TRANS UNION, LLC, et al.,
Defendants.

Case No. 14-cv-00522-LB

ORDER APPROVING CLASS-ACTION
SETTLEMENT AND AWARDED
FEES AND COSTS

Re: ECF Nos. 159 and 160

INTRODUCTION

This is a consumer suit under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 1681-1681x, and counterpart California law.<sup>1</sup> Named plaintiff Amit Patel alleges that the defendants (operating as a single “consumer reporting agency”) disseminated a consumer-information report that wrongly described him as a terrorist, and that ascribed to him a criminal record that he did not have.<sup>2</sup> For this alleged conduct, Mr. Patel brings a claim under § 1681e(b) of FCRA.<sup>3</sup> Mr. Patel

<sup>3</sup> “Whenever a consumer reporting agency prepares a consumer report it shall follow reasonable procedures to assure [sic] maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individual about whom the report relates.” § 1681e(b).

1 also alleges that, when he asked the defendants to provide him with the file that they maintained
2 on him, they failed to send him his complete file, in particular, a background check that flagged
3 him as a potential terrorist. This, Mr. Patel claims, violated § 1681g of FCRA.<sup>4</sup>

4 The court certified two national classes for the two class claims asserted under the FCRA: an 5 “accuracy” class for the § 1681e(b) claim, and a “disclosure” subclass for the § 1681g claim. See
6 Patel v. TransUnion, LLC, 308 F.R.D. 292, 310 (N.D. Cal. 2015). The two class claims are Counts
7 I and VI (misnumbered “Count V”) in the Amended Complaint. The court stayed the case until the 8 Supreme Court decided Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, 136 S. Ct. 1540 (2016), and it denied the 9 defendants’ subsequent motion to decertify the class.<sup>5</sup>

10 The parties then settled their case. The settlement covers Counts I and VI (misnumbered as 11 “Count V”) in the Amended Complaint.<sup>6</sup> The parties stipulated to the dismissal with prejudice of 12 Mr. Patel’s individual claims against the defendants: Counts II, III, IV, V (misnumbered as second 13 Count IV), and VII (misnumbered as count VI).<sup>7</sup> The court previously granted the plaintiff’s
14 motion for preliminary approval of the proposed class-action settlement.<sup>8</sup> The plaintiff then moved
15 for final approval of the settlement.<sup>9</sup> The court held a fairness hearing on March 8, 2018. The court
16 finds the settlement fair, adequate, and reasonable and approves the final settlement, including 17 fees, costs, and a service award to Mr. Patel.

1 STATEMENT

2 1. Other Information About the Lawsuit to Date

3 In June 2015, the court certified the following class and subclass:

4 All natural persons residing in the United States who, from February 2012 until
5 December 2013, were the subjects of Trans Union Rental Screening Solutions
SmartMove reports containing at least one item of “Alert List” information.

6 All natural persons residing in the United States who, from February 2012 until
7 December 2013, were the subjects of Trans Union Rental Screening Solutions
SmartMove reports containing at least one item of “Alert List” information who 8 requested a file disclosure from, and were sent a disclosure by, Trans Union,
LLC.<sup>10</sup>

9 After the court denied decertification in October 2016, the court approved notice — and notice
10 was given — to the class and subclass.<sup>11</sup> The defendants provided a list of names for 10,505 class
11 members and 2,193 subclass members.<sup>12</sup> RSM US LLP (“RSM”), a third-party claims
12 administrator, determined that there were 10,501 class members and provided notice via first-class
13 mail.<sup>13</sup> The United States Postal Service (“USPS”) returned 16 notices with a forwarding address,
14 and RSM mailed the notices to the updated addresses.<sup>14</sup> The USPS returned 2,027 notices without 15 forwarding addresses, and RSM obtained new addresses and re-mailed notices to 1,849
16 addresses.<sup>15</sup> The USPS returned 243 addresses as undeliverable.<sup>16</sup> RSM calculates that notice
17 reached 96% of the class.<sup>17</sup> Two class members requested exclusion.<sup>18</sup>

