5 Plaintiff,

6 v.

7 KRISTIN LONG, et al.,

8 Defendants.

Case No. 15-cv-01917-DMR (PR)

ORDER OF DISMISSAL WITHOUT PREJUDICE

9 On April 29, 2015, Plaintiff Bellarae Avery, aka Tammy Lynn Ashworth, filed the instant 10 pro se civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. She has also filed a motion for leave to 11 proceed in forma pauperis, which will be granted in a separate written Order.

12 Venue is proper because the alleged conduct giving rise to Plaintiff's claims took place in 13 Sonoma County, California which is located in this judicial district. See 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b). Her 14 complaint is now before the court for review pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A.

15 This action has been assigned to the undersigned magistrate judge.

16 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(c), with written consent of all parties, a magistrate judge may 17 conduct all proceedings in a case, including entry of judgment.¹ Appeal will be directly to the 18 United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(3).

19 Plaintiff has consented to magistrate judge jurisdiction in this matter. Dkt. 1 at 4.

20 In her complaint, Plaintiff names the following as Defendants: Sonoma County Deputy 21 Public Defender Kristin Long, Sonoma County Deputy District Attorney Chris Brown and

22
23 ¹ A magistrate judge generally must obtain the consent of the parties to enter dispositive rulings 24 and judgments in a civil case. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(1). However, in cases such as this one, 25 where the plaintiff has consented but the defendants have not been served, "all parties have 26 consented pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(1)," and a magistrate judge therefore "may conduct any 27 or all proceedings in a jury or nonjury civil matter and order the entry of judgment in the case."
28 Gaddy v. McDonald, No. CV 11-08271 SS, 2011 WL 5515505, at *1 n.2 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 9, 2011)
(quoting 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(1)) (citing United States v. Real Property, 135 F.3d 1312, 1317 (9th Cir. 1995)); Third World Media, LLC v. Doe, No. C 10-04470 LB, 2011 WL 4344160, at *3 (N.D.
Cal. Sept. 15, 2011)); cf. Neals v. Norwood, 59 F.3d 530, 532 (5th Cir. 1995) (holding that magistrate judge had jurisdiction to dismiss action as frivolous without consent of defendants because defendants had not yet been served and therefore were not parties).

1 Sonoma County Superior Court Judge Gary Medvigy. Id. at 2.

2 In a letter attached to her complaint, Plaintiff claims that in 2013 she was “accused of 3 identity theft” and that Defendant Long “did not feel the need to defend [Plaintiff] because 4 [Defendant Long] stated that she inherited a case that she did not want.” Id. at 5. Plaintiff also 5 attached a “list of what [her] attorney did not do for [her].” Id. at 6-7. Plaintiff does not include 6 specific details about how the aforementioned charge of identity theft was resolved, but it seems 7 that she entered a guilty plea pursuant to a plea bargain and was sentenced to serve jail time.² Id.
8 Nevertheless, in the instant complaint, Plaintiff claims that she “didn’t commit a crime” because 9 there was “absolutely no proof against [her].” Id. at 5.

10 Plaintiff alleges that the deputy district attorney prosecuting her case, Defendant Brown, 11 failed to “investigat[e] [her] case” and instead “took the word of someone that is known for their 12 dishonesty.” Id. Plaintiff adds that Defendant Brown committed slander against her and “bashed 13 [her] in court regarding [her] records from years ago.” Id.

14 Meanwhile, Plaintiff lists forty different allegations of misdeeds against her court-15 appointed attorney, Defendant Long, including the following: “refus[al] to investigate [Plaintiff’s]
16 case”; “refus[al] to negotiate [the] plea bargain” because Plaintiff’s “[s]entence was extreme 17 and . . . [amounted to] cruel and unusual punishment”; “refus[al] to withdraw the plea when 18 [Plaintiff] requested it”; and “fail[ure] to correct sentencing credits for [Plaintiff’s] release date.”
19 Id. at 6.

