours
28 worked and applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and corresponding number

1 of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

2 94. On information and belief, Defendant employs more than 300 employees in the 3 State of California. The exact number of aggrieved employees can easily be ascertained by 4 reviewing Defendant's employee and payroll records.

5 95. Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512 requires each covered employer, including 6 Defendant Reed Elsevier, to provide uninterrupted meal and rest breaks.

7 96. At all relevant times, Reed Elsevier, pursuant to policies and practices, failed
8 and refused to provide all aggrieved employees with uninterrupted meal and rest breaks.

9 97. By failing to provide uninterrupted meal and rest breaks Reed Elsevier has 10 violated Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512.

11 98. Labor Code section 432.5 prohibits employers from requiring employees to 12 agree in writing to any term or condition which is known by the employer to be prohibited by 13 law.

14 99. On or about May 2010, Reed Elsevier required Plaintiffs and aggrieved
15 employees to sign an instrument containing terms and conditions that it knew to be prohibited 16 by law.

17 100. By requiring employees to sign instruments containing terms and conditions
18 prohibited by law, Reed Elsevier has violated Labor Code section 432.5.

19 101. Labor Code section 227 requires each covered employer, including Defendant
20 Reed Elsevier, to properly credit each employee's health, pension, and vacation plan.

21 102. At all relevant times, Reed Elsevier, pursuant to policies and practices, failed
22 and refused to credit each employee's health, pension, and vacation plan.

23 103. By failing to credit each employee's health, pension, and vacation plan Reed
24 Elsevier has violated Labor Code section 227.

25 104. Plaintiff has complied with PAGA's administrative requirement in the manner
26 proscribed in Labor Code section 2699.3, including providing notice as set forth in Labor Code
27 section 2699.3(a)(1). Plaintiff has either received notice from the Labor & Workforce
28 Development Agency ("LWDA") that it would not investigate the allegations in the notice

1 Plaintiff provided to the LWDA, or 33 calendar days have elapsed since the postmark date of 2 the notice provided by Plaintiff pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.3(a)(1). Evidence of 3 Plaintiffs' compliance with Labor Code section 2699.3 is attached herein as Exhibit 1.

4 105. Plaintiffs individually, and on behalf of all other current and former Reed
5 Elsevier employees within the Liability Period, seek to recover all statutory penalties for 6 Defendant's violation of any California Labor Code provision. In addition to any other civil or 7 statutory penalties, Plaintiffs seek, pursuant to Labor Code section 2699, a statutory penalty of 8 one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for Defendant's first 9 violation of any provision of the California Labor Code, and two hundred dollars ($200) for 10 each aggrieved employee per pay period for any subsequent violation by Defendant of any 11 provision of the California Labor Code.

12 106. Defendant is an employer that currently employs one or more employees,
13 therefore the civil penalties as set forth in Labor Code section 2699 apply.

14 107. Plaintiff requests penalties against Defendant as provided under Labor Code 15 section 2699, plus reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, in amounts to be proved at trial.

16 NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
17 (Intentional Misrepresentation; Violation of Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1572, 1709 and 1710)

18 108. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 107 as if
19 they were set forth again herein.

20 109. Plaintiffs first became aware of their misclassification on or around May 10,
21 2010. On that day, Plaintiffs were contacted by Reed Elseviers' human resources department
22 and asked to participate in a meeting. The meeting was conducted by Ashleigh Owens.

23 110. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Ms. Owens is a human resources
24 representative and agent for Reed Elsevier, and in doing the things alleged in this complaint 25 was acting within the course and scope of such agency and employment and with the 26 permission and consent of Reed Elsevier.

27 111. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Ms. Owens who made the 28 representations alleged in this complaint, at the time of making the representations alleged in

1 this complaint and at all times relevant, was acting within the course and scope of her
2 employment and authority for Reed Elsevier.

3 112. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Ms. Owens, within her capacity as a
4 human resources representative for Reed Elsevier, maintains a fiduciary and/or confidential
5 relationship with Plaintiffs.