18 The parties engaged in substantial discovery, phased to address class issues first, and then —
19 after the court certified the classes — merits issues.<sup>19</sup> They conducted written discovery and

2 had two full-day JAMS mediation sessions, one in San Francisco in January 2015 and a second in
3 Philadelphia in May 2017.<sup>21</sup> The second resulted in a term sheet reflecting the parties’ agreement
4 to settle the litigation.<sup>22</sup> In June 2017, the parties notified the court about their agreement.<sup>23</sup> The 5 parties exchanged drafts and engaged in additional settlement negotiations, and ultimately, they 6 finalized the settlement agreement.<sup>24</sup> The court granted the plaintiff’s unopposed motion for 7 preliminary approval.<sup>25</sup>

9 2. Settlement Terms

10 The settlement agreement resolves the claims of the certified class and subclass. In summary 11 form, the settlement is as follows.

12 The defendants established a fund of $8 million, with $37,000 paid to the Settlement
13 Administrator after the court entered its preliminary approval order and the balance of $7,973,000
14 to be paid 30 days after the settlement agreement’s Effective Date following final approval.<sup>26</sup>
15 There are two settlement pools that the plaintiff represents are consistent with class discovery: (1)
16 the Automatic Payment Pool and (2) the Claims Made Pool.

Settlement Agreement.

1           2.1 Automatic Payment Pool

2           $4,202,000 is allocated to the Automatic Payment Pool. Class members automatically receive
3 a $400 check without submitting a claim.<sup>27</sup> The check must be cashed within 60 days or it is null
4 and void, and the funds then fall into the Claims Made Pool.<sup>28</sup>

5           2.2 Claims Made Pool

6           Class members can submit a claim to be paid a pro rata share of the Claims Made Pool.<sup>29</sup> After 7 costs of notice and administration, the parties estimate that the pool will be more than $1 million.<sup>30</sup>

8           2.3 Service Award, Attorney’s Fees and Costs, Administration Costs, and Cy Pres Award

9           The settlement provides for a service award to Mr. Patel of $10,000.<sup>31</sup> The defendants do not 10 object to the plaintiff’s motion for attorney’s fees and reimbursable expenses in an amount not to 11 exceed one-third of the settlement fund.<sup>32</sup>

12           There is no reversion to the defendants. If any funds remain following payment of checks, up 13 to $10,000 may be paid to the Settlement Administrator to defray reasonable Notice and 14 Administration Expenses that the settlement administrator actually incurs.<sup>33</sup> Remaining amounts
15 will be distributed to the cy pres recipients Consumer Federation of California, Credit Builders
16 Alliance, and the Jump$tart Coalition for Personal Financial Literacy.<sup>34</sup>

17           2.4 Release

18           The settlement has a release limited to claims that were asserted or could have been asserted
19 relating to the class claims only.<sup>35</sup> Mr. Patel has a general release.<sup>36</sup>

2.5 Administration

The settlement fund will fund all costs of notice and administration. After evaluating bids, RSM was chosen as the Settlement Administrator.<sup>37</sup> It handled the class-notice process after class certification. (See supra.) The notice procedures required it to mail and re-mail the settlement notice, send out the CAFA notice, set up a settlement website and toll-free number, receive and process claims forms, handle the payments to class members, and report to the parties and the court before the final approval hearing.<sup>38</sup>

RSM complied with these procedures, including setting up the website.<sup>39</sup> As of February 21, 2018, the website has received 168 email inquiries.<sup>40</sup> On November 22, 2017, RMS mailed the notice and claim forms (prepopulated with the name and address of the class member and with a unique identification number) to the 10,501 Settlement Class Members, first updating the list through the National Change of Address database.<sup>41</sup> 1,706 packets were returned undeliverable: (1) 1,695 had no forwarding address, but RMS identified 1,163 addresses through Accurint, a LexisNexis address-search service and re-mailed the notices; 129 notices were returned undeliverable with no forwarding address; and (2) 11 packets had forwarding addresses, and RMS re-mailed them.<sup>42</sup> RMS thus presumes that 9,851 notices were delivered, which is 93.81% of the class.<sup>43</sup>

