If you are representing yourself in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, you may speak with a lawyer at the Legal Help Center.

There is no fee for this service.

The lawyer can:

- help you understand federal court processes and procedures;
- explain court orders and other paperwork;
- answer your legal questions; and
- provide referrals to legal, social, and government services.

Help is provided by appointment only. To make an appointment please call (415) 782-8982 or sign up in the appointment book located outside the Center's San Francisco and Oakland offices.

If you have difficulty speaking in English, please bring someone to translate for you. We cannot provide a translator.

If you seek help from the Center, you will still represent yourself. The lawyer at the Center cannot be your lawyer.
