UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

THEODORE SHOVE,
Plaintiff,

v.

MCDONALD, et al.,
Defendants.

Case No. 14-cv-02903-JD

ORDER OF SERVICE

Re: Dkt. Nos. 5, 10, 11

Plaintiff, a state prisoner, has filed a pro se civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. He has been granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis.

DISCUSSION

I. STANDARD OF REVIEW

Federal courts must engage in a preliminary screening of cases in which prisoners seek redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). In its review, the Court must identify any cognizable claims, and dismiss any claims which are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or seek monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. Id. at 1915A(b)(1),(2). Pro se pleadings must be liberally construed. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990).

1 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(2) requires only “a short and plain statement of the
2 claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Although a complaint “does not need detailed
3 factual allegations, . . . a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the ‘grounds’ of his ‘entitle[ment] to
4 relief’ requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a
5 cause of action will not do. . . . Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above
6 the speculative level.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007) (citations
7 omitted). A complaint must proffer “enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its
8 face.” Id. at 570. The United States Supreme Court has explained the “plausible on its face”
9 standard of Twombly: “While legal conclusions can provide the framework of a complaint, they
10 must be supported by factual allegations. When there are well-pleaded factual allegations, a court
11 should assume their veracity and then determine whether they plausibly give rise to an entitlement
12 to relief.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 679 (2009).

14 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege that: (1) a right secured by 15 the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) the alleged deprivation was 16 committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

17 II. LEGAL CLAIMS

18
19 Plaintiff alleges that defendants were deliberately indifferent to his serious medical needs.
20 Deliberate indifference to serious medical needs violates the Eighth Amendment’s proscription
21 against cruel and unusual punishment. Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104 (1976); McGuckin v.
22 Smith, 974 F.2d 1050, 1059 (9th Cir. 1992), overruled on other grounds, WMX Technologies, Inc.
23 v. Miller, 104 F.3d 1133, 1136 (9th Cir. 1997) (en banc). A determination of “deliberate 24 indifference” involves an examination of two elements: the seriousness of the prisoner’s medical 25 need and the nature of the defendant’s response to that need. Id. at 1059.

26
27 A serious medical need exists if the failure to treat a prisoner’s condition could result in 28 further significant injury or the “unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain.” Id. The existence of

1 an injury that a reasonable doctor or patient would find important and worthy of comment or
2 treatment, the presence of a medical condition that significantly affects an individual's daily
3 activities, or the existence of chronic and substantial pain are examples of indications that a
4 prisoner has a serious need for medical treatment. Id. at 1059-60.

5 A prison official is deliberately indifferent if he or she knows that a prisoner faces a
6 substantial risk of serious harm and disregards that risk by failing to take reasonable steps to abate
7 it. Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 837 (1994). The prison official must not only "be aware of 8 facts from which the inference could be drawn that a substantial risk of serious harm exists," but
9 also "must also draw the inference." Id. If a prison official should have been aware of the risk,
10 but did not actually know, the official has not violated the Eighth Amendment, no matter how
11 severe the risk. Gibson v. County of Washoe, 290 F.3d 1175, 1188 (9th Cir. 2002). "A difference
12 of opinion between a prisoner-patient and prison medical authorities regarding treatment does not 13 give rise to a § 1983 claim." Franklin v. Oregon, 662 F.2d 1337, 1344 (9th Cir. 1981). In 14 addition "mere delay of surgery, without more, is insufficient to state a claim of deliberate medical 15 indifference.... [Prisoner] would have no claim for deliberate medical indifference unless the 16 denial was harmful." Shapely v. Nevada Bd. Of State Prison Comm'rs, 766 F.2d 404, 407 (9th 17 Cir. 1985).

20 Plaintiff states that his hand was completely severed and then surgically repaired prior to 21 being placed in his current prison. As a result, plaintiff was provided either large wrist handcuffs
22 or waist chains. At a certain point only normal size wrist handcuffs were used, despite plaintiff's
23 objections, and he suffered pain and cuts on his wrists. Plaintiff also states that as a result of the 24 normal handcuffs, he slipped and fell down the stairs. Liberally construed, this claim is sufficient
25 to require a response.¹
26

27
28

¹ As plaintiff has failed to link Warden Chappell to the alleged violations, he will be dismissed

