NATURE OF PROCEEDINGS

The matter comes on calendar regularly this date for a Motion - Pro Hac Vice-John W. Houghtaling, II and Motion - Pro Hac Vice - Jennifer Perez.

HEARING

Tentative ruling was posted and there was no request for oral argument.

The Court orders the following tentative ruling shall be adopted and incorporated into the minutes of the Court, making it the order of the Court:

[1] APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION PRO HAC VICE OF JOHN W. HOUGHTALING, II

RULING: The application is GRANTED. Notice of the present hearing was served on the State Bar, by mail, 16 court days, plus one additional day in advance of the hearing. While this notice does not technically comply with section 1005 of the Code of Civil Procedure (requiring 16 court days plus five days) the Court finds the purpose of the requirement of serving the California State Bar with notice has been satisfied, and as a result finds the deficient notice period immaterial.

[2] APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION PRO HAC VICE OF JENNIFER PEREZ

RULING: The application is GRANTED. Notice of the present hearing was served on the State Bar, by mail, 16 court days, plus one additional day in advance of the hearing. While this notice does not technically comply with section 1005 of the Code of Civil Procedure (requiring 16 court days plus five days) the Court finds the purpose of the requirement of serving the California State Bar with notice has been satisfied, and as a result finds the deficient notice period immaterial.
