ZORAIDA PENA CANAL,

 Plaintiff,

 v.

MABELLE DE LA ROSA DANN, TERESA
VITTET DE LA ROSA, and DOES 1 to 10,

 Defendants.

No. 09-03366 CW

ORDER GRANTING
PLAINTIFF'S
MOTIONS TO AMEND
DEFAULT JUDGMENT
AND FOR
ATTORNEYS' FEES

United States District Court
For the Northern District of California

Plaintiff Zoraida Pena Canal moves, under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 59(e), to amend the default judgment entered in this case on September 2, 2010 and moves for attorneys' fees in the amount of $461,297.90 and costs in the amount of $705.60.¹ Defendants Mabelle de la Rosa Dann and Teresa Vittet de la Rosa have not opposed this motion. The motions were taken under submission and decided on the papers. Having read all the papers filed by Plaintiff, the Court grants the motions.

I. Motion to Amend the Judgment

The September 2, 2010 judgment awarded Plaintiff $618,812.82 from Defendant Dann for unpaid wages, emotional distress damages, and punitive damages. Defendant Vittet de la Rosa was jointly and severally liable for $22,858.65 of that amount for unpaid wages

¹The full amount of costs Plaintiff requested was taxed by the clerk of the court. Therefore, costs are not addressed in this order.

1 during the time period Plaintiff worked for both Defendants. See 2 September 2, 2010 Order Granting Plaintiff's Motion for Default
3 Judgment at 8; September 2, 2010 Default Judgment.

4 Plaintiff points out that the judgment against Defendant 5 Vittet de la Rosa did not include an amount for premiums and 6 penalties, as did the judgment against Defendant Dann. See 7 Plaintiff's Memo in Support of Default Judgment at 23 (stating 8 $22,858.65 was for unpaid wages, without premiums and penalties).
9 Plaintiff argues that the judgment against Defendant Vittet de la 10 Rosa should be amended to include an additional $13,864.50 in 11 premiums and penalties.

12 A motion to alter or amend the judgment under Rule 59(e) must 13 be filed no later than ten days after the judgment is entered.
14 Fed. R. Civ. P. 59(e); Historical Research v. Cabral, 80 F.3d 377, 15 379 (9th Cir. 1996). The judgment was entered on September 2, 16 2010, and Plaintiff filed her motion on September 24, 2010. Thus, 17 Plaintiff's motion under Rule 59(e) is untimely. However, the 18 Court construes this as a motion under Federal Rule of Civil 19 Procedure 60(a), which provides that a court may correct a mistake 20 arising from oversight or omission whenever one is found in a 21 judgment, order, or other part of the record.

22 In the Court's September 2, 2010 Order Granting Plaintiff's 23 Motion for Default Judgment, it found that Plaintiff worked for 24 both Defendants from July to mid-September of 2006, and thereafter
25 for Defendant Dann until April 2008. Thus, the Court found 26 Defendant Vittet de la Rosa was jointly and severally liable for 27 Plaintiff's unpaid wages from July to mid-September 2006.

28

2 Plaintiff is correct that the $ 22,858.65 award against Defendant
3 Vittet de la Rosa only included an amount for unpaid wages and did 4 not include an amount for premiums or penalties. The award against 5 Defendant Vittet de la Rosa should have been computed in the same 6 manner it was computed against Defendant Dann which, in addition to 7 unpaid wages, included applicable premiums and penalties under the 8 California Labor Code. Defendant Vittet de la Rosa is jointly and 9 severally liable for $11,731.50 in waiting time penalties and 10 $2,133 in meal and rest break premiums. See Dec. of Rocio Avila in 11 Support of Default Judgment (Doc. No. 41). These amounts are added 12 to the original $22,858.65 resulting in an amended damages award 13 against Defendant Vittet de la Rosa of $36,723.15.

14 Therefore, the Court grants Plaintiff's motion to amend the 15 judgment under Federal Rule of Procedure 60(a). An amended 16 judgment shall issue separately.

