VIA E-FILING // VIA E-MAIL (JFpdf@cand.uscourts.gov)The Honorable Jeremy Fogel
United States District Court
280 S. First St., Courtroom 3, 5th Floor
San Jose, CA 95113Re: KinderStart.com LLC, et al. v. Google, Inc., C 06-02057 JF

Dear Judge Fogel:

Plaintiffs hereby notify the Court and Defendants of a requested correction to "TRANSCRIPT of Proceedings held on 6/30/2006 before Judge Jeremy Fogel", filed on 07/06/2006, as Document No. 40 in the Court's Docket for this case.

Page 18, line 14: The second word on this line should have been transcribed as "farm" instead of "forum".

Plaintiffs' Counsel advised Defendant's Counsel of this transcription error via electronic mail on 07/11/2006.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Gregory J. Yu

1 a search engine.

2 And, as we've explained in the briefs,
3 Congress, Congressional intent, of course, was 4 there to protect the players in the Internet, but 5 I've looked at the distinction and definition
6 between "Internet information location tool" that 7 was in the Communications Decency Act and then 8 the "interactive computer service."

9 So even those cases including the Howard
10 case, it closely latched onto AOL and said AOL,
11 we basically have an e-mail system and content.
12 Google largely doesn't have native original
13 content. It is in a colloquial term a massive 14 link forum. It is collecting sites and pushing 15 them out, and so this is where we see it as an 16 information conduit.

17 And, as I've said in the briefs, no
18 court, and I believe the FCC has not spoken on 19 this, this issue about what is an information
20 location tool, is it is a common carrier or not,
21 I presume and I recognize that there is immunity
22 we've built in. But by providing immunity for a
23 specific category like the information location
24 tool that doesn't mean that Congress has 25 specifically said with intent that Internet
