8 Defendant.

10 PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

11 1. Defendant, Yahoo!, Inc. ("Yahoo"), provides email addresses to members of the 12 public, such email addresses having the domain name of yahoo.com. Yahoo requires certain
13 information from a person seeking to obtain an email address from Yahoo, including the person's 14 first and last names. Thereafter, Yahoo, without any prior notice to its email users, includes the 15 users' first and last names in the emails that the users send from their Yahoo email addresses.

16 2. Plaintiff, Albert Rudgayzer ("Rudgayzer"), brings this action individually and as a
17 class action on behalf of all other similarly situated persons and entities located in the United States
18 who, without prior notice, have had their names disclosed when sending emails from their Yahoo
19 email addresses, other than Yahoo, its officers, employees, and representatives, and their families
20 (the "Class"), at any time during the period beginning four years prior to the commencement of this
21 action and continuing until the resolution of this action (the "Class Period").

22 3. Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the other Members of the Class, alleges breach 23 of contract and seeks a declaratory judgment, monetary damages, injunctive relief, and costs and 24 disbursements.

25 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

26 4. This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A).

27 5. The matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000, exclusive of 28 interest and costs.

CLASS-ACTION COMPLAINT

[Handwritten signature]

1 . . .  When you register we ask for information such as your name,
2 [alternate] email address, birth date, gender, ZIP code, occupation,
3 industry, and personal interests. . .  Yahoo! uses information for 4 the following general purposes: to customize the advertising and
5 content you see, fulfill your requests for products and services,
6 improve our services, contact you, conduct research, and provide
7 anonymous reporting for internal and external clients. . .  Yahoo!
8 does not rent, sell, or share personal information about you with other
9 people or non-affiliated companies except to provide products or 10 services you've requested, when we have your permission.

11 17. By disclosing the first and last names of the senders of Yahoo Emails, Yahoo has 12 breached the Personal-Information Provision of its contracts.

13 18. Yahoo has intentionally concealed, during the registration process, the material fact
14 that Yahoo discloses the first and last names of the senders of Yahoo Emails.

15 19. Yahoo has intentionally deprived Yahoo Email Users of their legal rights not to have
16 their first and last names disclosed when they send Yahoo Emails.

17 20. Rudgayzer became a Yahoo Email User on or about October, 2011.

18 21. When Rudgayzer sent e-mails from his Yahoo Email Address, those e-mails
19 contained his first and last name.

20 22. Plaintiff has complied with all of his obligations under the Yahoo Contract.

21 23. Pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief to Plaintiff and the other
22 Class Members.

23 24. It would be extremely difficult to ascertain the amount of monetary damages that
24 would afford adequate relief to Plaintiff and the other Class Members.

25 COUNT I

26 [Breach of Contract under California law]

27 25. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs "1"
28 through "24" inclusive of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

29 26. The Yahoo Contract constitutes a valid, binding, and enforceable contract.

30 27. Yahoo's disclosure of its email users' first and last names in the manner described
31 herein constitutes a breach of the Yahoo Contract.

32 28. As a result of Yahoo's breach of contract, Plaintiff and the other Class Members are

33 CLASS-ACTION COMPLAINT

1 entitled to: a judgement pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 declaring that Yahoo's conduct constitutes
2 breach of contract; actual damages; nominal damages pursuant to California Civil Code Section 3360
3 in the event that Yahoo's breach of contract has caused no appreciable detriment; and punitive
4 damages.

5 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

6 29. Plaintiff brings this action individually, and as a Class Action pursuant to Federal
7 Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a) and 23(b)(3) on behalf of all persons and entities who, without prior
8 notice, have had their names disclosed when sending emails from their Yahoo Email Addresses,
9 other than Yahoo, its officers, employees, and representatives, and their families (the "Class"), at any
10 time during the period beginning four years prior to the commencement of this action and continuing
11 until the resolution of this action (the "Class Period").

12 30. The Members of the Class are so numerous that joinder of all Members is 13 impracticable.

14 31. There are more than 5,000,000 individuals and entities whose claims are similar to 15 Plaintiff's claims, which are typical of the claims of the other Members of the Class.

16 32. Plaintiff would fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class. Indeed,
17 Plaintiff's interests are, for purposes of this litigation, coincident with the interests of the other
18 Members of the Class. Plaintiff has no interests that are antagonistic to, or in conflict with, the other
19 Members of the Class.

20 33. A class action is superior to all other available methods for the fair and efficient
21 adjudication of this controversy. Because the Class is so numerous that joinder of all Members is 22 impracticable, and because the damages suffered by most of the individual Members of the Class are
23 too small to render prosecution of the claims asserted herein economically feasible on an individual
24 basis, the expense and burden of individual litigation makes it impractical for Members of the Class
25 to adequately address the wrongs complained of herein. Plaintiff knows of no impediments to the 26 effective management of this action as a class action.

27 34. Common questions of law and fact predominate over questions that might affect only 28 individual Members of the Class. Among the questions of law and/or fact common to the Class are:

CLASS-ACTION COMPLAINT

1 (i) whether Yahoo requires a person who wishes to obtain a Yahoo
2 Email Address to provide Yahoo with such person's name;

3 (ii) whether Yahoo, through its default settings, and without prior
4 notice to, or consent from, Yahoo Email Users, adds a User's first and
5 last names in the header of Yahoo Emails, such that the recipients of 6 Yahoo Emails are given this information;

7 (ii) whether Yahoo knowingly engages in the conduct described in
8 paragraph 34(ii) herein;

9 (iii) whether Yahoo breached its contracts with Yahoo's email users;

10 (iv) whether Yahoo's email users are entitled to a judgement
11 declaring that Yahoo's conduct constitutes breach of contract;

12 (v) whether Yahoo's email users are entitled to actual damages as a
13 result of Yahoo's breach of contract;

14 (vi) whether Yahoo's email users are entitled to nominal damages as
15 a result of Yahoo's breach of contract in the event that Yahoo's
16 breach of contract has caused no appreciable detriment; and

17 (vii) whether Yahoo's email users are entitled to punitive damages as 18 a result of Yahoo's breach of contract.

19 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

20 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff demands judgment against Defendant:

21 (a) Declaring, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201, that Defendant's conduct as set forth herein
22 constitutes breach of contract;

23 (b) Preliminarily enjoining Defendant, pursuant to Rule 65 of the Federal Rules of Civil
24 Procedure, from continuing to engage in the conduct described herein;

25 (c) Permanently enjoining Defendant, pursuant to Calif Civil Code Section 3422 and the 26 general legal and equitable powers of this Court, from continuing to engage in the conduct described
27 herein;

28 (d) Awarding Plaintiff and the other Members of the Class actual damages based upon
29 Defendant's breaches of contract;

(e) Awarding Plaintiff and the other Members of the Class nominal damages pursuant
30 to California Civil Code Section 3360 based upon Defendant's breaches of contract in the event that 31 such breaches caused no appreciable detriment;

(f) Awarding Plaintiff and the other Members of the Class punitive damages based upon

32 CLASS-ACTION COMPLAINT

- 1 Defendant's breaches of contract;
- 2 (g) Awarding Plaintiff and the other Members of the Class litigation costs;
- 3 (h) Awarding Plaintiff reasonable legal fees; and
- 4 (i) Awarding Plaintiff and the other Members of the Class and such other and further
- 5 relief as this Court deems just and proper.