One class member objected and subsequently withdrew the objection.<sup>44</sup> As of February 21, 2018, RMS has received and accepted 874 Claims Forms from individuals on the initial mailing

1 list; 872 were submitted on the prepopulated forms.<sup>45</sup> RMS has received an additional 3,314
2 Claims Forms that were the unpopulated Claims Forms available on the website. 122 were 3 submitted by persons whose names matched a name on the Class List but who provided a different
4 address. RMS mailed letters to the 122 persons to confirm their current and prior addresses to 5 match the information to the Class List.<sup>46</sup> As of March 9, 2018, the total approved claims
6 (considering verified additional claims) is 884. The claims include the two claims filed with the 7 court at ECF No. 147 and 158. The remaining 3,191 handwritten forms were submitted by persons
8 who are not on the Class List. RMS declares that it is a trend for non-class members to try to 9 receive a share of the settlement funds, and it identified several claimants who were non-class
10 members and filed claims in an unrelated settlement that it administered recently. It rejected the 11 3,191 claims as fraudulent. As a result, it has incurred additional fees of $30,000 above its original
12 estimate for costs of notice and claims administration.<sup>47</sup>

13 ANALYSIS

14 1. Jurisdiction

15 The court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2).
16

18 2. Certification of Class

19 The court previously certified the class and subclass set forth in the Statement under Rule 23.
20 Excluded from the class are the two individuals who submitted the requests for exclusion.

22 3. Approval of Settlement

23 Settlement is a strongly favored method for resolving disputes, particularly “where complex
24 class action litigation is concerned.” Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th
25

1 Cir. 1992); see, e.g., In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995). A court may
2 approve a proposed class-action settlement only “after a hearing and on finding that it is fair,
3 reasonable, and adequate.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2). The court need not ask whether the proposed 4 settlement is ideal or the best possible; it determines only whether the settlement is fair, free of 5 collusion, and consistent with the named plaintiffs’ fiduciary obligations to the class. Hanlon v.
6 Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1026–27 (9th Cir. 1998). In Hanlon, the Ninth Circuit identified
7 factors relevant to assessing a settlement proposal: (1) the strength of the plaintiff’s case; (2) the 8 risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; (3) the risk of maintaining 9 class-action status throughout trial; (4) the amount offered in settlement; (5) the extent of 10 discovery completed and the stage of the proceeding; (6) the experience and views of counsel; (7)
11 the presence of a government participant; and (8) the reaction of class members to the proposed 12 settlement. Id. at 1026 (citation omitted).

13 “Where a settlement is the product of arms-length negotiations conducted by capable and 14 experienced counsel, the court begins its analysis with a presumption that the settlement is fair and 15 reasonable.” Garner v. State Farm Mut. Auto Ins. Co., 2010 WL 1687832, *13 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 22,
16 2010); see, e.g., Rodriguez v. West Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009) (“We put a 17 good deal of stock in the product of an arms-length, non-collusive, negotiated resolution . . . .”);
18 Nat’l Rural Telecomm. Coop. v. DirecTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D. Cal. 2004).

19 The court has evaluated the proposed settlement agreement for overall fairness under the 20 Hanlon factors and concludes that approval is appropriate.

21 First, the settlement is the product of serious, non-collusive, arm’s-length negotiations and was 22 reached after mediation with experienced mediators and after extensive settlement discussions
23 involving sophisticated counsel for all parties.

24 Second, the parties engaged in substantial fact discovery regarding liability and damages.

25 Third, litigation poses risk. As the plaintiff’s counsel points out, establishing liability entails
26 risk.<sup>48</sup> Liability is not strict and depends on a finding of negligence or willful failure to comply. 15

27
28 <sup>48</sup> Mot. – ECF No. 145 at 21.

