UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ADRIAN MOON,

No. C 14-1638 SI (pr)

Plaintiff,

ORDER DENYING ADDITIONAL POST-JUDGMENT MOTIONS

v.

EDMUND G. BROWN, JR.; et al.,

Defendants.

This case was dismissed and judgment entered on September 9, 2014. The court denied plaintiff's later-filed motions to vacate the judgment and file an amended complaint. Plaintiff has filed two more post-judgment requests.

Plaintiff filed a second "ex parte application for notice and rulings on submitted matters." Docket # 30. The application is DENIED because there is no motion or other matter that has been under submission in this case for more than 120 days. See N.D. Cal. Local Rule 7-13.

Plaintiff filed an "ex parte application for motion to the executive committee to re-open case and re-assignment" to Judge Henderson. Docket # 31. The application is DENIED because there is no reason to re-open the case, and there is no reason to reassign a closed case. See Docket # 29 at 1 (rejecting earlier effort described as one in a series of efforts by plaintiff that were "trying to steer his case to Judge Henderson, who had declined to relate this case to the Plata prison conditions class action").

Plaintiff may not file any more motions, applications or requests in this closed case. If he wants to take an appeal, he should file a notice of appeal and then pursue his arguments in the Ninth Circuit.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
