Apple files this response and the accompanying Declaration of Mark Buckley in Support of Apple Inc.'s Response to Plaintiffs' Administrative Motion to File Under Seal ("Buckley Declaration" or "Buckley Decl.") in support of a narrowly tailored order authorizing sealing those documents, on the grounds that there is good cause to protect the confidentiality of that information. The proposed sealing order is based on the Protective Order in this action and proof that particularized injury to defendant will result if the sensitive information is publicly released. The Court has previously sealed similar information in this case. See Dkt. 184.

Apple does not assert that exhibits 7 or 9 should be filed under seal.

II. STANDARD

Under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(c), this Court has broad discretion to permit sealing of court documents to protect "a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c). Based on this authority, the Ninth Circuit has "carved out an exception to the presumption of access to judicial records for a sealed discovery document [attached] to a non-dispositive motion." Navarro v. Eskanos & Adler, No. C-06 02231 WHA (EDL), 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24864, at *6 (N.D. Cal. March 22, 2007) (citing Kamakana v. Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1179 (9th Cir. 2006)).

III. ARGUMENT

A. There is Good Cause to Support Filing under Seal.

The Buckley Declaration establishes good cause to permit filing under seal. It establishes that the redacted portions of Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Opposition and the Bernay Declaration contain highly confidential and sensitive information that must be kept confidential in order to avoid causing substantial harm to Apple. See Buckley Decl., ¶ 2-3.

The redacted information specifically relates to data regarding transactions between Apple and iPod resellers. See Buckley Decl., ¶ 2.

1. The Redacted Information Includes Descriptions of Sensitive Data Regarding Transactions with iPod Resellers.

The redacted portions of Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Opposition and the Bernay

Declaration in support thereof contain highly confidential and commercially sensitive business

1	information, including descriptions of data regarding transactions between Apple and iPod
2	resellers. See Buckley Decl., ¶ 2.
3	The redacted information is highly confidential and should not be publicly disclosed. See
4	Buckley Decl., ¶ 3. The information was produced to Plaintiffs pursuant to the Protective Order.
5	Id. The information produced to Plaintiffs is non-public information that should remain
6	confidential. Harm to Apple would result from the public disclosure of the redacted information
7	contained in these documents. The public disclosure of information regarding Apple's business
8	strategies would put Apple at a business disadvantage. Id.
9	IV. CONCLUSION
10	Defendant respectfully requests that this Court grant Plaintiffs' Administrative Motion to
11	File Under Seal portions of Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Opposition to Apple Inc.'s Motion to
12	Compel and the Bernay declaration in support thereof.