1 U.S.C. §§ 1681n and 1681o. Defendants contest liability. Even if the plaintiff establishes liability,
2 there are issues about whether the plaintiff and class members have sustained damages and how to
3 value any damages.<sup>49</sup> The risks are real and likely would be fought through trial and appeal.<sup>50</sup>
4 There are also the risks that attend the Supreme Court’s decision in Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, 136 S.
5 Ct. 1540 (2016).

6 Fourth, settlement provides real cash benefits to the class. Statutory damages are between $100
7 and $1,000. 15 U.S.C. § 1681n(a)(1)(A). Class members receive an automatic check of $400, and 8 they can submit a claim for a pro rata share of the Claims Made Pool. The benefits are substantial, 9 especially given that unless there is a finding of willful noncompliance, the plaintiff and class must 10 establish actual damages.<sup>51</sup>

11 Fifth, the settlement has no obvious deficiencies. There is no reversion. The cy pres
12 distribution accounts for and has a substantial nexus to the nature of the lawsuit, the objectives of 13 the statutes, and the interests of the silent class members. See Lane v. Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d
14 811, 819–22 (9th Cir. 2012); Nachshin v. AOL, LLC, 663 F.3d 1034, 1038–41 (9th Cir. 2011).

15 In sum, the court finds that viewed as a whole, the proposed settlement is sufficiently “fair, 16 adequate, and reasonable” such that approval of the settlement is warranted. See Officers for 17 Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of the City and Cnty. of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir.
18 1982).

20 4. Appointment of Class Representative, Class Counsel, and Claims Administrator

21 The court previously certified the class and subclass, appointed Mr. Patel as class
22 representative, and appointed his lawyers as class counsel. The court confirms its prior 23 appointment of RMS as the claims administrator.

5. Class Notice

As described above, the claims administrator provided notice to the members of the class in the form that the court had approved. The notice met all legal requisites: it was the best notice practicable, satisfied the notice requirements of Rule 23, adequately advised class members of their rights under the settlement agreement, met the requirements of due process, and complied with the court’s order regarding notice.<sup>52</sup>

6. Compliance with Class Action Fairness Act

The defendants prepared and mailed (on September 25, 2017) the notice that must be served under the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, 28 U.S.C. § 1715, to the appropriate federal and state officials; the defendants filed the proof of notice on October 2, 2017.<sup>53</sup> The final settlement approval is more than 90 days after service as required by 28 U.S.C. § 1715.

7. Cy Pres Award

Any remaining amount of the net settlement fund will be split equally between the cy pres beneficiaries identified in the settlement agreement: Consumer Federation of California, Credit Builders Alliance, and the Jump$Start Coalition for Personal Financial Literacy. As discussed above, this distribution accounts for and has a substantial nexus to the nature of the lawsuit, the objectives of the statutes, and the interests of the silent class members. See Lane v. Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d 811, 819–22 (9th Cir. 2012); Nachshin v. AOL, LLC, 663 F.3d 1034, 1038–41 (9th Cir. 2011).

8. Attorney’s Fees and Costs

Class counsel asks for $2,666,666.66, or one-third of the settlement fund, for attorney’s fees

1 and expenses.<sup>54</sup>

2 Rule 23(h) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides: “In a certified class action, the 3 court may award reasonable attorney’s fees and nontaxable costs that are authorized by law or by 4 the parties’ agreement.” Fee provisions included in proposed class-action settlements must be 5 reasonable. See In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 941 (9th Cir. 2011). The 6 court is not bound by the parties’ settlement agreement as to the amount of attorney’s fees. See id.
7 at 942–43. The Ninth Circuit has instructed district courts to review class fee awards with special
8 rigor:

9 Because in common fund cases the relationship between plaintiffs and their attorneys
10 turns adversarial at the fee-setting stage, courts have stressed that when awarding 11 attorneys’ fees from a common fund, the district court must assume the role of fiduciary for 12 the class plaintiffs. Accordingly, fee applications must be closely scrutinized. Rubberstamp approval, even in the absence of objections, is improper.

