UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CORREY MITCHELL,
Petitioner,
v.
MATTHEW ATCHELY, et al.,
Respondents.

Case No. 23-cv-03455-JST

ORDER DISMISSING PETITION FOR A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS;
GRANTING LEAVE TO PROCEED IN FORMA PAUPERIS; DENYING CERTIFICATE OF APPEALABILITY

Re: ECF No. 2

Petitioner filed this pro se action seeking a writ of habeas corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254. For the reasons set forth below, the Court DISMISSES this petition as second or successive within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(2), and DENIES a certificate of appealability. The Court GRANTS Petitioner leave to proceed in forma pauperis. ECF No. 2.

BACKGROUND

I. Petitioner’s Underlying Conviction and Sentence

On March 24, 2004, Petitioner was convicted of robbery, assault and carjacking (Cal. Penal Code §§ 211, 236, 245(b)) in Los Angeles County Superior Court. ECF No. 1-1 at 4. Petitioner was initially sentenced to a term of 191 years to life as a “third strike” offender. People v. Mitchell, 131 Cal.App.4th 1210, 1214, 1217 (Cal. Ct. App. 2005); ECF No. 1-1 at 4. On August 7, 2004, Petitioner was re-sentenced to 207 years to life pursuant to Cal. Penal Code § 1170(D). ECF No. 1-2 at 28-29; ECF No. 1-3 at 2-14. On August 11, 2005, the California Court of Appeals denied Petitioner’s direct appeal and affirmed the conviction and sentence. ECF No. 1-1 at 8. On November 16, 2005, the California Supreme Court denied the petition for review. ECF No. 1-1 at 8.

1 II. Petitioner’s State Court Collateral Proceedings

2 Petitioner filed a habeas petition in Los Angeles County Superior Court, challenging his 3 conviction and sentence on the grounds that the minute order and abstract of judgment were in 4 error and he had never received a record of sufficient completeness. The petition was denied on 5 February 7, 2019. ECF No. 1-1 at 9. Petitioner then filed a habeas petition in the California Court 6 of Appeals, challenging his conviction and sentence on the grounds that he had never received a 7 record of sufficient completeness and that counsel had been ineffective. ECF No. 1-1 at 9. The 8 petition was denied on July 3, 2019. ECF No. 1-1 at 9; ECF No. 1-2 at 28. On or about August 9 16, 2019, Petitioner filed a habeas petition with the California Supreme Court, challenging his 10 conviction and sentence on the following grounds: (1) his rights under the Due Process Clause and 11 the Equal Protection Clause were violated by the state court’s failure to “employ the fact-finding 12 imperative of habeas corpus” when considering his habeas petition; (2) the Secretary of the 13 California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (“CDCR”) is without authority to execute 14 the judgment because the abstract of judgment and minute order are not “properly executed;”
15 (3) trial counsel was ineffective because he “usurped control of Petitioner’s Sixth Amendment -- 16 secured autonomy” and appellate counsel was ineffective for having the state appellate court 17 review the recalled sentence instead of the actual sentence imposed; (4) the two prior convictions 18 used as strikes are constitutionally infirm; (5) the abstract of judgment and minute order are in 19 error; and (6) the court-ordered restitution is in error because the state trial court failed to 20 determine Petitioner’s ability to pay. ECF No. 1-1 at 22-31; ECF Nos. 1-2, 1-3; ECF No. 1-4 at 1-21 11. On June 10, 2020, the California Supreme Court summarily denied the petition. ECF No. 1-4 22 at 25. Petitioner filed a request for reconsideration of the California Supreme Court’s denial, 23 which was return unfiled because the denial was final and could not be reconsidered. ECF No. 1-4 24 at 27.

25 In his August 2019 state habeas petition filed with the California Supreme Court, 26 Petitioner also reports filing an additional state habeas petition in Monterey County Superior 27 Court. ECF No. 1-1 at 9. That petition is not in the record and the Court cannot determine what 28 arguments were raised in this petition.

1 Petitioner also reports filing a state habeas petition in Los Angeles County Superior Court, 2 challenging his conviction on the following grounds: res judicata, collateral estoppel, judicial 3 estoppel, the CDCR is “executing arbitrary multiple sentences,” and violation of state and federal 4 due process. On either September or October 9, 2022, the petition was dismissed. ECF No. 1 at 4.
5 Petitioner filed the same habeas petition with the California Supreme Court, which was denied on 6 November 30, 2022. ECF No. 1 at 4.