6 113. Ms. Owens, during the May 10 meeting, informed a group of employees
7 including Plaintiffs, that they had been misclassified. Plaintiffs were then required to 8 participate in a PowerPoint presentation related to the misclassification. During the meeting
9 and presentation, Ms. Owens stated that employees would be asked to “estimate” the number 10 of hours worked during the preceding two years and that the misclassified employees would be 11 paid one-half times (.5) their hourly rate of pay for any hours worked over forty per week
12 during the preceding two years. During the meeting Ms. Owens stated that the two year time 13 period for back overtime compensation and the .5 multiplier were mandated by federal law.

14 114. Ms. Owens, during the May 10 meeting, showed a PowerPoint slide
15 presentation titled GCDEPS-Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) Review May 2010. The slide 16 presentation contained a slide with the following information:

- 17
- 18 • “How will the back wages be calculated?”
- 19 • HR will work with the management team to determine an average number of hours
20 worked by all employees within the organization that encompasses the last two (2)
21 years.
- 22 • HR will then work to determine the eligible weeks the employee is eligible to earn the 23 back wages against.
- 24 • An hourly wage for that employee will be calculated by taking the base salary effective
25 for the appropriate years plus VC earned for the same years, divide the number of 26 weeks worked in that year and divided by their standard hours.
- 27 • The hourly rate will then be multiplied by the number of determined overtime hours 28 and then multiplied again by .5.”

- 1 • Under the FLSA, employees who worked overtime and were improperly classified as 2 exempt are entitled to compensation for overtime hours computed by dividing their
3 weekly salary by the number of hours worked in the week. Thus, a salaried employee 4 has already been paid his/her normal hourly rate for each hour worked over 40 and is 5 therefore, only entitled to half-time for the hours worked in excess of 40 per week.

7 115. Ms. Owens, during the May 10 meeting, also distributed a document titled 8 “Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) FAQ’s Intended For Distribution to Affected Employees
9 Only.” One question addressed in the document was: “How was back overtime calculated.”

10 The document continued:

11
12 “The back overtime was calculated in accordance with accepted Department of Labor
13 practice and there were a number of factors that helped us estimate back overtime. The 14 estimate was based on each of your individual records, including but not limited to,
15 vacations, sick days, personal days, company scheduled meetings, the organization’s
16 holiday schedules, leave records, and various other systems. In addition, your managers were consulted and assisted us in determining the back overtime estimates. We then multiplied the total number of estimated overtime hours per year by .5 and the earnings annual hourly rate to get the total back payment amount.”

17 116. In a May 13 email to Ms. Owens subsequent to the meeting, Ms. Dessin asked:
18 “is there anything additional we should know since those of us in CA work a 35 hour
19 workweek and not a 40 hour?” Ms. Owens responded: “For now, no....just an estimate of 20 hours worked in excess of 40. There could be some special travel ‘pay stuff’ that we are 21 looking into... .” The same day, Ms. Dessin asked for additional clarification, again via email, 22 to which Ms. Owens responded: “. . . that is our understanding from a back wage payment
23 scenario from the DOL. As OT is only considered anything in excess of 40. Compensation 24 department is confirming this as we speak however!”

25 117. On or about May 27, Ms. Dessin in an email to Ms. Owens asked: “I had an 26 additional question – would you please explain how the two year date frame was determined?
27 Ms. Owens responded “I think it’s the statutory timeframe for backwages.”

28 118. Defendant’s representations and failures to disclose information and

1 suppressions of information was deceptive for numerous reasons including, inter alia, the 2 following:

- 3
- 4 1. The statements erroneously imply that Reed Elsevier consulted the Department
5 of Labor and complied with Department of Labor guidance or guidelines in 6 calculating back wages;
- 7 2. The statements erroneously state that the calculation of back overtime was done 8 in a matter consistent with the law relevant to such matters.
- 9 3. The statements misstate the proper calculation of overtime pursuant to the 10 FLSA;
- 11 4. The statements misstate the proper calculation of overtime pursuant California
12 law;
- 13 5. The statements misstate the manner in which back wages were calculated;
- 14 6. The statements erroneously imply that the proper time period for calculating 15 back wages relevant to the misclassification is two years when in fact it is four 16 years;
- 17 7. The statements are misleading by omission because they fail to recognize Reed
18 Elsevier's employees' right to recover straight-time wages, liquidated damages,
19 statutory penalties, civil penalties, and equitable relief under federal and state 20 law; and
- 21 8. The statements are misleading by omission because they fail to recognize each 22 employees' right to proper crediting of compensation pursuant to ERISA.
- 23

