 12 NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
 13 OAKLAND DIVISION

14 DENO MILANO,

15 Plaintiff,

16 vs.

17 INTERSTATE BATTERY SYSTEM OF
 18 AMERICA, INC.; INTERSTATE BATTERY
 19 SYSTEM INTERNATIONAL, INC.,

20 Defendants.

21 Case No. 10-CV-2125-CW

22 ~~PROPOSED~~ ORDER AWARDING
 23 ATTORNEYS' FEES, EXPENSES AND
 24 SERVICE AWARD

1 This matter came before the Court for hearing on June 28, 2012, pursuant to the Order Granting 2 Preliminary Approval of Amended Class Settlement dated March 8, 2012, and on Plaintiff’s motion for 3 an award of attorneys’ fees, expenses and service award. Where not otherwise defined, all capitalized
4 terms in this Order shall have the same meaning as set forth in the Amended Settlement Agreement.
5 Due and adequate notice having been given to the members of the class and having considered all
6 papers filed and proceedings had in this matter, the Court finds as follows:

7 1. At the conclusion of a successful class action, class counsel may apply to the Court for 8 an award of “reasonable attorney’s fees and nontaxable costs that are authorized by law or by the 9 parties’ agreement.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h). As reflected in the Amended Settlement Agreement,
10 Defendants have agreed to pay an amount awarded by the Court not to exceed $1,050,000 to Class
11 Counsel Girard Gibbs LLP, and Girard Gibbs agreed not to accept an award above that amount.
12 Though the amount Class Counsel is requesting is the result of negotiation, the Court must still ensure 13 that the requested fee award is reasonable. See In re Bluetooth Headset Products Liability Litig., 654
14 F.3d 935, 941 (9th Cir. 2011).

15 2. The Court finds that it is appropriate to use the lodestar method to determine the 16 reasonableness of the requested fee award, as Plaintiff’s right to a fee arises under two California fee-
17 shifting statutes that are designed to incentivize counsel to pursue consumer interests through publicly
18 beneficial litigation, namely, the Consumers Legal Remedies Act (CLRA), Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(e)
19 and Cal. Code of Civ. Proc. § 1021.5. See Mangold v. California Public Utilities Commission, 67 F.3d
20 1470, 1478 (9th Cir. 1995) (in diversity actions, state law applies “in determining not only the right to 21 fees, but also in the method of calculating the fees”); In re Consumer Privacy Cases, 175 Cal. App. 4th 22 545, 556-57 (2009) (under California law, the primary method for calculating statutory fee awards is 23 the lodestar method—a two-step process under which the lodestar is produced by multiplying the time
24 reasonably spent on the litigation by a reasonable hourly rate, which may be adjusted based on a variety 25 of factors).

26 3. The Court has reviewed the Parties’ agreement and the evidence submitted by Class
27 Counsel of the work performed in the case, the time spent performing that work, Class Counsel’s
28 hourly rates, and the expenses Class Counsel incurred. The Court finds that Class Counsel reasonably

1 spent 2366.95 hours representing the class's interests through this litigation, finds Class Counsel's
2 hourly rates to be reasonable and in line with the prevailing rates in the community for complex class
3 action litigation, and therefore finds that the lodestar value of Class Counsel's services, as of June 28,
4 2012, is $1,054,838.25. Additionally, the Court finds that Class Counsel reasonably incurred
5 $36,068.42 in expenses to prosecute this action. Thus, the total value of the services provided by Class
6 Counsel and their incurred expenses is $1,090,906.67.

7 4. The Court further finds that Class Counsel achieved the goals of the suit, obtained
8 injunctive relief that is socially beneficial, and secured a claims program for class members that will 9 remain open through December 31, 2020, each of which support the reasonableness of the attorneys'
10 fee requested. In addition, Class Counsel has ongoing responsibilities in connection with the 11 settlement.

12 5. Based on the Court's lodestar analysis under California law, the Court finds Interstate's
13 agreement to pay Class Counsel an amount awarded by the Court not to exceed $1,050,000 for fees and 14 expenses to be reasonable. The Court finds no evidence that Interstate has agreed to pay a fee
15 measurably higher than it could conceivably have to pay were the fee amount litigated.

16 6. The Court has considered the objection submitted by Wayne Barginear regarding 17 Plaintiff's fee request. The Court finds that Mr. Barginear failed to respond to Plaintiff's discovery
18 requests for documents and tangible things and thus did not comply with the preliminary approval order
19 entered by the Court on March 8, 2012. (See Dkt. No. 72.) By failing to respond to Plaintiff's
20 discovery requests, Mr. Barginear is also in violation of the stipulation and order entered by the Court
21 on June 1, 2012. (See Dkt. Nos. 89 & 90.) Pursuant to the March 8 Order, the Court hereby strikes Mr.
22 Barginear's objection, which the Court notes Mr. Barginear repudiated in his deposition testimony on 23 June 25, 2012. (See Dkt. 97, Exhibit 1.) The Court also overrules Mr. Barginear's objection on the 24 merits. The Court finds that the terms of the Amended Settlement Agreement are fair, reasonable, and 25 adequate and that the fee amount requested is reasonable in relation to Class Counsel's success in this 26 matter, the benefits provided to the class, and the work Class Counsel has performed to date and may 27 perform in the future. The Court also notes that the fee amount requested will not fully compensate
28 Class Counsel for the amount of time that Class Counsel reasonably spent prosecuting this action on

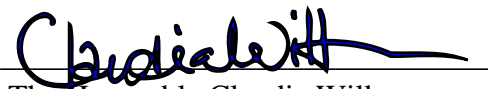

1 behalf of the class, or for the work they have committed to conducting on behalf of the class in the 2 future.

3 7. Accordingly, the Court approves the fee award pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil 4 Procedure 23(h) and awards Girard Gibbs attorneys' fees in the amount of $1,013,931.58 and costs in 5 the amount of $36,068.42.

6 8. The Court further awards Deno Milano $1,250 for his service on behalf of the class.

7 IT IS SO ORDERED.