17 II. Motion for Attorney's Fees

18 In the September 2, 2010 Order Granting Plaintiff's Motion for 19 Default Judgment, the Court determined that Plaintiff was entitled 20 to an award of reasonable attorneys' fees. See September 25, 2010 21 Order at 9 (citing 18 U.S.C. § 1595, Cal. Civ. Code § 52.5(f); and 22 Cal. Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 218.5, and 218.6). Plaintiff now 23 moves for attorneys' fees to reimburse the team of attorneys who 24 represented her in this civil action and in the criminal action 25 that preceded it.

1 A. Background

2 The background relevant to the attorneys' fees motion is as 3 follows. On April 16, 2008, Plaintiff escaped from the enslavement
4 of Defendant Dann and reported her situation to the authorities.
5 The United States Attorney brought criminal charges against 6 Defendant Dann. La Raza Centro Legal (Centro Legal) represented 7 Plaintiff. Centro Legal began the factual investigation into 8 Plaintiff's circumstances during her forcible employment by 9 Defendants. Centro Legal also aided Plaintiff and the United 10 States Attorney in securing Plaintiff's ongoing availability, which 11 was necessary for the government's prosecution of Defendant Dann.
12 Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP (Orrick) and the Lawyers' 13 Committee for Civil Rights (LCCR) provided litigation expertise and 14 additional legal services to investigate the factual basis of 15 Plaintiff's possible civil action. Because the successful 16 prosecution of the criminal action would have a critical impact on 17 Plaintiff's civil action, Plaintiff's attorneys supported, advised, 18 and prepared for the civil case throughout the United States'
19 prosecution of the criminal case against Defendant Dann.

20 Plaintiff requests fees in the following amounts for seven 21 attorneys for services rendered in the years 2008 through 2010.

B. Legal Standard

In the Ninth Circuit, reasonable attorneys' fees are determined by first calculating the "lodestar." Jordan v. Multnomah County, 815 F.2d 1258, 1262 (9th Cir. 1987). "The 'lodestar' is calculated by multiplying the number of hours the prevailing party reasonably expended on the litigation by a reasonable hourly rate." Morales v. City of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 363 (9th Cir. 1996). There is a strong presumption that the lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee. Jordan, 815 F.2d at 1262.

Determining a reasonable hourly rate is a critical inquiry. Jordan, 815 F.2d at 1262 (citing Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895 n.11 (1984)). The fee applicant has the burden to produce evidence, other than the declarations of interested counsel, that the requested rates are in accordance with those prevailing in the community for attorneys of comparable skill and reputation. Id. at 1263. In establishing the reasonable hourly rate, the court may take into account: (1) the novelty and complexity of the issues; (2) the special skill and experience of counsel; (3) the quality of

1 representation; and (4) the results obtained. Cabrales v. County of 2 Los Angeles, 864 F.2d 1454, 1464 (9th Cir. 1988). Other factors 3 that can be considered are (1) the time and labor required; 4 (2) the preclusion of employment by the attorney due to acceptance 5 of the case; (3) time limitations imposed by the client or 6 circumstances; (4) the amount involved and the results obtained; 7 (5) the "undesirability" of the case; and (6) awards in similar 8 cases. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 430 n.3 (1983). These 9 factors are subsumed in the initial lodestar calculation, and should 10 not serve as independent bases for adjusting fee awards. Morales, 11 96 F.3d at 363-64.

12 C. Analysis

13 1. Reasonable Rates

14 In support of the market rates for attorneys Rubin, Kaufman, 15 and Avila, Plaintiff submits the declaration of James Finberg, a 16 senior partner with the law firm of Altshuler Berzon LLP in San 17 Francisco, California. Mr. Finberg has practiced law since 1983 18 and, since 2005, he has been selected by Best Lawyers in America as 19 one of the best lawyers in America in the field of employment law.
20 He has been selected by other professional legal publications as one 21 of the best employment litigators in California and in the San 22 Francisco Bay Area. Mr. Finberg has served as president of the San 23 Francisco Bar Association and has authored many articles on various 24 aspects of employment law. Mr. Finberg provides evidence that his 25 hourly rate for complex civil litigation is $785 and declares that 26 he has reviewed the rates requested by the three aforementioned 27 attorneys and their hourly rates are reasonable and commensurate

28

1 with prevailing rates in the San Francisco Bay Area for attorneys 2 with comparable skill and experience.