1 Plaintiff has also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order. "A preliminary
2 injunction is 'an extraordinary and drastic remedy, one that should not be granted unless the
3 movant, by a clear showing, carries the burden of persuasion.'" Lopez v. Brewer, et al., 680 F.3d
4 1068, 1072 (9th Cir. 2012) (citation omitted) (emphasis in original). The standard for issuing a
5 TRO is similar to that required for a preliminary injunction. See Los Angeles Unified Sch. Dist. v.
6 United States Dist. Court, 650 F.2d 1004, 1008 (9th Cir. 1981) (Ferguson, J., dissenting). "A
7 plaintiff seeking a preliminary injunction must establish that he is likely to succeed on the merits,
8 that he is likely to suffer irreparable harm in the absence of preliminary relief, that the balance of 9 equities tips in his favor, and that an injunction is in the public interest." Winter v. Natural
10 Resources Defense Council, Inc., 555 U.S. 7, 20 (2008). Plaintiff has failed to meet this high
11 burden based on his allegations that the handcuffs have injured his wrists and caused cuts.

12 CONCLUSION

- 13 1. Plaintiff's motion for a temporary restraining order (Docket No. 5) is DENIED.
- 14 2. Plaintiff's motions to appear by telephone (Docket Nos. 10, 11) are DENIED.
- 15 3. The clerk shall issue a summons and the United States Marshal shall serve, without 16 prepayment of fees, copies of the complaint with attachments and copies of this order on the 17 following defendants: Captain McDonald, Lt. Arnold, and Dr. Grant at San Quentin State Prison.
18 Warden Chappell is dismissed from this action.
- 19 4. In order to expedite the resolution of this case, the court orders as follows:
 - 20 a. No later than sixty days from the date of service, defendant shall file a 21 motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion. The motion shall be supported by 22 adequate factual documentation and shall conform in all respects to Federal Rule of Civil 23 Procedure 56, and shall include as exhibits all records and incident reports stemming from the
25
26
27
28 from this action.

1 events at issue. If defendant is of the opinion that this case cannot be resolved by summary
2 judgment, he shall so inform the court prior to the date his summary judgment motion is due. All
3 papers filed with the court shall be promptly served on the plaintiff.

4 b. At the time the dispositive motion is served, defendant shall also serve, on a
5 separate paper, the appropriate notice or notices required by Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 953-
6 954 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc), and Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120 n. 4 (9th Cir. 2003).
7 See Woods v. Carey, 684 F.3d 934, 940-941 (9th Cir. 2012) (Rand and Wyatt notices must be
8 given at the time motion for summary judgment or motion to dismiss for nonexhaustion is filed,
9 not earlier); Rand at 960 (separate paper requirement).

10 c. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion, if any, shall be filed with 11 the court and served upon defendant no later than thirty days from the date the motion was served
12 upon him. Plaintiff must read the attached page headed "NOTICE -- WARNING," which is 13 provided to him pursuant to Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 953-954 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc),
14 and Klinge v. Eikenberry, 849 F.2d 409, 411-12 (9th Cir. 1988).

15 If defendant files a motion for summary judgment claiming that plaintiff failed to exhaust
16 his available administrative remedies as required by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a), plaintiff should take
17 note of the attached page headed "NOTICE -- WARNING (EXHAUSTION)," which is provided
18 to him as required by Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120 n. 4 (9th Cir. 2003).

19 d. If defendant wishes to file a reply brief, he shall do so no later than fifteen
20 days after the opposition is served upon him.

21 e. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due.
22 No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date.

23 5. All communications by plaintiff with the court must be served on defendant, or 24 defendant's counsel once counsel has been designated, by mailing a true copy of the document to 25 defendants or defendants' counsel.

6. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. No further court order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(a)(2) is required before the parties may conduct discovery.

7. It is plaintiff’s responsibility to prosecute this case. Plaintiff must keep the court informed of any change of address by filing a separate paper with the clerk headed “Notice of Change of Address.” He also must comply with the court’s orders in a timely fashion. Failure to do so may result in the dismissal of this action for failure to prosecute pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b).

IT IS SO ORDERED.

NOTICE -- WARNING (SUMMARY JUDGMENT)

If defendants move for summary judgment, they are seeking to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.

Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact-- that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendant's declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.

NOTICE -- WARNING (EXHAUSTION)

If defendants file a motion for summary judgment for failure to exhaust, they are seeking to have your case dismissed. If the motion is granted it will end your case.

You have the right to present any evidence you may have which tends to show that you did exhaust your administrative remedies. Such evidence may be in the form of declarations (statements signed under penalty of perjury) or authenticated documents, that is, documents accompanied by a declaration showing where they came from and why they are authentic, or other sworn papers, such as answers to interrogatories or depositions.

If defendants file a motion for summary judgment for failure to exhaust and it is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.
