POSSON, D.O.; CHIEF PHYSICIAN D.
BRIGHT, D.O.; CALIFORNIA

Defendants.

Case No. 16-cv-02876-JSC

ORDER OF SERVICE

INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff, a California prisoner, filed this pro se civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against medical personnel at the California Training Facility (“CTF”) and the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and the California Correctional Health Services.¹ Plaintiff’s complaint was dismissed with leave to amend, and Plaintiff filed a timely amended complaint. Because the First Amended Complaint (“FAC”), when liberally construed, cures the deficiencies in the claims against the individual defendants, it is ordered served upon them. The claims against the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and the California Correctional Health Services are dismissed because Plaintiff has failed to state a claim against them upon which relief can be granted.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Federal courts must engage in a preliminary screening of cases in which prisoners seek redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). The Court must identify cognizable claims or dismiss the complaint, or any portion of the complaint, if the complaint “is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted,” or “seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief.” Id. § 1915A(b). Pro se pleadings must be liberally construed. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep’t, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990).

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(2) requires only “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” “Specific facts are not necessary; the statement need only give the defendant fair notice of what the . . . claim is and the grounds upon which it rests.” Erickson v. Pardus, 127 S. Ct. 2197, 2200 (2007) (citations omitted). Although to state a claim a complaint “does not need detailed factual allegations, . . . a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the grounds of his entitle[ment] to relief requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do. . . . Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 127 S. Ct. 1955, 1964-65 (2007) (citations omitted). A complaint must proffer “enough facts to state a claim for relief that is plausible on its face.” Id. at 1974.

To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two elements: (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

LEGAL CLAIMS

Plaintiff alleges that he suffers from Hepatitis C and hearing loss for which the individual defendants provided inadequate treatment, including misdiagnosis, delays and the wrong medication. When liberally construed, his allegations are sufficient to state a cognizable claim that the individual defendants were deliberately indifferent to his serious medical needs in violation of his Eighth Amendment right to be free from cruel and unusual punishment.

1 Plaintiff also names the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation
2 (“CDCR”) and the California Correctional Health Services (“CCHS”) as defendants, but he makes
3 no allegations against them. In the order dismissing the complaint with leave to amend, the Court
4 informed Plaintiff, “To state a claim upon which relief may be granted, Plaintiff must allege in a
5 coherent and understandable manner the actions and omissions of each Defendant --- with 6 approximate dates --- that amounted to deliberate indifference to his Hepatitis C and cirrhosis.”
7 (ECF No. 9). Plaintiff has failed to cure this deficiency in his claims against the CDCR and the 8 CCHS, which he was warned would result in the dismissal of his claims. Nor are these
9 Defendants liable simply as employers of the prison officials who allegedly violated Plaintiff’s
10 rights. See Taylor v. List, 880 F.2d 1040, 1045 (9th Cir. 1989) (under no circumstances is there 11 respondeat superior liability under Section 1983). Accordingly, the claims against the CDCR and 12 the CCHS must be dismissed.

13 CONCLUSION

14 1. The claims against the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and 15 the California Correctional Health Services are DISMISSED.

16 2. The Clerk shall issue a summons and Magistrate Judge jurisdiction consent form
17 and the United States Marshal shall serve, without prepayment of fees, the summons, Magistrate
18 Judge jurisdiction consent form, a copy of the FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT (ECF No. 14)
19 with attachments, and a copy of this order on Defendants Dr. Zahed Ahmed; Dr. W. Tarrar; Dr.
20 G. Kalisher; Dr. M. Bhatti; Chief Medical Officer S. Posson, D.O.; and Chief Physician D.
21 Bright, D.O. at the California Training Facility.

22 The Clerk shall also mail a courtesy copy of the Magistrate Judge jurisdiction consent
23 form, the complaint with all attachments and a copy of this order to the California Attorney
24 General’s Office.

25 3. Defendants shall complete and file the Magistrate Judge jurisdiction consent form 26 within the deadline provided on the form. They shall also file an answer in accordance with the 27 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

4. To expedite the resolution of this case:

a. No later than 91 days from the date this order is issued, Defendants shall file a motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion. The motion shall be supported by adequate factual documentation and shall conform in all respects to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 56, and shall include as exhibits all records and incident reports stemming from the events at issue. If Defendants are of the opinion that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment, they shall so inform the Court prior to the date the summary judgment motion is due. All papers filed with the Court shall be promptly served on Plaintiff.

b. At the time the dispositive motion is served, Defendants shall also serve, on a separate paper, the appropriate notice required by Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 953-954 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc). See Woods v. Carey, 684 F.3d 934, 940-941 (9th Cir. 2012).

c. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion, if any, shall be filed with the Court and served upon Defendants no later than 28 days from the date the motion is filed. Plaintiff must read the attached page headed "NOTICE -- WARNING," which is provided to him pursuant to Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 953-954 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc).

d. Defendants shall file a reply brief no later than 14 days after the opposition is filed.

e. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due. No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date.

5. All communications by Plaintiff with the Court must be served on Defendants or their counsel once counsel has been designated, by mailing a true copy of the document to Defendants or their counsel.

6. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. No further Court order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(a)(2) is required before the parties may conduct discovery.

7. It is Plaintiff's responsibility to prosecute this case. Plaintiff must keep the Court informed of any change of address by filing a separate paper with the clerk headed "Notice of Change of Address." He also must comply with the Court's orders in a timely fashion. Failure to

NOTICE -- WARNING (SUMMARY JUDGMENT)

If Defendants move for summary judgment, they are seeking to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.

Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact-- that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in Defendant's declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.