20 Finally, Plaintiff claims that she “tried to fire her attorney, only to be denied by the judge 21 who knew full well that [her] attorney was no longer supposed to be defending [her] because [her] 22 case was on appeal.” Id. at 5.

23 Under specific relief requested, Plaintiff requests the “dismissal” of the criminal case 24 against her in state court, as well as “punishment” for Defendant Long in the form of “disbarment 25 or loss of employment . . . or both.” Id. at 3. Plaintiff also alleges that she suffered “extensive” 26 “mental trauma,” for which the court assumes she requests to receive compensation. Id. at 5.

27 _____
28 ² At the time the instant complaint was filed, Plaintiff was housed at the Santa Rosa Jail (Main Adult Detention Facility). Dkt. 1 at 1.

1 DISCUSSION

2 A federal court must conduct a preliminary screening in any case in which a prisoner seeks 3 redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C.
4 § 1915A(a). In its review, the court must identify any cognizable claims and dismiss any claims 5 that are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted or seek 6 monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. Id. § 1915A(b)(1), (2).

7 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements:
8 (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that 9 the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v.
10 Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

11 Here, Plaintiff’s claims against Defendant Long must be DISMISSED because it is well 12 established that a public defender does not act under color of state law, an essential element of an 13 action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, when performing a lawyer’s traditional functions, such as entering 14 pleas. Polk County v. Dodson, 454 U.S. 312, 317-25 (1981). It matters not that the public 15 defender failed to exercise independent judgment or that she was employed by a public agency; it 16 is the nature and context of the function performed (or omitted) by the public defender that is 17 determinative under Polk County. See Miranda v. Clark County, Nev., 319 F.3d 465, 468 (9th Cir.
18 2003) (en banc). Polk County left open the possibility that a public defender may be liable under 19 section 1983 for “administrative and possibly investigative functions.” Polk County, 454 U.S. at 20 324-25; see, e.g., Branti v. Finkel, 445 U.S. 507 (1980) (chief public defender may be subject to 21 section 1983 liability for politically-motivated hiring and firing decisions); Miranda v. Clark 22 County, 319 F.3d at 468-70 (plaintiff complained of policy of administering lie detector test to all 23 clients and allocating minimal resources to those who failed polygraph, and of policy to assign the 24 least-experienced lawyers to capital cases; head of county public defender’s office may be held 25 accountable under section 1983 for such policies that lead to denial of right to effective 26 representation of counsel).

27 Here, the preparation of Plaintiff’s defense, including whether or not to conduct any 28 investigations to prepare such a defense, is among those lawyer’s traditional functions covered by

1 Polk County. According to Plaintiff, Defendant Long allegedly hampered Plaintiff's defense by 2 failing to investigate. Such an investigation would have had no other purpose but to aid in 3 Plaintiff's defense and had no administrative purpose otherwise. For example, it was not an 4 investigation to determine whether Plaintiff financially qualified for free legal services or to 5 determine the allocation of limited resources among cases. Cf. Miranda v. Clark County, 319 F.3d 6 at 470. Included in Plaintiff's list of forty allegations of misdeeds against Defendant Long are the 7 alleged failure to negotiate the plea bargain, refusal to withdraw the plea, or correct sentencing
8 credits, which are among a lawyer's traditional functions covered by Polk County. A section 1983 9 claim may not be asserted for these traditional lawyer functions.

10 Furthermore, to the extent any claim could be stated by Plaintiff against Defendant Long 11 that is not precluded by Polk County, such a claim would run afoul of the Heck rule. The case of 12 Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477 (1994), held that a plaintiff cannot bring a civil rights action for 13 damages for a wrongful conviction or imprisonment, or for other harm caused by actions whose 14 unlawfulness would render a conviction or sentence invalid, unless that conviction or sentence 15 already has been determined to be wrongful. See id. at 486-87. A conviction or sentence may be 16 determined to be wrongful by, for example, being reversed on appeal or being set aside when a 17 state or federal court issues a writ of habeas corpus. See id. The Heck rule also prevents a person 18 from bringing an action that—even if it does not directly challenge the conviction or other 19 decision—would imply that the conviction or other decision was invalid. The practical 20 importance of this rule is that a plaintiff cannot attack his conviction in a civil rights action for 21 damages; the decision must have been successfully attacked before the civil rights action for 22 damages is filed.