7 III. Prior Federal Habeas Proceedings

8 A. Central District of California C No. 2:08-cv-02747-CAS-FFM, *Mitchell v.
9 Adams (“Mitchell I”)

10 On or about April 28, 2008, Petitioner filed a federal habeas petition in the Central District 11 of California, challenging his 2004 conviction and sentence. C No. 2:08-cv-02747-CAS-FFM, 12 Mitchell v. Adams (“Mitchell I”), ECF No. 1. In Mitchell I, Petitioner challenged his conviction 13 and sentence on the following grounds: (1) the playing of a police dispatch tape that included 14 statements from individuals who did not testify at Petitioner’s trial violated the Sixth and 15 Fourteenth Amendment right to confront witnesses; (2) the trial court’s imposition of consecutive 16 sentences and upper terms based on facts not found by the jury beyond a reasonable doubt violated 17 Petitioner’s right to a jury trial and his due process rights; (3) trial counsel was ineffective for 18 failing to performing a reasonable investigation prior to trial and for wrongfully conceding that the 19 dispatch constituted a business record; (4) appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to raise all 20 meritorious claims on appeal; and (5) the state superior court violated Petitioner’s due process 21 rights by ruling on his habeas petition without appointing counsel for Petitioner at a hearing and 22 without allowing Petitioner to file a reply. Mitchell I, ECF Nos. 1, 38. On January 10, 2012, the 23 petition was denied on the merits. Mitchell I, ECF Nos. 43, 44. Petitioner appealed the denial and 24 requested a certificate of appealability. Mitchell I, ECF No. 47. The appeal was assigned case 25 number 9th Cir. C No. 12-55228. Mitchell I, ECF No. 49. On February 14, 2013, the Ninth 26 Circuit Court of Appeals denied the request for a certificate of appealability. Mitchell I, ECF No.
27 50. On October 14, 2020, Petitioner filed a second notice of appeal in Mitchell I, requesting a 28 certificate of appealability on the grounds that his “second sentence” had never been reviewed,

1 and stating that he was unable to bring this challenge to his sentence until February 27, 2019, 2 when he finally secured a copy of the sentencing transcripts related to his second abstract of 3 judgment. Mitchell I, ECF No. 52. This challenge was based on Petitioner’s claim that he was 4 incorrectly resentenced a second time on August 17, 2004, to a sentence in excess of his initial 5 sentence; that the state court record fails to adequately reflect the August 17, 2004 sentence and 6 judgment; and that Petitioner has therefore been unable to seek review of the August 17, 2004
7 sentence and judgment. Mitchell I, ECF No. 52. On November 13, 2020, the Ninth Circuit Court
8 of Appeals dismissed this second notice of appeal as duplicative of the closed appeal 9th Cir. C 9 No. 12-55228.

10 B. Central District of California C No. 2:20-cv-08636-CAS-JPR, *Mitchell v.
11 Atchley* (“Mitchell II”)

12 On or about September 18, 2020, Petitioner filed another federal habeas petition in the 13 Central District of California, again challenging his 2004 conviction and sentence. C No. 2:20-cv-
14 08636-CAS-JPR, Mitchell v. Atchley (“Mitchell II”), ECF Nos. 1, 2. In Mitchell II, Petitioner 15 challenged his conviction and sentence on the following grounds: (1) his judgment has never been 16 reviewed, in violation of his Fourteenth Amendment right to due process and equal protection of 17 the law because the state appellate and collateral proceedings that have occurred only reviewed the 18 initial judgment which has been superseded by the amended judgment issued after the August 17, 19 2004 resentencing; (2) his legal aggregate sentence was recalled and he was sentenced a second 20 time in violation of the legislative maximum, in violation of the Fifth Amendment’s prohibition 21 against double jeopardy; (3) trial counsel was ineffective for conceding to the jury, over 22 Petitioner’s objection, the actus reus of a charged offense; and (4) the Three Strikes Law was 23 incorrectly applied because the two prior convictions applied as strikes arise out of incidents that 24 happened when Petitioner was sixteen and nineteen years old, in violation of the Equal Protection 25 Clause. Mitchell II, ECF Nos. 1, 2. The first and second claims are based on Petitioner’s claim 26 that he was initially sentenced on June 24, 2004, and then incorrectly resentenced a second time on 27 August 17, 2004 to a sentence in excess of his initial sentence; that the state court record failed to 28 adequately reflect the August 17, 2004 sentence and judgment; and that Petitioner has therefore

1 been unable to seek review of the August 17, 2004 sentence and judgment until he obtained a copy 2 of the second judgment in 2019. Mitchell II, ECF No. 2. On September 25, 2020, Mitchell II was 3 summarily denied as second or successive to Mitchell I. Mitchell II, ECF No. 4. Petitioner 4 appealed this dismissal to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, and requested a certificate of 5 appealability. Mitchell II, ECF No. 7. On January 14, 2020, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals
6 denied the request for a certificate of appealability. Mitchell II, ECF No. 9.

