No. 09-00648 CW

AMENDED ORDER FOR SERVICE OF SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT AND GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S REQUEST FOR REFERRAL TO PRO SE PRISONER EARLY SETTLEMENT PROGRAM (DOC # 5)

On February 13, 2009, pro se Plaintiff Bernard Lee Hamilton, a state prisoner incarcerated at San Quentin State Prison (SQSP), filed a civil rights complaint against numerous defendants who are employed at SQSP. On March 6, 2009, Plaintiff paid the $350.00 filing fee. On March 13, 2009, Plaintiff filed an amended On March 25, 2009, Plaintiff filed a request to refer his case to the Pro Se Prisoner Early Settlement Program. November 19, 2009, the Court issued an Order dismissing the complaint with leave to amend because the Court could not "glean from the numerous paragraphs in Plaintiff's amended complaint what his claims are and what relief he seeks."

On December 11, 2009, Plaintiff filed a Second Amended Complaint (SAC). In the SAC, he has followed the Court's order that he "file a simple, concise and direct complaint which states clearly and succinctly each claim he seeks to bring in federal court."

I. Review Under 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a)

A federal court must conduct a preliminary screening in any case in which a prisoner seeks redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. § 1915A(a). In its review, the court must identify cognizable claims and dismiss any claims that are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted or seek monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. § 1915A(b)(1),(2). Pro se pleadings must, however, be liberally Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 construed. (9th Cir. 1988). To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements: (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

According to the allegations in the SAC, Plaintiff is mobility impaired and disabled as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C.§ 12101 et seq. (ADA) and Defendants are aware of this. Nevertheless, on a number of occasions, Defendant G. Thomson insisted Plaintiff was not disabled and required him to stand at "count time," which Plaintiff was unable to do because of his disability. Defendant Thomson issued a number of rules violation reports against Plaintiff for his failure to stand at "count time."

Plaintiff appealed Thomson's disciplinary reports. As a result of that appeal, Defendants C.J. Henson and Robert Ayers filed a false, defamatory report against Plaintiff indicating that he did not stand at "count time" because Defendant Thomson is a woman and Plaintiff has a lack of regard for female authority figures.

Plaintiff is medically required to be on oxygen support twenty-four hours a day. It is medically necessary that his oximetry be monitored by computer. Plaintiff filed a previous case, Hamilton v. Adamik, No. C 06-6268 CW, regarding Defendants' failure to provide him with a computer. A settlement conference was held, with Magistrate Judge Nandor Vadas presiding. parties reached an agreement whereby Defendant Tootell, Chief Medical Officer of SQSP, agreed to issue Plaintiff a permanent medical chrono allowing him to have a laptop computer. exchange, Plaintiff agreed to dismiss the lawsuit with prejudice. However, Defendants never provided the laptop to Plaintiff. 2007, Plaintiff filed an appeal again requesting that Defendants provide him with a laptop computer to use with his medical monitoring equipment. Various Defendants denied the appeal, although they were aware that Plaintiff needed the laptop computer for his serious medical needs and that the settlement agreement of case number C 06-6268 CW required them to provide him with a computer. Magistrate Judge Vadas conducted a second settlement conference between Plaintiff, Defendant Tootell and Defendant's Defendant Tootell again admitted that the laptop was counsel. medically necessary and agreed to issue Plaintiff a permanent medical chrono for the laptop computer, which she did.

Plaintiff never received the laptop computer and, on December 5, 2008, Defendant Tootell rescinded the chrono for it. On January 19, 2009, Plaintiff appealed that decision. As a result of Defendant Tootell's actions, Plaintiff suffered further medical complications and, on September 29, 2009, he nearly died from these complications.

On July 15, 2009, Plaintiff refused to leave his cell when requested because he did not have his medically necessary oxygen support. Defendant Chan issued a rules violation report based on Plaintiff's refusal to comply with orders to leave his cell. Defendant Trujillo reprimanded Plaintiff for not complying with orders to leave his cell and stated that Plaintiff is not so sick as to require oxygen support.

Based on these allegations, Plaintiff states the following cognizable claims: (1) violations of the ADA; (2) retaliation under the ADA; (3) violation of the First Amendment based on retaliation for filing appeals of disciplinary reports; (4) violation of the Eighth Amendment for deliberate indifference to his serious medical needs; and (5) breach of contract based on the agreement settling case number C 06-6268 CW.