13 Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1052 (9th Cir. 2002) (quotation omitted).

14 When counsel recovers a common fund that confers a “substantial benefit” on a class of 15 beneficiaries, counsel is “entitled to recover their attorney’s fees from the fund.” Fischel v.
16 Equitable Life Assurance Soc’y of the U.S., 307 F.3d 997, 1006 (9th Cir. 2002). In common-fund
17 cases, courts may calculate a fee award under either the “lodestar” or “percentage of the fund”
18 method. Id.; Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029.

19 Where the settlement involves a common fund, courts typically award attorney’s fees based on 20 a percentage of the total settlement. The Ninth Circuit has established a “benchmark” that fees
21 should equal 25% of the settlement, although courts diverge from the benchmark based on a 22 variety of factors, including “the results obtained, risk undertaken by counsel, complexity of the 23 issues, length of the professional relationship, the market rate, and awards in similar cases.”

28 <sup>54</sup> Mot. for Fees and Costs – ECF No. 161-1 at 6..

1 Cir. 1990); Six Mexican Workers v. Arizona Citrus Growers, 904 F.2d 1301, 1311 (9th Cir. 1990).

2 When determining the value of a settlement, courts consider the monetary and non-monetary
3 benefits that the settlement confers. See, e.g., Staton, 327 F.3d at 972–74; Pokorny v. Quixtar, Inc.,
4 No. C-07-0201-SC, 2013 WL 3790896, *1 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 2013) (“The court may properly
5 consider the value of injunctive relief obtained as a result of settlement in determining the 6 appropriate fee.”); In re Netflix Privacy Litig., No. 5:11-CV-0379-EJD, 2013 WL 1120801, *7
7 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2013) (settlement value “includes the size of the cash distribution, the cy pres
8 method of distribution, and the injunctive relief”).

9 Finally, Ninth Circuit precedent requires courts to award class counsel fees based on the total
10 benefits being made available to class members rather than the actual amount that is ultimately 11 claimed. Young v. Polo Retail, LLC, No. C-02-4547-VRW, 2007 WL 951821, *5–*6 (N.D. Cal.
12 Mar. 28, 2007) (citing Williams v. MGM-Pathe Commc’ns Co., 129 F.3d 1026 (9th Cir. 1997)
13 (“district court abused its discretion in basing attorney fee award on actual distribution to class” 14 instead of amount being made available) (quoted language from Young)).

15 If the court applies the percentage method, it then typically roughly calculates the lodestar as a 16 “cross-check to assess the reasonableness of the percentage award.” See, e.g., Weeks v. Kellogg
17 Co., No. CV-09-8102-MMM-RZx, 2013 WL 6531177, *25 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 23, 2013); see also 18 Serrano v. Priest, 20 Cal. 3d 25, 48–49 (1977); Fed-Mart Corp. v. Pell Enters., 111 Cal. App. 3d
19 215, 226–27 (1980); Melnyk v. Robledo, 64 Cal. App. 3d 618, 624 (1976); Clejan v. Reisman, 5
20 Cal. App. 3d 224, 241 (1970). “The lodestar . . . is produced by multiplying the number of hours
21 reasonably expended by counsel by a reasonable hourly rate.” Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc., 82
22 Cal. App. 4th 19, 26 (2000). Once the court has fixed the lodestar, it may increase or decrease that 23 amount by applying a positive or negative “multiplier to take into account a variety of other 24 factors, including the quality of the representation, the novelty and complexity of the issues, the 25 results obtained, and the contingent risk presented.” Id.

26 Class counsel also are entitled to reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Fed. R.
27 Civ. P. 23(h); see Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994) (attorneys may recover 28 reasonable expenses that would typically be billed to paying clients in non-contingency matters);

1 Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. 1995) (approving reasonable
2 costs in class action settlement). Costs compensable under Rule 23(h) include “nontaxable costs
3 that are authorized by law or by the parties’ agreement.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h).

