TRAVELERS CASUALTY INSURANCE,

No. C-13-00360 SC (DMR)

Plaintiffs,

ORDER ON JOINT DISCOVERY
LETTER [DOCKET NO. 87]

v.

AMERICAN HOME REALTY,

Defendants.

On October 9, 2013, Plaintiffs Travelers Casualty Insurance Company of America, et al. (“Travelers”) and Defendants American Home Realty Network, Inc. and Jonathan Cardella (“AHRN”) filed a joint discovery letter brief regarding their disputes involving documents produced in three underlying actions. Protective orders have been entered in all three of those cases. [Docket No. 87.] The court conducted a hearing on the matter on October 31, 2013. This order summarizes the rulings made by the court on the record during the hearing.

I. Categories 1 and 2

The first two categories of documents from the underlying actions at issue are 1) documents not marked confidential or attorneys’ eyes only, or marked as confidential/attorneys’ eyes only by AHRN; and 2) documents the underlying plaintiffs marked as confidential/attorneys’ eyes only. All documents in these two categories shall be produced to Travelers on a rolling basis, within seven days of their production in the underlying actions. AHRN is responsible for obtaining permission

1 from the underlying plaintiffs to view Category 2 documents. Travelers has already obtained
2 permission to view Category 2 documents.

3 II. Category 3

4 The third category involves documents produced by third parties and designated as
5 confidential/attorneys' eyes only. The parties shall meet and confer regarding the third party
6 subpoenas and which responsive documents are relevant to and therefore should be produced in this
7 action. The parties shall also decide upon a process by which such documents should be produced.
8 If the parties are unable to reach agreements regarding Category 3 documents, they shall submit a
9 joint letter in accordance with this court's Standing Order regarding discovery disputes.

10
11 IT IS SO ORDERED.