Plaintiff fails to state a claim for violation of his rights under the Fourteenth Amendment because he has not stated that he is a member of a protected class or that any Defendant discriminated against him based upon his membership in a protected class and he has not stated how any Defendant violated his right to due process Plaintiff also fails to state a claim for defamation. of law. Paul v. Davis, 424 U.S. 693, 701-710 (1976) (damage to reputation is not actionable under § 1983 unless it is accompanied by "some more tangible interests."); Franklin v. Oregon, 662 F.2d 1337, 1344 (9th Cir. 1981) (no federal subject matter jurisdiction over claim of slander by state actor because no violation of federal right). To state a claim for defamation under § 1983, a plaintiff must allege loss of a recognizable property or liberty interest in conjunction with the allegation of injury to reputation. Cooper v. Dupnik, 924 F.2d 1520, 1532 (9th Cir. 1991). Plaintiff has failed to state facts alleging that he lost a recognizable property or liberty interest as a result of Defendants' defamatory statements.

Defamation is also a state tort claim. The Court may adjudicate state tort claims only through supplemental jurisdiction, which is discretionary, and should only be used to promote judicial economy or convenience. 28 U.S.C. § 1367; United Mine Workers of America v. Gibbs, 383 U.S. 715, 726 (1966). The Court declines to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiff's state law defamation claim because it does not appear to be related to his federal claims.

II. Pro Se Prisoner Settlement Program

The Northern District of California has established a Pro Se Prisoner Settlement Program. Certain prisoner civil rights cases may be referred to a neutral magistrate judge for settlement proceedings. Good cause appearing, Plaintiff's request for a referral of this action to the Pro Se Prisoner Settlement Project (Docket # 5) is granted, and the present case will be REFERRED to Magistrate Judge Nandor Vadas for settlement proceedings pursuant to the Pro Se Prisoner Settlement Program. The proceedings will consist of one or more conferences as determined by Magistrate Judge Vadas. The conferences shall be conducted at SQSP with Plaintiff and Defendants or representatives for Defendants.

The proceedings shall take place within ninety (90) days after the date of this Order; or as soon thereafter as is convenient to Magistrate Judge Vadas' calendar. Magistrate Judge Vadas shall coordinate a time and date for a settlement proceeding with all interested parties and/or their representatives and, within ten (10) days after the conclusion of the settlement proceedings, file with the Court a report regarding the settlement proceedings.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Court orders as follows:

- 1. Plaintiff has stated cognizable claims for:
- (1) violations of the ADA; (2) retaliation under the ADA;
- (3) violation of the First Amendment based on retaliation for filing appeals of disciplinary reports; (4) violation of the Eighth Amendment for deliberate indifference to his serious medical needs; and (5) breach of contract based on the agreement settling case number C 06-6268 CW.

If service is waived, this action will proceed as if Defendants had been served on the date that the waiver is filed, except that pursuant to Rule 12(a)(1)(B), Defendants will not be required to serve and file an answer before sixty (60) days from the date on which the request for waiver was sent. filed. The Ninth Circuit has held that the following notice should be given to pro se plaintiffs facing a summary judgment motion:

The defendants have made a motion for summary judgment by which they seek to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.

Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact -- that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendant's declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against If summary judgment is granted [in favor of the defendants], your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.

Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 962-63 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc).

Plaintiff is advised to read Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317 (1986) (party opposing summary judgment must come forward with evidence showing triable issues of material fact on every essential element of his claim). Plaintiff is cautioned that because he bears the burden of proving his allegations in this case, he must be prepared to produce evidence in support of those allegations when he files his opposition to Defendants' dispositive motion. Such evidence may include sworn declarations from himself and other witnesses to the incident, and copies of documents authenticated by sworn declaration. Plaintiff will not be able to avoid summary judgment simply by repeating the allegations of his complaint.

- If Defendants wish to file a reply brief, they shall do so no later than thirty (30) days after the date Plaintiff's opposition is filed.
- The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due. No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date.
- Discovery may be taken in this action in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Leave of the Court pursuant to Rule 30(a)(2) is hereby granted to Defendants to depose Plaintiff and any other necessary witnesses confined in prison.