4 Based on the declarations submitted by the plaintiff’s counsel establishing a lodestar amount
5 $1,273,572.45 with an additional $90,935.56 in litigation expenses,<sup>55</sup> the court finds that that 6 requested fee award is appropriate and is supported by a lodestar cross-check. The billing rates are 7 within normal and customary ranges for timekeepers with similar qualifications and experience in 8 the San Francisco market. The rates counsel used are appropriate given the deferred and 9 contingent nature of counsel’s compensation. See LeBlanc-Sternberg v. Fletcher, 143 F.3d 748, 10 764 (2nd Cir. 1998) (“[C]urrent rates, rather than historical rates, should be applied in order to 11 compensate for the delay in payment . . . .”) (citing Missouri v. Jenkins, 491 U.S. 274, 283–84 12 (1989)); In re Wash. Pub. Power Supply Sys. Secs. Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1305 (9th Cir. 1994) (“The 13 district court has discretion to compensate delay in payment in one of two ways: (1) by applying 14 the attorneys’ current rates to all hours billed during the course of litigation; or (2) by using the 15 attorneys’ historical rates and adding a prime rate enhancement.”). Counsel also submitted a 16 sufficient breakdown of the attorneys’ billing efforts for the court to reach its conclusion about the 17 lodestar.

18 The court concludes that a fee award at the requested amount is justified. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d
19 at 1029. It is appropriate based on counsel’s efforts and the substantial benefits to the class. It is 20 similar to awards in other cases.<sup>56</sup> It is supported by the lodestar cross-check, the efficiency of the 21 litigation, the quality of the representation, and the contingent risk.

22 The court also increases the amount that can be paid to RMS for its actual administration costs 23 by $30,000.

<sup>56</sup> Mot. – ECF No. 160-1 at 8–10 (collecting cases).

1           1. As allowed by Section 8(b)(ii) of the Settlement Agreement (providing that, with the 2 Parties' agreement, the Settlement Administrator may allow untimely Claim Forms), the
3 Settlement Administrator may allow Damages Claims submitted by any of the 122 individuals
4 identified in Paragraph 11b of the RSM Declaration<sup>59</sup> (and described above) who resubmit valid
5 Claim Forms;

6           2. This court dismisses the action on the merits with prejudice and without an award of costs
7 or fees to any party (except as provided in this order).

8           3. Pursuant to the releases contained in Section 11 of the Agreement, the claims of the Class
9 Representative and the Class Members are compromised, settled, released, discharged, and 10 dismissed with prejudice by virtue of these proceedings and this Final Approval Order. The 11 Plaintiff, Class Members, and their successors and assigns are permanently barred and enjoined 12 from instituting or prosecuting, either individually or as a class, or in any other capacity, any of 13 the released claims against any of the Released Parties, as set forth in the Agreement.

14           4. Without affecting the finality of this judgment, the court hereby reserves and retains 15 jurisdiction over the interpretation, implementation, and performance of the Settlement and this 16 Final Approval Order.

17           5. All Class Members are bound by all of the terms, conditions and obligations of the 18 Agreement, and all determinations and judgments in the Litigation concerning the Settlement.
19 Neither the Settlement, nor any of its terms or provisions, nor any of the negotiations or 20 proceedings connected with it, may be construed as an admission or concession by any party of 21 the truth of any allegation in the Litigation or of any liability, fault or wrongdoing of any kind.

22           6. The court hereby enters final Judgment in this action, consistent with the terms of the 23 Agreement, which is a final judgment under Rule 54(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
24 The court finds that no reason exists for delay in ordering final judgment pursuant to Federal Rule
25 of Civil Procedure 54(b) and thus directs the Clerk of Court to enter the judgment forthwith. The 26 court also directs the Clerk to close the file.