7 C. Northern District of California C No. 4:21-cv-06176-JST, *Mitchell v. Atchley
8 (“Mitchell III”)

9 On or about August 10, 2021, Petitioner filed a habeas petition in this district challenging 10 his 2004 sentence. C No. 21-cv-06176 JST, Mitchell v. Atchley (“Mitchell III”). The Court 11 screened the petition; found that the petition raised the single claim that the failure to grant a 12 Proposition 57 parole hearing violated the federal Equal Protection Clause and Due Process 13 Clause; and dismissed the petition for lack of habeas corpus jurisdiction because success on this 14 claim would not shorten or end Petitioner’s sentence. Mitchell III, ECF No. 7 at 2. Petitioner 15 filed a motion for reconsideration of the dismissal, arguing that the Court only considered one of 16 his three claims for federal habeas relief. Mitchell III, ECF No. 9. The Court granted Petitioner’s 17 motion for reconsideration and reopened the case. Mitchell III, ECF No. 10. The Court found that 18 the petition stated three cognizable claims for relief. In addition to the Proposition 57 claim 19 already dismissed by the Court, the petition also presented the following two claims: (1) the 20 CDCR had changed Petitioner’s sentence without authority and (2) Petitioner’s abstract of 21 judgment and minute order were both in error. Mitchell III, ECF No. 10 at 2-3. At the screening 22 stage, the Court dismissed the latter claim with prejudice because the claim involved a state 23 procedural error that had no bearing on the fundamental fairness of the trial and the error did not 24 violate any federal constitutional or statutory provision. Mitchell III, ECF No. 10 at 3. The Court 25 ordered Respondent to show cause why Petitioner was not entitled to relief on the claim that the 26 CDCR increased Petitioner’s sentence without authority. Mitchell III, ECF No. 10 at 4. On 27 September 28, 2023, the Court granted Respondent’s motion to dismiss, finding that the claim that 28 CDCR incorrectly calculated Petitioner’s sentence failed to state a cognizable federal habeas claim

1 because success on this claim would not necessarily shorten Petitioner’s sentence; and also denied 2 a certificate of appealability. See generally Mitchell III, ECF No. 17. On October 13, 2023, 3 Petitioner appealed the dismissal and requested a certificate of appealability. Mitchell III, ECF
4 No. 19.

5 DISCUSSION

6 I. Standard of Review

7 This court may entertain a petition for writ of habeas corpus “in behalf of a person in 8 custody pursuant to the judgment of a state court only on the ground that he is in custody in 9 violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States.” 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a); Rose v.
10 Hodges, 423 U.S. 19, 21 (1975). A district court shall “award the writ or issue an order directing 11 the respondent to show cause why the writ should not be granted, unless it appears from the 12 application that the applicant or person detained is not entitled thereto.” 28 U.S.C. § 2243.

13 II. Second or Successive Petitions

14 A federal habeas petition is “second or successive” within the meaning of § 2244 “if the 15 facts underlying the claim occurred by the time of the initial petition, [] and if the petition 16 challenges the same state court judgment as the initial petition.” Brown v. Muniz, 889 F.3d 661, 17 667 (9th Cir. 2018) (citing Panetti v. Quarterman, 551 U.S. 930, 945 (2007), and Magwood v.
18 Patterson, 561 U.S. 320, 333 (2010)); see also Woods v. Carey, 525 F.3d 886, 888 (9th Cir. 2008) 19 (habeas petition second or successive if raises claims that were or could have been adjudicated on 20 merits in prior petition). “A claim presented in a second or successive habeas corpus application 21 under section 2254 that was not presented in a prior application shall be dismissed” unless,

22 (A) the applicant shows that the claim relies on a new rule of constitutional 23 law, made retroactive to cases on collateral review by the Supreme Court, that was previously unavailable; or

24 (B) (i) the factual predicate for the claim could not have been discovered 25 previously through the exercise of due diligence; and 26 (ii) the facts underlying the claim, if proven and viewed in light of the 27 evidence as a whole, would be sufficient to establish by clear and 28 convincing evidence that, but for constitutional error, no reasonable factfinder would have found the applicant guilty of the underlying offense.

1 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(2). Even if a petitioner can demonstrate that he qualifies for one of these 2 exceptions, he must seek authorization from the court of appeals before filing his new petition
3 with the district court. 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3) (“Before a second or successive application 4 permitted by this section is filed in the district court, the applicant shall move in the appropriate 5 court of appeals for an order authorizing the district court to consider the application.”); Chades v.
6 Hill, 976 F.3d 1055, 1056-57 (9th Cir. 2020) (district court is “without power” to entertain second 7 or successive petition unless petitioner first receives authorization from court of appeals).