3 Plaintiff submits the declaration of Michael Kaufman who 4 attests to the fact that the rates charged by Robert Rubin, the 5 legal director of LCCR, and himself are consistent with rates that 6 LCCR attorneys have been awarded for public interest litigation in 7 the past. Kaufman Dec. at ¶ 13-14. Plaintiff submits the 8 declaration of Tracey Lesetar, an attorney at Orrick, who attests to 9 the fact that the rates charged by Nancy Harris, Ruth Kwon and 10 herself are consistent with the rates attorneys with similar levels 11 of expertise charge for legal work in the San Francisco Bay Area.
12 Lesetar Dec. at ¶¶ 6-8, 12. Plaintiff submits the declaration of 13 Rocio Avila, who is employed by Centro Legal. Avila declares that 14 she is familiar with the billing rates of attorneys with the skills, 15 experience and reputation similar to Avantika Rao and herself and 16 attests to the fact that the rates charged by Rao and herself are 17 consistent with the rates of other non-profit legal service 18 organizations in the San Francisco Bay Area.

19 These declarations and the Court's own knowledge of rates for 20 experienced attorneys in the San Francisco Bay Area support the 21 conclusion that the rates charged by all the attorneys involved in 22 this case are reasonable.

23 2. Reasonable Hours

24 In calculating a reasonable number of hours, the applicant must 25 justify its claim by submitting detailed time records. Chalmers v.
26 City of Los Angeles, 796 F.2d 1205, 1210 (9th Cir. 1986), opinion 27 amended on other grounds, 808 F.2d 1373 (1987). The court may 28

1 adjust these hours down if the documentation was inadequate, if the 2 hours were duplicative, or if the hours were either excessive or 3 unnecessary. Id.

4 The attorneys who have submitted declarations attest to the 5 fact that the hours worked by each attorney in this case were 6 recorded contemporaneously and that tasks were divided between co-7 counsel to avoid duplication of effort. See Avila Dec. at ¶ 9, 8 Kaufman Dec. at ¶ 11-12; and Lesetar Dec. at ¶ 4. Plaintiff also 9 submits the declaration of Nancy Harris, the supervising attorney on 10 Plaintiff's case since March 2009, who attests that she and her 11 colleagues "have closely reviewed our fee records and have 12 eliminated from the request any unnecessary fees, such as billing 13 entries for arguably duplicative work, time spent on media and press 14 matters, secretarial work, and work that was not closely related to 15 [Plaintiff's] civil case." Harris Dec. at 10-11.

16 These declarations provide sufficient evidence that the hours 17 requested by the attorneys were reasonably incurred in representing 18 Plaintiff in this action. Therefore, the Court grants Plaintiff's 19 request for attorneys' fees in the amount of $461,297.90.

20 Because Plaintiff was employed by Defendant Vittet de la Rosa 21 for only a portion of the time she was employed by Defendant Dann, 22 Defendant Vittet de la Rosa is jointly and severally liable for the 23 same portion of attorneys' fees as she was for the damages award, 24 which is approximately 6%. Therefore, Defendant Vittet de la Rosa 25 is jointly and severally liable for $27,678 in attorneys' fees.

26 CONCLUSION

27 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff's motions to amend the 28

1 judgment and for attorneys' fees are granted. Plaintiff is awarded 2 attorneys' fees in the amount of $461,297.90 from Defendant Dann.
3 Defendant Vittet de la Rosa is jointly and severally liable for 4 $27,678 of the attorneys' fee award. An amended judgment shall 5 issue on the same date as this order.