24 119. When Ms. Owens, on behalf of Defendant, made these representations,
25 Defendant knew them to be false and made these representations with the intention to deceive
26 and defraud Plaintiffs and to induce Plaintiffs to act in reliance on these representations in a 27 manner hereafter alleged, or with the expectation that Plaintiffs would so act.

28 120. Plaintiffs, at the time these representations were made by Defendant and at the

1 time Plaintiff took the actions alleged in this complaint, were ignorant of the falsity of 2 Defendant's representations and believed them to be true. Plaintiffs reasonably relied on the 3 veracity of Defendant's statements in part because Lexis is famously known as a supplier of 4 legal primary and secondary source material to the national legal community.³

5 121. Plaintiffs relied to their detriment on the affirmative misrepresentations and 6 omissions as outlined above because they delayed seeking legal counsel thereby losing the 7 right to recover wages owed due to the operation of the statute of limitations.

8 122. Based upon this fraud, Plaintiffs are entitled to recover any amounts that they 9 are now barred from recovering due to the operation of the statute of limitations, including 10 interest and fees.

11 123. The conduct of Defendant was an intentional misrepresentation, deceit or 12 concealment of a material fact known to the Defendant with the intention on the part of 13 Defendant of thereby depriving Plaintiffs of property or legal rights or otherwise causing 14 injury, and was despicable conduct that subjected plaintiffs to cruel and unjust hardship in 15 conscious disregard of Plaintiffs rights, so as to justify an award of exemplary and punitive 16 damages.

17 TENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
18 (Equity/Unjust Enrichment)

19 124. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 123 as if
20 they were set forth again herein.

21 125. Defendant received the benefit of Plaintiffs' work without compensating the 22 Plaintiffs. As a matter of equity, Defendant should not be allowed to prosper at Plaintiffs'
23 expense.

24 126. The money Defendant owes Plaintiffs as wages, all inured directly to 25 Defendant's benefit by its nonpayment to Plaintiffs for work done.

26 127. Plaintiffs should receive compensation to which Plaintiffs are entitled in equity

27 _____
28 ³ For example, Lexis publishes a variety of respected legal treatises related to employment law including California Employment Law, which Lexis advertises as "[t]he most comprehensive treatment of California law governing employer-employee relations in the private sector."

1 and Defendant should not be unjustly enriched by its nonpayment of wages to Plaintiffs for the 2 work Plaintiffs performed or suffered.

4 ELEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
5 (Breach of Implied Contract)

6 128. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 127 as if
7 they were set forth again herein.

8 129. Defendant entered into an implied contract with Plaintiffs to pay them wages for 9 all work done and time spent for Defendant's benefit.

10 130. Defendant breached this implied contract by failing to pay Plaintiffs all the 11 wages due for the benefit given to Defendant.

12 131. Plaintiffs are at will employees. The law implies that a contract for payment of 13 wages existed by the very nature of the employer/employee relationship.

14 132. Plaintiffs were injured by Defendant's breach of implied contract to pay wages 15 owed.

16 133. Defendant's actions were intentional, willful, malicious, and in reckless 17 disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs.

18 134. Plaintiffs seek damages in the amount of their respective unpaid straight-time
19 compensation, unpaid overtime compensation, interest, and other such legal and equitable 20 relief as the Court deems just and proper.