8 III. Petition

9 Petitioner describes this petition as challenging “the due process and procedures used by 10 the Supreme Court in S527308 on 6/10/20 (S277047), and on 11/30/22.” ECF No. 1 at 2, 3.
11 Petitioner argues that (1) Respondent violated due process when, in state collateral proceedings, he 12 asserted contradictory facts regarding whether Petitioner’s sentence is authorized and he asserted 13 legal arguments that are blocked by the doctrines of res judicata and estoppel; (2) the CDCR is 14 executing multiple unauthorized and arbitrary sentences, which constitutes cruel and unusual 15 punishment; and (3) he has been denied equal protection of the laws and due process because he 16 has been denied writ relief and appellate review of his second judgment. ECF No. 1 at 5-6; ECF 17 No. 1-1 at 10-20.

18 IV. Analysis

19 This petition must be dismissed as second or successive. In this action, Petitioner is 20 challenging his 2004 conviction and sentence from Santa Clara County Superior Court. Petitioner 21 has filed at least three federal habeas petitions challenging this conviction and sentence: Mitchell I, 22 Mitchell II, and Mitchell III. The claims in this action are variations upon the claims raised in 23 Mitchell II and Mitchell III. The claims raised herein are based upon the premise that the August 24 7, 2004 amended abstract of judgment reflecting Petitioner’s re-sentencing to 207 years to life 25 (from the initial 191 years to life) is a separate and second sentence and judgment. See generally 26 ECF No. 1. This allegation is also the basis for Petitioner’s claims in Mitchell II and Mitchell III.
27 Petitioner cannot avoid the bar on second and successive petitions by raising already rejected 28 claims in new state court habeas petitions, and then filing federal habeas petitions that purportedly

1 challenge the state court decisions. The challenge to the state court denials of Petitioner’s recent 2 state habeas petitions are merely an attempt to re-litigate claims that were raised and denied in 3 prior federal court habeas proceedings. In other words, while Petitioner claims he is challenging 4 the state court decisions as denying him due process and equal protection of the laws, his actual 5 claim is that his custody is in violation of the Due Process and Equal Protection Clauses and that 6 the state court erred in denying him relief on these claims.

7 Because Petitioner is (1) challenging the same conviction and sentence as challenged in 8 Mitchell II and Mitchell III; (2) the facts underlying the claims in this action had occurred by the 9 time of Mitchell II and Mitchell III; and (3) the claims raised here are variations upon claims
10 raised in Mitchell II and Mitchell III, this petition is second or successive within the meaning of 28
11 U.S.C. § 2244(b) and must be dismissed. 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b); Brown, 889 F.3d at 667; Woods, 12 525 F.3d at 888. Petitioner must first obtain authorization from the Ninth Circuit Court of 13 Appeals before the Court can consider this petition.

14 To the extent that Petitioner is using this petition as a de facto appeal of the California 15 Supreme Court’s decisions issued on June 10, 2020 and on November 30, 2022,¹ the Rooker- 16 Feldman doctrine provides that lower federal courts are without subject matter jurisdiction to 17 review state court decisions, and state court litigants may therefore only obtain federal review by 18 filing a petition for a writ of certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States. See District of 19 Columbia Court of Appeals v. Feldman, 460 U.S. 462, 486-87 (1983); Rooker v. Fidelity Trust 20 Co., 263 U.S. 413, 416 (1923); see also Kougasian v. TMSL, Inc., 359 F.3d 1136, 1139 (9th Cir.
21 2004) (Rooker-Feldman doctrine essentially bars federal district courts “from exercising subject 22 matter jurisdiction over a suit that is a de facto appeal from a state court judgment.”).

24 The federal rules governing habeas cases brought by state prisoners require a district court 25 that issues an order denying a habeas petition to either grant or deny therein a certificate of

26 _____
27 ¹ If, however, Petitioner is alleging in this action that the state court’s denial of habeas relief in 28 2020 and 2022 has left him in custody in violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States, while the Court would have federal jurisdiction over this type of claim, the Court is barred from considering the claim because the petition is second or successive.

1 appealability. See Rules Governing § 2254 Case, Rule 11(a).

2 A judge shall grant a certificate of appealability “only if the applicant has made a 3 substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right,” 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2), and the 4 certificate must indicate which issues satisfy this standard. Id. § 2253(c)(3). “Where a district 5 court has rejected the constitutional claims on the merits, the showing required to satisfy § 2253(c) 6 is straightforward: [t]he petitioner must demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district 7 court’s assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong.” Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S.
8 473, 484 (2000).

9 Here, Petitioner has not made such a showing, and, accordingly, a certificate of 10 appealability will be denied.

11 CONCLUSION

12 For the foregoing reasons, the Court GRANTS Petitioner leave to proceed in forma 13 pauperis, ECF No. 2; DISMISSES the petition for a writ of habeas corpus as second or 14 successive; and DENIES a certificate of appealability. The Clerk shall enter judgment in favor of 15 Respondent and against Petitioner; and close the case.

16 This order terminates ECF No. 2.
