UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
Northern District of California

PATRICK COLLINS, INC.,

No. C 11-2766 MEJ

Plaintiff,

ORDER DENYING WITHOUT PREJUDICE MOTION TO QUASH (IP ADDRESS 96.35.156.120)

v.

DOES 1-2,590,

Re: Docket No. 54

Defendants.

On June 7, 2011, Plaintiff Patrick Collins, Inc. filed this lawsuit against 2,590 Doe Defendants, alleging that Defendants illegally reproduced and distributed a work subject to Plaintiff's exclusive license, ("Real Female Orgasms 10"), using an internet peer-to-peer file sharing network known as BitTorrent, thereby violating the Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. § 101-1322. Compl. ¶¶ 6-15, Dkt. No. 1. On September 22, 2011, the Court granted Plaintiff's Application for Leave to Take Limited Expedited Discovery. Dkt. No. 12. The Court permitted Plaintiff to serve subpoenas on Does 1-2,590's Internet Service Providers ("ISPs") by serving a Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 subpoena that seeks information sufficient to identify the Doe Defendants, including the name, address, telephone number, and email address of Does 1-2,590. Id. at 11. Once the ISPs provided Does 1-2,590 with a copy of the subpoena, the Court permitted Does 1-2,590 30 days from the date of service to file any motions contesting the subpoena (including a motion to quash or modify the subpoena). Id.

Now before the Court is a Motion to Quash, filed by a Doe Defendant, identified by IP Address 96.35.156.120, requesting that he be allowed to contest the subpoena without revealing

1 his personal identifying information.¹ Dkt. No. 54. In his motion, the Doe Defendant argues
2 generally that joinder is improper in this case, that the Court lacks jurisdiction over him, and that
3 venue is improper. As to joinder, the Court considered this issue at length in its previous order and 4 found that Plaintiff presented a reasonable basis to argue that the Doe Defendants’ actions in this 5 case may fall within the definition of “same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or 6 occurrences” for purposes of joinder under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 20(a). Dkt. No. 12 at 6-7 11. As the present motion presents the same generalized arguments addressed in its previous order, 8 the Court finds it without merit.

9 As to jurisdiction and venue, the Court finds that a motion based on these grounds is also 10 premature. See, e.g., New Sensations, Inc. v. Does 1-1,745, 2011 WL 2837610, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Jul.
11 18, 2011); Call of the Wild Movie, LLC v. Smith, No. 10-0455, 2011 WL 1807416, at *9 (D.D.C.
12 May 12, 2011); Voltage Pictures, LLC v. Does 1–5,000, No. 10-0873, WL 1807438, at *8 (D.D.C.
13 May 12, 2011). Rule 12(b)(2) permits defendants to move to dismiss for lack of personal 14 jurisdiction. Although the Doe Defendant moves the Court to dismiss the action against him for lack 15 of personal jurisdiction, he is not yet a defendant. If and when Plaintiff names him as a defendant, 16 he will be able to raise this defense. Once Plaintiff amasses enough evidence and names the Does, it

18 ¹Under 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(A), a magistrate judge has jurisdiction to hear and decide
19 nondispositive matters without the consent of the parties. A motion to quash is normally considered 20 a non-dispositive matter, Arista Records, LLC v. Doe 3, 604 F.3d 110, 116 (2d Cir. 2010), and 21 therefore, the undersigned has jurisdiction to rule on the Defendant’s motion(s) to the extent they 22 seek to quash Plaintiff’s subpoena. In addition, a magistrate judge has jurisdiction to consider the 23 question of whether joinder of unserved defendants is proper, including whether unserved 24 defendants should be severed and dismissed from the action, because defendants who have not been 25 served are not considered “parties” under 28 U.S.C. § 636(c). Neals v. Norwood, 59 F.3d 530, 532
26 (5th Cir. 1995) (holding that magistrate judge had jurisdiction to dismiss prison inmate’s action
27 under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 as frivolous without consent of defendants because defendants had not been 28 served yet and therefore were not parties); see also United States v. Real Property, 135 F.3d 1212, 1217 (9th Cir. 1998) (holding that magistrate judge had jurisdiction to enter default judgment in an in rem forfeiture action even though property owner had not consented to it because 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(1) only requires the consent of the parties and the property owner, having failed to comply with the applicable filing requirements, was not a party). Here, Plaintiff has consented to magistrate jurisdiction and the Doe Defendants have not yet been served. Therefore, the Court finds that it has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 636(c) to decide the issues raised in the instant motion(s).

1 will then have the burden to present a prima facie case supporting personal jurisdiction over
2 defendants. See Harris Rutsky & Co. Ins. Servs., Inc. v. Bell & Clements Ltd., 328 F.3d 1122, 1129
3 (9th Cir. 2003). At that time, the Doe Defendant may present his affidavit asserting that he has 4 never engaged in business with Plaintiff and that his activities with the forum state do not meet the 5 requisite minimum contacts to establish personal jurisdiction. With evidence from both sides,
6 jurisdiction will be decided on a full record. At this time, however, without any named defendants,
7 the motion is not yet ripe. The motion is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE and may be brought 8 again once Plaintiff names the Doe Defendant as a defendant or when the Doe Defendant has 9 identified himself.

10 IT IS SO ORDERED.