21 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

22 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for relief as follows:

23 A. A declaratory judgment that the practices complained of herein are unlawful 24 under the FLSA;

25 B. A declaration that the practices complained of herein violate ERISA;

26 C. A declaration that Defendant has breached its fiduciary duties by failing to 27 credit the Plaintiffs with compensation for all worked performed, as required by ERISA and 28 the terms of the 401(k) Plan;

1 D. A declaratory judgment that the practices complained of herein are unlawful 2 under appropriate state law;

3 E. Appropriate equitable and injunctive relief to remedy Defendant's violations of 4 all state and federal law claims, including but not necessarily limited to an order enjoining
5 Defendant from continuing unlawful practices;

6 F. An order requiring that Defendant remedy its breaches of fiduciary duty by 7 crediting Plaintiffs' compensation for all of their past, present and future uncompensated work;

8 G. Appropriate equitable and injunctive relief to remedy Defendant's violation of 9 ERISA;

10 H. An award of damages, liquidated damages, and restitution to be paid by 11 Defendant according to proof;

12 I. Appropriate statutory penalties according to proof;

13 J. Punitive damages according to proof;

14 K. The maximum civil penalty specifically provided by state statute for each
15 aggrieved employee for each violation of the California Labor Code as described herein;

16 L. Except for penalties specifically provided for in the California Labor Code, a 17 civil penalty of one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for 18 each initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay
19 period for each subsequent violation for each separate violation of the California Labor Code
20 as described herein;

21 M. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest, as provided by law;

22 N. Costs of action incurred herein, including expert fees;

23 O. Attorneys' fees, including fees pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216;

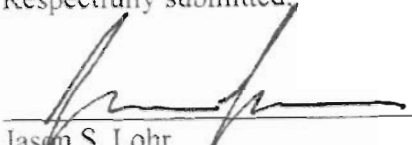

24 P. Such other legal, injunctive and equitable relief as the Court may deem just and 25 proper.

NOTICE OF LABOR CODE VIOLATIONS PURSUANT TO LABOR CODE SECTION 2699.3

To: Labor and Workforce Development Agency and Reed Elsevier, Inc.

From: Jennifer Dessin and Semmantha Chie on behalf of themselves and all current and former similarly situated employees.

Factual Statement

Jennifer Dessin and Semmantha Chie are employees of Lexis Nexis ("Lexis"), a division of Reed Elsevier, Inc. ("Reed"). On information and belief, Reed Elsevier, Inc. is a foreign corporation qualified to do business in the State of California.

Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie work in Reed's San Francisco office. Ms. Dessin has been employed in the position titled Coordinator of Publishing Operations ("Coordinator") since August 2006. Ms. Chie has been employed in the Coordinator position since January 2005.

The Coordinator position does not, and has never, had any of the attributes required for an exemption from overtime under Federal or California State law. Nevertheless, Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie were classified as exempt employees until May 2010 at which time the two were informed by Reed's Human Resource department that they had been wrongfully classified. Shortly thereafter, the two were reclassified as non-exempt employees. Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie are informed and believe that approximately 200 Reed employees were similarly reclassified on or about May 2010.

February 4, 2011

As a result of the misclassification, and the failure to recognize and pay straight-time and overtime wages, Reed has failed to comply with numerous provisions set forth in Labor Code Section 2699.5. Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie are informed and believe that such violations are ongoing, systematic and continuous. Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie, on behalf of themselves and similarly situated employees ("aggrieved employees"), intend to bring an action against Reed pursuant to the Private Attorney General Act as provided for in Labor Code Section 2699.3.

Labor Code Violations and Remedies

Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie were wrongfully classified as exempt employees for a period of approximately four and five years respectively. As a result of the misclassification, reclassification and events subsequent to the reclassification, Reed has failed to comply with myriad Labor Code Sections, including but not limited to Sections 206, 206.5, 226(a), 226.7, 227, 432.5, 510, 512, 1174 subsection (d), 1194, 1197, and 1197.1.¹

Specifically, the aggrieved employees have been denied straight-time and overtime pay that accrued during the misclassification period. As a result, Reed has violated Labor Code Sections 510, 1194, 1197 and 1197.1. While Reed concedes that it owes overtime wages to the aggrieved employees for a period of two years subsequent to the reclassification, Reed has failed to pay the wages it owes in violation of Labor Code 206.