23 Heck bars Plaintiff's allegations because, if proven, they would call into question the 24 validity of her conviction. If proven, some of Plaintiff's aforementioned forty allegations relating 25 to Defendant Long's misdeeds would show ineffective assistance of counsel. The validity of the 26 conviction would be called into question if Plaintiff had received ineffective assistance of counsel.
27 Miranda v. Clark County does not eliminate the Heck problem for claims not covered by Polk
28 County, because nothing in the record shows that Plaintiff's conviction had been set aside before

1 she filed the instant section 1983 action. See id. Therefore, Plaintiff fails to state a cognizable
2 claim against Defendant Long under section 1983.

3 Plaintiff's claims against Defendant Brown are also DISMISSED because prosecutors are 4 absolutely immune from liability under section 1983 when engaged in initiating a prosecution or 5 presenting the State's case. Imbler v. Pachtman, 424 U.S. 409, 431 (1976); accord Buckley v.
6 Fitzsimmons, 509 U.S. 259, 272-73 (1993). Whether the government attorney is representing the 7 plaintiff or the defendant, or is conducting a civil trial, criminal prosecution or an agency hearing, 8 absolute immunity is necessary to assure that they can perform their respective functions without 9 harassment or intimidation. See Fry v. Melaragno, 939 F.2d 832, 837 (9th Cir. 1991). The 10 "reasons supporting the doctrine of absolute immunity apply with equal force regardless of the 11 nature of the underlying action." Id. (citing Flood v. Harrington, 532 F.2d 1248, 1251 (9th Cir.
12 1976)). The touchstone of this immunity is whether the attorney's actions are "intimately" or 13 "closely" associated with the judicial process. See id. If the government attorney is performing 14 acts "intimately associated with the judicial phase" of the litigation, that attorney is entitled to 15 absolute immunity from damage liability. See id. Here, the court finds that Defendant Brown's 16 prosecution of Plaintiff consisted of acts such as pursuing an investigation and offering a plea
17 bargain, which are "intimately" associated with the judicial process. See id. Therefore, Defendant
18 Brown is entitled to absolute immunity for his actions in investigating the charge against Plaintiff 19 and participating in plea negotiations with Plaintiff and her defense attorney. See Fry, 939 F.2d at 20 837. Therefore, the claims against Defendant Brown are DISMISSED because Plaintiff fails to 21 state a cognizable claim against this Defendant under section 1983.

22 Finally, any claim against Defendant Medvigy is DISMISSED because judges are 23 absolutely immune from liability for damages for acts performed in their judicial capacity. See 24 Stump v. Sparkman, 435 U.S. 349, 355-57 (1978).

25 CONCLUSION

26 For the foregoing reasons, the complaint is DISMISSED for failure to state a claim upon 27 which relief may be granted. Because no amendment could cure this defect, this case will be 28 dismissed without leave to amend. See Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127, 1129 (9th Cir. 2000)

1 (en banc) (district courts must afford pro se prisoner litigants an opportunity to amend to correct 2 any deficiency in their complaints, unless no amendment could save the complaint). However, the 3 dismissal of this action is without prejudice to Plaintiff filing an action in state court if she wants 4 to pursue an attorney malpractice action, and it is also without prejudice to Plaintiff filing a new 5 action if her conviction or sentence is reversed on direct appeal or rendered invalid.

6 Accordingly, this action is DISMISSED without prejudice and without leave to amend.³

7 The Clerk of the Court shall enter judgment, terminate all pending motions, and close the 8 file.