In addition, during the misclassification period, Reed failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees as required by Labor Code Section 226(a) and 1174 subsection (d). Also, as a result of the misclassification, the aggrieved employees were denied uninterrupted meal periods and rest breaks in violation of Labor Code Sections 226.7 and 512.

¹ Without limitation, Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie, if permitted, will seek any and all penalties otherwise capable of being collected or assessed by the Commissioner. This includes each of the following, as enumerated in Labor Code Section 2699.5, which states: "[t]he provisions of subdivision (a) of Section 2699.3 apply to any alleged violation of the following provisions: subdivision (k) of Section 96, Sections 98.6, 201, 201.3, 201.5, 201.7, 202, 203, 203.1, 203.5, 204, 204a, 204b, 204.1, 204.2, 205, 205.5, 206, 206.5, 208, 209, and 212, subdivision (d) of Section 213, Sections 221, 222, 222.5, 223, and 224, subdivision (a) of Section 226, Sections 226.7, 227, 227.3, 230, 230.1, 230.2, 230.3, 230.4, 230.7, 230.8, and 231, subdivision (c) of Section 232, subdivision (c) of Section 232.5, Sections 233, 234, 351, 353, and 403, subdivision (b) of Section 404, Sections 432.2, 432.5, 432.7, 435, 450, 510, 511, 512, 513, 551, 552, 601, 602, 603, 604, 750, 751.8, 800, 850, 851, 851.5, 852, 921, 922, 923, 970, 973, 976, 1021, 1021.5, 1025, 1026, 1101, 1102, 1102.5, and 1153, subdivisions (c) and (d) of Section 1174, Sections 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1197.5, and 1198, subdivision (b) of Section 1198.3, Sections 1199, 1199.5, 1290, 1292, 1293, 1293.1, 1294, 1294.1, 1294.5, 1296, 1297, 1298, 1301, 1308, 1308.1, 1308.7, 1309, 1309.5, 1391, 1391.1, 1391.2, 1392, 1683, and 1695, subdivision (a) of Section 1695.5, Sections 1695.55, 1695.6, 1695.7, 1695.8, 1695.9, 1696, 1695.5, 1696.6, 1697.1, 1700.25, 1700.26, 1700.31, 1700.32, 1700.40, and 1700.47, paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (a) of, and subdivision (e) of, Section 1701.4, subdivision (a) of Section 1701.5, Sections 1701.8, 1701.10, 1701.12, 1735, 1771, 1774, 1776, 1777.5, 1811, 1815, 2651, and 2673, subdivision (a) of Section 2673.1, Sections 2695.2, 2800, 2801, 2802, 2806, and 2810, subdivision (b) of Section 2929, and Sections 3095, 6310, 6311, and 6399.7."

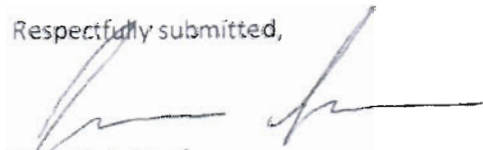

Furthermore, shortly after the aggrieved employees were reclassified, each was asked to sign an instrument indicating that Reed had satisfied its obligations with respect to straight-time and overtime pay. The request, and each executed copy of the release, contravene Labor Code Sections 206.5 and 432.5.

Finally, as a result of the misclassification, Reed has failed to properly credit each employee's health, pension and vacation plan in violation of Labor Code Section 227.

Ms. Dessin and Ms. Chie, if permitted by the Commissioner, will seek to recover the maximum civil penalty available as provided in the Labor Code, and where no civil penalty is provided, one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for the initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for each subsequent violation as provided in Labor Code Section 2699 subsection (2).

This letter is written pursuant to the requirements identified in Labor Code Section 2699.3(a)(1) and a certified copy of this letter is being sent concurrently to Reed Elsevier, Inc. Please notify this office within 30 calendar days of the date this letter is postmarked whether or not the Commissioner intends to investigate the violation indicated above.

Respectfully submitted,

Jason S. Lohr of
